Apparently Bill just exploded at John Malone Wed., as part of their scheduled one on one meeting, threatening to bury this company, buy cable operators, and do whatever it took to crush @Home since we are obviously so anti-microsoft that it's criminal. Apparently, even by Gate's standards, it was a scalding conversation...

Just thought you'd be interested. We just can't understand why he's so aggitated about @Home - we're no threat to them! Amazing.

Thanks,
Milo
