POSTAL EMPLOYEE CHARGED WITH THEFT

DES MOINES, IA - Glenn Arthur Reisinger, also known as Art Reisinger, age 62, has been charged with five counts of postal theft while employed by the United States Postal Service, announced United States Attorney Nicholas A. Klinefeldt. Reisinger made his initial appearance in United States District Court before United States Magistrate Judge Celeste F. Bremer, who scheduled trial for January 3, 2012. Reisinger pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Reisinger is charged in a five-count indictment alleging that Reisinger stole Menards rebate checks from the United States mail on five separate occasions during the spring of 2011. Each count of theft by a postal employee carries a maximum penalty of up to five (5) years in jail, a fine of up to $250,000, or both.

An indictment is merely an accusation, and Reisinger is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

This case is being investigated by the United States Postal Service - Office of Inspector General, and the West Des Moines, Iowa, Police Department, and is being prosecuted by the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Iowa.
