And In Response To Motion Of Defendant Weil To Adopt Motion Of Codefendants For A Bill Of Particulars ("Memorandum Of The United States"), pp. 2-3. As fully set forth in its attached Memorandum, a bill of particulars is not a device for discovering either the evidentiary details or legal theories of the government's case. Consequently, the United States has not followed the definitions and instructions in the "Introduction" section of Defendants' Motion. As provided by Rule 7(f), the United States reserves its right to amend this Bill at any time.

SPECIFICATION

- A) With respect to paragraphs 2 and 3 of the Indictment, identify:
- 3) Each supplier of scrap metal affected by the alleged combination and conspiracy;

RESPONSE

Paragraphs 2 and 3 of the Indictment do not allege that any supplier of scrap metal was affected by conspiracy. A violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act is complete when the agreement is made; an overt act in furtherance of the agreement need not be alleged or proved, nor is it required to allege or prove any effect. The defendants are sufficiently advised of the charge against them by the Indictment, the extensive discovery disclosed and made available to the defendants, and this Bill of Particulars.

To provide further explanation of the charge in the Indictment, the United States provides the following information:

The defendants are charged with having engaged in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and restrain competition in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act. This combination and conspiracy consisted of a continuing agreement, understanding and concert of action among the defendants and co-conspirators. During the course of the conspiracy, the defendants and co-conspirators discussed various suppliers and geographic locations, including the following:

SUPPLIERS

With respect to specific scrap suppliers, the defendants and co-conspirators agreed upon maximum pricing to these suppliers. With respect to suppliers in specific geographic areas, the defendants and co-conspirators agreed upon maximum pricing to suppliers in these geographic areas. The defendants and co-conspirators also agreed upon over-the-scale prices for particular grades of scrap, including, sheet metal, appliances or white goods, unprepared and prepared scrap, whole cars, and logs.

SPECIFICATION

- A) With respect to paragraphs 2 and 3 of the indictment, identify:
- 4) When and how each defendant and co-conspirator entered such combination and conspiracy;

RESPONSE

This Specification calls for the details of the government’s evidence and its legal theories, and, therefore, is beyond the scope of a Bill of Particulars. By way of further explanation, however, the United States provides the following information about five meetings which were attended by various defendants and co-conspirators, and in connection with which occurred most of the collusive communications in furtherance of the charged conspiracy:

SPECIFICATION

- A) With respect to paragraphs 2 and 3 of the Indictment, identify:
 - 5) When and how each defendant and co-conspirator withdrew from such combination and conspiracy;

RESPONSE

The Indictment alleges that, beginning at least as early as October 24, 1992, and continuing until at least until November 23, 1992, the exact dates being unknown to the grand jury, the defendants and co-conspirators engaged in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and restrain competition by fixing the price of scrap metal, and allocating suppliers of scrap metal, in southern Florida. See Indictment, ¶ 2.

By way of further explanation, the United States believes that the conspiracy alleged in the Indictment ended sometime in January, 1993.
