Berkeley, Calif.
Dec. 5 - 09

Chief Trade Representative Negotiator
for Agricultural USA.

Agribusinesses representatives such as Monsanto and Crop Life men should have no place in government agricultural policies.

The failed free trade agreements agenda has deepened the global food, environmental and health crisis. we have a food crisis, water crisis, and climate crisis and all have been exacerbated by our trade agreements and the world trade organizations continuing to push failed chemical intensive & biotech solutions. Having a former Pesticide lobbyist as a representative is ludicrous.

U.S. family farmers failed to benefit from GMOs, including Monsanto, Dupont, Dow & Syngenta forcing farmers to rely on expensive inputs and go deeper into debt. They also threaten the biodiversity needed to sustain our planet with their monoculture industrial model.

Crop Life has consistently lobbied the US government to weaken and thwart international treaties governing the use and export of toxic chemicals such as PCBs, DDT & dioxin.

Industrial agriculture isn't feeding the world now and science tells us more of the same won't help. I would certainly like to see some justice happening in this department.

Sincerely

P.S. Is anyone listening?

Audrey Hanson
2951 Denny Dr. #150
Berkeley, CA 94705