I

This Court has jurisdiction of the subject matter of this action and of the parties consenting hereto. The complaint states a claim upon which relief may be granted against defendant Schenley under Section 7 of the Act of Congress of October 15, 1914, as amended, entitled "An Act to Supplement Existing Laws Against Unlawful Restraints and Monopolies and for Other Purposes," commonly known as the Clayton Act.

(B) "Company" shall mean any individual, corporation, partnership, or other business or legal entity.

(C) "United States" shall mean the United States of America and the District of Columbia.

(D) "Produce" shall mean to manufacture, distill, bottle, or rectify Scotch whisky.

(E) "Import" shall mean to bring or cause to be brought Scotch whisky into the United States.

III

The provisions of this Final Judgment applicable to Schenley shall also apply to its successors, officers, directors, employees, agents and all persons in active concert or participation with any of them, who shall have received actual notice of this Final Judgment by personal service or otherwise.

IV

On or before June 30, 1972 Schenley shall divest itself of all its right, title and interest in The Buckingham Corporation by sale in a manner and to a purchaser approved by the plaintiff.

(2) Obtaining from any other company the right to import and sell, or the right to produce and sell any brand of Scotch whisky in the United States, provided, however, that nothing in this subparagraph shall prevent Schenley from obtaining the right to or continuing to sell, produce or import any brand of Scotch whisky in the United States presently or hereafter produced by or for John Dewar & Sons Limited.

(B) If at any time prior to the expiration of the 10-year period referred to in Section V(A), Schenley wishes to make an acquisition or enter an agreement to obtain any right that would be prohibited under the provisions of Section V(A) (1) and (2), Schenley may submit in writing a full disclosure of the facts with respect to such proposed acquisition or agreement and the reason therefor to the plaintiff for consideration. If the plaintiff shall not object to the proposed acquisition or agreement within thirty (30) days after receipt of such request, such acquisition shall not be deemed to be in violation of this Final Judgment. If the plaintiff should object thereto, defendant Schenley may apply to the Court upon due notice to the plaintiff, for permission to make such acquisition or agreement, which may be granted upon a finding of the Court that the effect of such acquisition or agreement will not be contrary to the purposes of this Final Judgment.

(A) access, during the office hours of said defendant, who may have counsel present, to those books, ledgers, accounts, correspondence, memoranda and other records and documents in the possession or under the control of said defendant regarding the subject matters contained in this Final Judgment, and

(B) subject to the reasonable convenience of said defendant and without restraint or interference from it, to interview officers or employees of said defendant regarding any such matters and such officers or employees may have counsel present.

Upon such written request, the defendant shall submit such reports in writing with respect to any such matters as may from time to time be requested.

No information obtained by the means provided for in this Section VII shall be divulged by any representative of the Department of Justice to any person other than a duly authorized representative of the Executive Branch of the United States, except in the course of a legal proceeding to which the United States is a party for the purpose of securing compliance with this Final Judgment or as otherwise required by law.
