United States of America,

Plaintiff,

v.

Baroid Corp. et al.,

Defendants.

Civil Action No. 93-2621
(Stanley Sporkin)

ORDER

With the approval of the parties, it is hereby ORDERED that the Final Judgment in this case, is hereby modified as follows:

Any mention in such Final Judgment that the Court shall appoint an individual to a particular position is hereby understood to mean that the Court shall appoint said individual only if the Court deems said individual to be suitable for the position.

In the event that the Court does not find said individual to be suitable for the position, a new nominee shall be presented to the Court, as set forth in the procedures found in the Final Judgment, for the Court's approval and said procedure shall be followed until the Court finds an individual acceptable to the Court.
