Subject: Please do not make this law!

To whom it may concern,

I am a songwriter, and I live in a family of songwriters. My husband is a songwriter and this is how we make our living. By forcing the PRO to license not only will you create complete chaos and have it within the songwriting community, it will make it very difficult for us to create in the way that we always have. Your unintentionally, taking the power away for not only the publishers, but the songwriters. Very songwriters you were trying to protect. You will also be unknowingly giving power to the very streaming services you are trying to protect our compositions from by enabling the PROs. We understand it's very issues that need to be resolved, we do not feel like this is the way to go about it. There has to be another way to make this happen with out incapacitating songwriters who are already feeling the full force effects of technology to the fullest. Thank you for your time.

Sincerest regards,
