U.S. Attorney Issues Press Release on Upcoming Elections

St. Thomas, USVI - United States Attorney Ronald W. Sharpe announced today that Assistant United States Attorney Alphonso Andrews will lead the efforts of his office in connection with the Justice Department's nationwide Election Day Program for the upcoming November 6, 2012 general elections. AUSA Andrews has been appointed to serve as the District Election Officer for the Virgin Islands, and in that capacity is responsible for overseeing the District's handling of complaints of election fraud and voting rights abuses in consultation with Justice Department Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

"Every citizen must be able to vote without interference or discrimination and to have that vote counted without it being stolen because of fraud," U.S. Attorney Sharpe said. "The Department of Justice will act promptly and aggressively to protect the integrity of the election process."

The Department of Justice has an important role in deterring election fraud and discrimination at the polls, and combating these violations whenever and wherever they occur. The Department's long-standing Election Day Program furthers these goals, and also seeks to ensure public confidence in the integrity of the election process by providing local points of contact within the Department for the public to report possible election fraud and voting rights violations while the polls are open on election day.

Federal law protects against such crimes as intimidating or bribing voters, buying and selling votes, altering vote tallies, stuffing ballot boxes, and marking ballots for voters against their wishes or without their input. It also contains special protections for the rights of voters and provides that they can vote free from acts that intimidate or harass them. For example, actions of persons designed to interrupt or intimidate voters at polling places by questioning or challenging them, or by photographing or videotaping them, under the pretext that these are actions to uncover illegal voting may violate federal voting rights law. Further, federal law protects the right of voters to mark their own ballot or to be assisted by a person of their choice.

The franchise is the cornerstone of American democracy. We all must ensure that those who are entitled to the franchise exercise it if they choose, and that those who seek to corrupt it are brought to justice. In order to respond to complaints of election fraud or voting rights abuses on November 6, 2012, and to ensure that such complaints are directed to the appropriate authorities, U.S. Attorney Sharpe stated that AUSA Andrews will be on duty in this District while the polls are open. He can be reached at the following telephone number: 340-344-0503.

In addition, the FBI will have special agents available to receive allegations of election fraud and other election abuses on election day. The FBI can be reached at 340-777-3363.

Complaints about ballot access problems or discrimination can be made directly to the Civil Rights Division's Voting Section in Washington at 1-800-253-3931 or 202-307-2767.

"The effectiveness of our Election Day Program depends in large part on the watchfulness and cooperation of the American electorate," U.S. Attorney Sharpe said. "It is imperative that those who have specific information about discrimination or election fraud make that information available immediately to my office, the FBI, or the Civil Rights Division."
