

Internet Access Method Reported by MDC Survey Respondents Who Claimed in Response to a
Prior Question That They Had Not Accessed an Online Service

Month	Number of Respondents	Number of respondents who said they had not accessed an OLS "such as American Online, CompuServe, Prodigy, or the Microsoft Network" but reported using one of the following OLSs to access the Internet				TOTAL OLS USERS	% of Inconsistent Responses
		AOL	COMPUSERVE	MSN	PRODIGY
Aug-96 ¹	88	10	2	3	1	16	18%
Sep-96 ¹	278	20	3	8	1	32	12%
Nov-96 ¹	112	12	0	6	1	19	17%
Dec-96 ²	98	18	0	6	1	25	26%
Jan-97 ²	98	8	3	3	1	15	15%
Feb-97 ²	92	13	1	7	3	24	26%
Mar-97 ²	118	20	2	13	0	35	30%
Apr-97 ²	85	7	1	3	0	11	13%
May-97 ²	92	11	5	6	2	24	26%
Jun-97 ²	81	11	1	2	3	17	21%
Jul-97 ²	110	22	2	7	1	32	29%
Aug-97 ²	98	7	0	7	0	14	14%
Total:	1350	159	20	71	14	264	20%

¹Respondent answered "no" to question S8A (OLS Access in the past two weeks) and "yes" to question S8B (Internet Access in the past two weeks). Question Q1 gives what respondent reported as Internet access provider last time respondent accessed Internet.

²Respondent answered "no" to question S8A (OLS Access in the past two weeks) and "yes" to question S8B, S8C, or S8D (Internet Access in the past two weeks from home, work, or school respectively). Questions Q1h, Q1w, or Q1s (home, work, or school, respectively) gives what respondent reported as Internet access provider last time respondent accessed Internet from that location. Only "main" access location as defined by R. Schmalensee is used.

