Prepared by the U.S. Department of Justice Antitrust Division, Executive Office (January 2000)

- Information contained herein reflects best information available on technical assistance that the Antitrust Division has furnished to foreign jurisdictions from fiscal year (“FY”) 1990 - FY 1998. (Each FY runs from October 1 through September 30).
- The total number of missions is comprised of long- and short-term missions (defined as lasting from 1-4 weeks). Approximately 86% of all missions from FY 1990 through FY 1998 were short-term. The remaining 14% were long-term missions (defined as lasting from 2-9 months).
- An “advisor” is defined as a Department of Justice, Antitrust Division, employee or consultant who participated in one or more long-or short-term missions. Normally FTC advisors are accompanied by a complementary staff member of the U.S. Federal Trade Commission who is separately funded, usually by USAID.
