I am horrified that anyone could think its ok for any corporation to grow so large that the competition is eliminated, and prices for their product are allowed to skyrocket for the sake of profits, but not to the benefit of those they supposedly seek to “help”. How does pricing medications at unattainable rates help the health of population? Instead it results in lower sales, unobtainable medications that are priced out of the budget of all but a few of the “Very Fortunate” wealthy where price is no object.

Please work to reduce the growth of companies, keep them from obtaining monopoly status. Medicine is supposed to benefit everyone, not just the wealthy. Work with Medicare to lower medication costs for hospitals, clinics and their patients.

Thank you.
