UNITED STATES’ MOTION TO TERMINATE LEGACY
 ANTITRUST JUDGMENT AND MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT
 THEREOF

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 The United States respectfully moves to terminate the judgment in the above-
 3 captioned antitrust case pursuant to Rule 60(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
 4 The judgment was entered by this Court 56 years ago.<sup>1</sup> The United States has concluded 5 that because of its age and changed circumstances since its entry, the judgment no longer 6 serves to protect competition. The United States gave the public notice and the 7 opportunity to comment on its intent to seek termination of the judgment; it received no 8 comments opposing termination. For this and other reasons explained below, the United 9 States requests that the judgment be terminated.<sup>2</sup>

 11 <sup>1</sup> This case was originally filed as case No. 682-60 HW in the former Southern 12 District of California prior to the establishment of the Central District of California in 13 1966.

14 <sup>2</sup> For the convenience of the Court, the United States notes that one or more of the 15 arguments in support of termination are the same for the following 35 judgments: (1)

1 II. BACKGROUND

2 From 1890, when the antitrust laws were first enacted, until the late 1970s, the 3 United States frequently sought entry of antitrust judgments whose terms never expired.<sup>3</sup> 4 Such perpetual judgments were the norm until 1979, when the Antitrust Division of the 5 United States Department of Justice (“Antitrust Division”) adopted the practice of 6 including a term limit of ten years in nearly all of its antitrust judgments. Perpetual 7 judgments entered before the policy change, however, remain in effect indefinitely unless 8 a court terminates them. Although a defendant may move a court to terminate a perpetual 9 judgment, few defendants have done so. There are many possible reasons for this, 10 including that defendants may not have been willing to bear the costs and time resources 11 to seek termination, defendants may have lost track of decades-old judgments, individual 12 defendants may have passed away, or company defendants may have gone out of <sup>3</sup> The primary antitrust laws are the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1–7, and the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 12–27. The judgment the United States seeks to terminate with this motion concerns violation of the Sherman Act.

1 business. As a result, hundreds of these legacy judgments remain open on the dockets of 2 courts around the country. Originally intended to protect the loss of competition arising 3 from violations of the antitrust laws, none of these judgments likely continues to do so 4 because of changed circumstances.

5 The Antitrust Division has implemented a program to review and, when 6 appropriate, seek termination of legacy judgments. The Antitrust Division's Judgment
7 Termination Initiative encompasses review of all its outstanding perpetual antitrust 8 judgments. The Antitrust Division described the initiative in a statement published in the 9 Federal Register.<sup>4</sup> In addition, the Antitrust Division established a website to keep the 10 public informed of its efforts to terminate perpetual judgments that no longer serve to 11 protect competition.<sup>5</sup> The United States believes that its outstanding perpetual antitrust 12 judgments presumptively should be terminated; nevertheless, the Antitrust Division is 13 examining each judgment to ensure that it is suitable for termination. The Antitrust 14 Division is giving the public notice of—and the opportunity to comment on—its intention 15 to seek termination of its perpetual judgments.

16 In brief, the process the United States is following to determine whether to move to 17 terminate a perpetual antitrust judgment is as follows:

- 18 • The Antitrust Division reviews each perpetual judgment to determine whether it 19 no longer serves to protect competition such that termination would be 20 appropriate.
- 21 • If the Antitrust Division determines a judgment is suitable for termination, it 22 posts the name of the case and the judgment on its public Judgment
23 Termination Initiative website,
24 <https://www.justice.gov/atr/JudgmentTermination>.

- 1 • The public has the opportunity to comment on each proposed termination
- 2 within thirty days of the date the case name and judgment are posted to the
- 3 public website.
- 4 • Following review of public comments, the Antitrust Division determines
- 5 whether the judgment still warrants termination; if so, the United States moves
- 6 to terminate it.

7 The United States followed this process for each judgment it seeks to terminate.<sup>6</sup>

8 The remainder of this motion is organized as follows: Section III describes the 9 Court's jurisdiction to terminate the judgment and the applicable legal standards for 10 terminating the judgment. Section IV argues that perpetual judgments rarely serve to 11 protect competition and that those that are more than ten years old presumptively should 12 be terminated. Section IV also discusses specific circumstances justifying termination.
 13 Section V concludes. Appendix A attaches a copy of the judgment that the United States
 14 seeks to terminate with this motion. A proposed order terminating the judgment 15 accompanies this motion.

