8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
9 DISTRICT OF NEVADA

10 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

11 Plaintiff,

12 v.

13 THE STATE OF NEVADA,

14 Defendants.

Case No.

COMPLAINT

15
16 COMPLAINT

17 1. The United States brings this action to enforce the rights of children and young 18 adults up to the age of 21 (“children”) with behavioral health disabilities to receive services in 19 the most integrated settings appropriate to their needs. The State of Nevada administers and 20 funds its programs and services for children with behavioral health disabilities in a manner that 21 results in their unnecessary institutionalization in public and private residential treatment 22 facilities and hospitals, and places them at serious risk of such institutionalization, in violation of 23 Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (the “ADA”), 42 U.S.C. §§ 12131-12134.
24

1 and its implementing regulations, 28 C.F.R. pt. 35. The State is responsible for ensuring that 2 State programs and services conform to the ADA.

3 8. The State administers and funds services for children with behavioral health
4 disabilities through the Nevada Department of Health and Human Services (“Nevada DHHS”).
5 Nevada DHHS operates Nevada’s Medicaid program, which covers community-based behavioral
6 health services, inpatient acute hospitalization services, and residential treatment facility services
7 for children. Nevada DHHS also directly operates care coordination, mobile crisis, and 8 outpatient mental health services for children.

9 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

10 A. Children with Behavioral Health Disabilities are People with Disabilities
11 Protected by the ADA.

12 9. Children with behavioral health disabilities who are institutionalized or at serious 13 risk of institutionalization have diagnosable serious emotional disturbance, mental illness, and/or 14 substance use disorders. These are impairments that substantially limit one or more major life
15 activities. Accordingly, children with behavioral health disabilities are people with disabilities
16 defined by the ADA.

17 10. Most children with behavioral health disabilities in residential treatment facilities
18 and hospitals are appropriate for and qualified to receive services in the community. They have 19 similar diagnoses and needs as children who live successfully at home and receive community-
20 based supports and services.

21 B. Residential Treatment Facilities and Psychiatric Hospitals are Segregated, 22 Institutional Settings.

23 11. Residential treatment facilities afford children minimal access to their families,
24 communities, and non-disabled peers. Children in residential treatment facilities experience a

1 highly regimented, controlled daily schedule with restricted free time, limited individual
2 activities, and little to no engagement in the broader community.

3 12. Hospitals are quintessential congregate, segregated settings. People receiving 4 psychiatric treatment in hospitals typically do not interact with people other than patients and 5 treatment staff, and their day-to-day life is highly restricted.

6 C. Thousands of Nevada’s Children Receive Psychiatric Care in Hospitals or 7 Residential Treatment Settings, Though They are Appropriate for 8 Community-Based Services.

9 13. Psychiatric hospitals in Nevada are a primary source of behavioral health services
10 for children and a gateway to long-term residential treatment facility placements. Children who 11 are hospitalized are frequently discharged without needed community-based services, which can 12 lead to more hospitalizations and/or placement in residential treatment facilities.

13 14. Placement in residential treatment facilities often means children are far from 14 home, sometimes even across the country.

15 15. Once in residential treatment, children remain away from their families and 16 communities for many months, and some remain at the facilities for over a year.

17 16. These children often experience repeated admissions to hospitals and residential 18 treatment facilities because the ongoing supports that children and families need to avoid 19 readmission are not available when children return home.

20 17. Nevada acknowledges that many placements in institutional settings can be 21 prevented if children receive necessary services in the community.

22 18. Critical community-based services to keep children in their homes and 23 communities include mobile crisis and stabilization services, intensive care coordination, and 24

1 intensive in-home services, including wraparound facilitation, respite care, individual and family
2 therapy, behavioral support services, family peer support, and youth peer support.

3 19. Nevada’s Medicaid program covers both inpatient psychiatric services and 4 residential treatment as well as a number of community-based services including crisis services,
5 care coordination, individual and family therapy, peer support, and behavioral support services.
6 Using State funds, Nevada also provides wraparound facilitation.

7 20. Under the Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment (EPSDT)
8 provisions of the Medicaid Act, Nevada’s Medicaid program is required to provide children 9 under the age of 21 with coverable services necessary to correct or ameliorate a mental illness or 10 condition. 42 U.S.C. §§ 1396a(a)(43); 1396d(a); 1396d(r)(5). This obligation includes 11 community-based services.

12 21. Although community-based services are theoretically offered through the State’s 13 behavioral health system, they are not available throughout the State. Even where available, they 14 are not available in the amount, intensity, or duration to meet children’s needs. For example,
15 wraparound facilitation can prevent unnecessary institutionalization, but few children in Nevada
16 who are at serious risk of institutionalization receive it. Similarly, in-home therapy is available
17 through Nevada Medicaid but is not provided with the intensity or frequency needed to prevent 18 institutional placements.

19 22. The State has long known about the need for critical community-based services to 20 prevent unnecessary hospitalization and residential treatment. Reports from groups within 21 Nevada as well as national reports have highlighted the deficiencies in access to services.

22 23. Nonetheless, children continue to need to enter institutions to get treatment, and 23 when they do return home, face the same lack of services that resulted in the initial placements.
24

1           D. Nevada’s Administration of its Service System Has Caused Unnecessary
2           Segregation of Children with Behavioral Health Disabilities in Residential
3           Treatment Facilities and Psychiatric Hospitals and Placed Others at Serious
4           Risk of Unnecessary Institutionalization.

5           24. The State administers its children’s behavioral health system in a way that leads 6 to unnecessary segregation of children with behavioral health disabilities.

