As a nurse with many decades experience in healthcare I am baffled by the decision to allow this to happen. Health care companies do not look out for their patients or workers' best interest ever. They cannot be trusted to do so. I know this and I'm sure you know this too. I have seen so many horrible neglectful things happen in hospitals. You must stand up for vulnerable patients because healthcare companies do not. It's all about understaffing and minimal supplies in order to make more money for shareholders. Everyone knows this and yet no one does anything to help. Please don't allow this to happen.

Sincerely
