WILLIAM R. CARBERRY, JR. CHARGED WITH TWO COUNTS OF BANK ROBBERY

NEWARK, N.J. – William R. Carberry, Jr. was arrested yesterday for allegedly robbing one bank and attempting to rob another in June 2010, United States Attorney Paul J. Fishman announced.

Carberry, 30, is charged by Complaint with two counts of bank robbery, and made his initial appearance yesterday, August 5, 2010, at 2:00 p.m., before United States Magistrate Judge Madeline Cox Arleo.

According to the Criminal Complaint filed in Newark federal court:

On or about June 25, 2010, Carberry entered a TD Bank in Jersey City, New Jersey. Carberry approached a bank teller and told her in substance and in part that he had a gun in his bag and to give him the money in her teller drawer. The bank teller handed Carberry approximately $578.00 in United States currency from the teller drawer. Also, on or about June 28, 2010, Carberry entered a Chase Bank in Franklin, New Jersey, approached the bank teller, and passed the teller a note demanding money and threatening that he had a gun. However, before the teller could hand over any money, Carberry retrieved the note and fled the bank.

Each charge of bank robbery carries a maximum potential penalty of 20 years in prison and a statutory maximum fine equal to the greatest of: (1) $250,000; (2) twice the gross amount of any pecuniary gain that any persons derived from the offense; or (3) twice the gross amount of any pecuniary loss sustained by any victims of the offense.

In determining an actual sentence, the judge to whom the case is assigned would, upon a conviction, consult the advisory U.S. Sentencing Guidelines, which provide appropriate sentencing ranges that take into account the severity and characteristics of the offense, the defendant's criminal history, if any, and other factors. The judge, however, is not bound by those guidelines in determining a sentence. Parole has been abolished in the federal system. Defendants who are given custodial terms must serve nearly all that time.

U.S. Attorney Fishman credited Special Agents Timothy Buckley, Joseph M. McShane, and Todd Bina of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with the investigation leading to the arrest.

The Government is represented by Assistant U.S. Attorney Amy Luria of the Criminal Division in Newark.

The charges and allegations contained in the Complaint are merely accusations, and the defendant is considered innocent unless and until proven guilty.

Anyone who has information which may be relevant to this case is encouraged to contact the Newark Division of the FBI at 973-792-3000.