7           25. Because the State fails to make sufficient community-based services available to 8 the children who need them, these children are unnecessarily hospitalized and/or placed in 9 residential treatment facilities.

10          26. The State fails to establish and maintain a sufficient provider network to deliver 11 key services, so families have to wait weeks or months for services even when they have a 12 critical need.

13          27. The State fails to connect children with community-based behavioral health
14 services and prevent their admission to segregated settings such as residential treatment facilities
15 and hospitals. For example, the State fails to divert children who are seeking approval for 16 residential treatment to community-based services when possible. The State also does not 17 review or assess the reasons why children are placed in residential treatment to enable it to 18 address systemic issues.

19          28. The State fails to ensure appropriate discharge planning from residential treatment 20 facilities and hospitals to prevent unnecessarily long stays and readmissions to these settings.

21          29. As a result of these failures, hundreds of Nevada’s children are forced to enter 22 hospitals and residential treatment facilities. Once admitted, children can sometimes stay in 23
24

1 these settings much longer than necessary or appropriate because of a lack of adequate
2 community-based services available to them upon discharge.

3 30. Virtually all children receiving inpatient and residential treatment are appropriate
4 for community-based services. Providing community-based services in an amount, intensity, and 5 duration sufficient to prevent institutionalization would allow these children to avoid 6 unnecessary institutional stays and/or allow them to return to the community from institutions.
7 Many community-based services are as effective or more effective than institutional care for 8 these children.

9 31. Children and their families overwhelmingly do not oppose receiving community-
10 based services, if sufficiently intensive services were available.

11 E. The State Can Provide Services in Integrated Settings by Reasonably 12 Modifying its Community-Based Service System.

13 32. The State can make reasonable modifications to its community-based service 14 system to serve children with behavioral health disabilities who are in or at risk of entering 15 residential treatment facilities and psychiatric hospitals in their homes and communities.

16 33. The types of services needed to support children with behavioral health
17 disabilities in community-based settings already exist in Nevada's community-based service 18 system.

19 34. Nevada can reasonably modify its community-based behavioral health services 20 for children by expanding accessibility of those services to the children who need them and by 21 ensuring they are available in sufficient intensity to prevent unnecessary institutionalization.

22 35. Nevada can reasonably modify its community-based service system by ensuring 23 that the full array of services is available statewide as required by Medicaid. This array of 24

1 services includes mobile crisis response and stabilization services, intensive care coordination,
2 and intensive in-home services such as wraparound facilitation, respite care, individual therapy,
3 family therapy, behavioral support services, family peer support, and youth peer support.

4 36. Nevada can reasonably modify its service system by exercising robust oversight
5 of community-based providers to ensure a sufficient provider network to deliver each service in 6 the service array.

7 37. Nevada can reasonably modify its service system by assessing children at serious 8 risk of institutional placement for community-based services and quickly connecting them to 9 appropriate services, such as by overseeing the process to approve treatment in residential 10 treatment facilities and by analyzing information to learn what factors are driving residential 11 placements.

12 38. Nevada can reasonably modify its service system by working with children and 13 families when a child enters a segregated setting to facilitate discharge and transition back to the 14 community and by verifying whether those children are receiving community-based services
15 after they return to the community.

16 F. The Department of Justice Investigation

17 39. In December 2020, after receiving a complaint of discrimination, the United 18 States opened an investigation under Title II of the ADA to determine whether Nevada
19 unnecessarily institutionalizes children with behavioral health disabilities. Following this 20 investigation, the United States notified the Governor of its conclusion that the State fails to 21 provide services to children with behavioral health disabilities in the most integrated setting
22 appropriate to their needs as required by the ADA. Attachment A, Report of Findings, 23 Investigation of Nevada's Use of Institutions to Serve Children with Behavioral Health 24

1 Disabilities (October 4, 2022). The report provided the State notice of its failure to comply with 2 the ADA and identified the steps necessary for the State to meet its obligations pursuant to 3 federal law.

4 40. All conditions precedent to the filing of this Complaint have been satisfied.

5 VIOLATION OF TITLE II OF THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

6 42 U.S.C. §§ 12131-12134

7 41. The allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 40 of this Complaint are hereby re-8 alleged and incorporated by reference.

9 42. Defendant, State of Nevada, is a public entity subject to Title II of the ADA, 42
10 U.S.C. § 12131(1).

11 43. The State violates the ADA by administering the State’s public health system in a 12 manner that denies qualified children with behavioral health disabilities the benefits of the 13 State’s services, programs, or activities in the most integrated setting appropriate to their needs, 14 and by failing to reasonably modify the State’s service system to avoid discrimination against 15 adults with mental health disabilities. 42 U.S.C. § 12132; 28 C.F.R. § 35.130.

16 44. The State’s actions constitute discrimination in violation of Title II of the ADA,
17 42 U.S.C. § 12131 et seq., and its implementing regulations at 28 C.F.R. pt. 35.

18 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

19 The United States of America prays that the Court:

20 A. Grant judgment in favor of the United States on its Complaint and declare that the 21 Defendant has violated Title II of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12131-12134;

22 B. Enjoin Defendant from:

2           failing to provide services, programs, or activities in the most integrated setting 3           appropriate to their needs; and
- 4           2. Failing to provide appropriate, integrated community services, programs, or activities
5           to children with behavioral health disabilities in Nevada so as to avoid placing these 6           children at serious risk of institutionalization in residential treatment facilities or 7           psychiatric hospitals; and