16 III. APPLICABLE LEGAL STANDARDS FOR JUDGMENT TERMINATION

17 This Court has jurisdiction and authority to terminate the judgment. The judgment 18 provides that the Court retains jurisdiction. In addition, the Federal Rules of Civil 19 Procedure grant the Court authority to terminate the judgment. According to 20 Rule 60(b)(5) and (b)(6), “[o]n motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party . . .
 21 from a final judgment . . . (5) [when] applying it prospectively is no longer equitable; or

 23 <sup>6</sup> The United States followed this process to move several dozen other district
 24 courts to terminate legacy antitrust judgments. See, e.g., In re: Termination of Legacy

2 ex rel. Frew v. Hawkins, 540 U.S. 431, 441 (2004) (explaining that Rule 60(b)(5) 3 “encompasses the traditional power of a court of equity to modify its decree in light of 4 changed circumstances” and that “district courts should apply a ‘flexible standard’ to the 6 amendment”) (citation omitted); United States v. Asarco Inc., 430 F.3d 972, 979 (9th Cir.

9 Rule codifies the courts’ traditional authority, inherent in the jurisdiction of the chancery, 10 to modify or vacate the prospective effect of their decrees.”) (citations and internal 11 quotation marks omitted). Given its jurisdiction and authority, the Court may terminate 12 the judgment for any reason that justifies relief, including that the judgment no longer 13 serves its original purpose of protecting competition.<sup>7</sup> Termination of the judgment is 14 warranted.

15 IV. ARGUMENT

16 It is appropriate to terminate the judgment because it no longer serves its original 17 purpose of protecting competition. The United States believes that this perpetual 18 judgment presumptively should be terminated because its age alone suggests it no longer 19 protects competition. Other reasons, however, also weigh in favor of terminating it.
20 Under such circumstances, the Court may terminate the judgment pursuant to 21 Rule 60(b)(5) or (b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

23 ///

---

25 <sup>7</sup> In light of the circumstances surrounding the judgment for which it seeks 26 termination, the United States does not believe it is necessary for the Court to make an 27 extensive inquiry into the facts of the judgment to terminate it under Fed. R. Civ. P.
28 60(b)(5) or (b)(6). The judgment would have terminated long ago if the Antitrust Division had the foresight to limit it to ten years in duration as under its policy adopted in 1979. Moreover, the passage of decades and changed circumstance since its entry, as described in this memorandum, means that it is likely that the judgment no longer serves its original purpose of protecting competition.

1           A. The Judgment Presumptively Should Be Terminated Because of Age

2           Permanent antitrust injunctions rarely serve to protect competition. The experience
3 of the United States in enforcing the antitrust laws has shown that markets almost always 4 evolve over time in response to competitive and technological changes. These changes 5 may make the prohibitions of decades-old judgments either irrelevant to, or inconsistent 6 with, competition. These considerations, among others, led the Antitrust Division in 7 1979 to establish its policy of generally including in each judgment a term automatically 8 terminating the judgment after no more than ten years.<sup>8</sup> The judgment—which is 9 decades old—presumptively should be terminated for the reasons that led the Antitrust 10 Division to adopt its 1979 policy of generally limiting judgments to a term of ten years.

11           B. The Judgment Should Be Terminated Because It Is Unnecessary

12           In addition to age, other reasons weigh heavily in favor of terminating the 13 judgment. Based on its examination of the judgment, the Antitrust Division has 14 determined that it should be terminated for the following reason:

- 15           • The judgment prohibits acts that the antitrust laws already prohibit, such as 16 fixing prices, allocating markets, and engaging in group boycotts. These 17 prohibitions amount to little more than an admonition that defendants must not 18 violate the law. Absent such terms, defendants still are deterred from violating 19 the law by the possibility of imprisonment, significant criminal fines, and treble 20 damages in private follow-on litigation; a mere admonition to not violate the 21 law adds little additional deterrence. To the extent a judgment includes terms 22 that do little to deter anticompetitive acts, it should be terminated.

23           The consent judgment was entered in 1963. Jurisdiction was explicitly retained in 24 Section VI of the judgment. The terms of the judgment enjoined a labor union of meat 25 vendors from limiting the number of meat vendors who can purchase meat for resale, 26 from agreeing to allocate customers among meat vendors, from fixing prices paid by 27 meat vendors to suppliers of fresh or processed meat, from fixing prices charged by meat

1 vendors to customers, and from prohibiting meat suppliers from selling to bona fide meat 2 vendors. The judgment should be terminated because its terms largely prohibit acts the 3 antitrust laws already prohibit (price fixing, group boycott, market allocation).

4 C. There Has Been No Public Opposition to Termination

5 The United States has provided adequate notice to the public regarding its intent to 6 seek termination of the judgment. On April 25, 2018, the Antitrust Division issued a 7 press release announcing its efforts to review and terminate legacy antitrust judgments.<sup>9</sup>
8 On March 22, 2019, the Antitrust Division listed the judgment on its public website, 9 describing its intent to move to terminate it.<sup>10</sup> The notice identified the case, linked to the 10 judgment, and invited public comment. No comments were received opposing 11 termination.
