NEWS RELEASE SUMMARY – October 12, 2012

United States Attorney Laura E. Duffy announced today that David Santos Zamudio, II, a former medical office technician for the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (“CDCR”) was sentenced to serve 30 months in federal prison by United States District Judge Janis L. Sammartino. Zamudio pled guilty to one count of wire fraud on July 10, 2012. Judge Sammartino also ordered Zamudio to serve three years of supervised release following the completion of his prison term.

According to court documents, Zamudio worked primarily at Calipatria State Prison in Imperial County, California. In his plea, Zamudio admitted to using his official position to solicit and accept payments from prisoners, and others acting on prisoners’ behalf, to smuggle contraband (including cell phones and tobacco products) into the prison, in violation of CDCR regulations. Zamudio admitted to receiving payments of more than $33,000 from individuals made through wire transfers.

United States Attorney Duffy praised the efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation, Office of Internal Affairs which investigated this case.
