

false material declarations concerning matters the grand jury was investigating, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1623.

4. At that time and place the grand jury was conducting an investigation to determine, among other things, whether any person or company engaged in the business of manufacturing and distributing bread and bread products, or their employees, had violated or was violating the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1), or other federal criminal laws, in the Northern District of Texas and elsewhere.

5. It was material to the grand jury's investigation to determine whether Charles W. Johnson, as former President of the Dallas Rainbo bakery:

- (a) discussed the prices being charged, or to be charged, for bread and bread products sold by the Dallas Rainbo bakery, or any of its competitors, with any employee of a competitor of the Dallas Rainbo bakery;
- (b) discussed coordinating or raising the prices to be charged for bread and bread products by the Dallas Rainbo bakery, or any competing bakery, with any employee of a competitor of the Dallas Rainbo bakery; or

(c) agreed to raise, fix or maintain prices for bread and bread products sold by the Dallas Rainbo bakery, or any of its competitors, with any employee of a competitor of the Dallas Rainbo bakery.

6. On June 29, 1995, Charles W. Johnson, while under oath, knowingly declared falsely before the grand jury with respect to the material matters set out in paragraph 5 above, as illustrated in the following examples of his testimony:

Q During your tenure at any time did Mr. Oler either call you or meet with you and ask whether your company, Rainbo, was going to match a proposed Mrs. Baird's price increase?

A No.

7. These declarations of Charles W. Johnson, as he then and there knew, were false in that (1) Charles W. Johnson did in fact discuss the prices being charged, and to be charged, for bread and bread products sold by the Dallas Rainbo bakery, and its competitors with competitors of the Dallas Rainbo bakery; and (2) Charles W. Johnson did in fact discuss raising and coordinating the prices to be charged for bread and bread products by the Dallas Rainbo bakery and its competitors with employees of competitors of the Dallas Rainbo bakery.
