

Richard Wolf

From: Steven Sinofsky [ITG/OXYGEN/stevesi]
Sent: Sunday, June 11, 1995 8:54 PM
To: Richard Wolf
Subject: FW: NetScape Meeting

From: ppathe(SMTP:ppathe)
Sent: Wednesday, June 07, 1995 12:27 AM
To: stevesi
Subject: RE: NetScape Meeting

From itgmsm!billg Tue Jun 6 18:32:21 1995
Message-Id: <9506070135.AA23194@itgmsm>
From: billg
To: billg, drosen, nathanm, paulma, peteh, russs
Cc: abay, bens, billg, bradsi, chrisjo, jallard, jimall, johnlu,
petern,
ppathe
Subject: RE: NetScape Meeting
Date: Tue, 06 Jun 95 18:32:00 PDT
X-Mailer: Microsoft Mail V3.0
X-Ms-Attachment: WINMAIL.DAT 1937 00-00-1980 00:00

Trying again...

From: Bill Gates
Sent: Monday, June 05, 1995 1:50 PM
To: Bill Gates; drosen; nathanm; paulma; peteh; russs
Cc: abay; bens; billg; bradsi; chrisjo; jallard; jimall; johnlu;
petern;
ppathe
Subject: RE: NetScape Meeting

Trying again...

From: Bill Gates
Sent: Monday, June 05, 1995 1:49 PM
To: drosen; nathanm; paulma; peteh; russs
Cc: abay; bens; billg; bradsi; chrisjo; jallard; jimall; johnlu;
petern;
ppathe
Subject: RE: NetScape Meeting

I am reading in the WSJ today about how the Macromedia runtime is now part of the Netscape client.

If they include all the things we want them too their overall size will be pretty ridiculous. Interesting that they are going to try and make money on the client by being in retail. I wonder which object viewers they will include on their retail product.

