

Date: Mon, 10 Jun 1996 08:37:32 -0700
From: Jim Barksdale <jimb@netscape.com>
Reply-To: jimb@netscape.com
Organization: Netscape Communications
MIME-Version: 1.0
To: Joe Willmann <joew@mdhost.csa.tek.com>
Subject: Re: Microsoft Internet explorer

CONFIDENTIAL

REDACTED

Joe,

Thank you for the 'heads up'. All the best! We'll keep pushing at our end.

Joe Willmann wrote:

- >
- > I am sure you get lots of unsolicited mail but I ran across
- > something that I think you should be interested in.
- >
- > The latest release of Microsoft Developers Network "Requires"
- > the presence of Microsoft Internet explorer to be fully
- > functional.
- >
- > It will not use you favorite browser.
- >
- > By REQUIREING that all software developers have IE on their
- > system to access all of the technical specifications needed to
- > develop windows software seems to be blatent restraint of trade.
- >
- > Anyway I thought you might like to know.
- >
- > Joe Willmann
- > My opinions are my own, not the company I work for.

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL

