INDICTMENT

The Grand Jury charges:

At all times material to this indictment:

General Allegations

The Federal Employee Compensation Act and Health Care Benefits (Generally)

1. Title 18, United States Code, Section 24(b) defined a health care benefit program as any public or private plan or contract, affecting commerce, under which any medical benefit, item, or service was provided to any individual and included any individual or entity who provided a medical benefit, item, or service for which payment may be made under the plan or contract. The Federal Employee's Compensation Act ("FECA") was a health care benefit program as defined in Title 18, U.S.C. Section 24(b).

2. FECA provided for payment of workers' compensation benefits to federal employees who suffered an injury, disease, or death in the performance of duty. To establish a claim for benefits, a medical condition was required to be causally related to a claimed injury, disease, or death. Benefits were only available while a work-related condition continued. The benefits under FECA included continuation of pay ("COP") for up to 45 calendar days, compensation for lost wages, all necessary medical care, medical supplies and prescription drugs, vocation rehabilitation services, and disability payments. FECA provided coverage for pharmaceuticals necessary to treat symptoms which were the result of a work-related injury when prescribed by a doctor and medically necessary.

3. The Department of Labor ("DOL") Office of Workers Compensation Program ("OWCP") administered the benefits under FECA. Providers of health care services were required to enroll with DOL-OWCP to receive a provider identification number and reimbursement under FECA. Form OWCP-1168 was used for enrollment and updating provider information. By completing and submitting Form OWCP-1168, a provider certified that all the Federal and State licensure and regulatory requirements applicable to their provider type were satisfied.

4. DOL-OWCP contracted with Affiliated Computer Services ("ACS") to provide medical claims processing and payments. Providers were required to identify on each claim the services provided. All claims submitted were required to be supported by medical evidence. The submission of a claim and acceptance of payment by a provider signified that the service for which reimbursement was sought, was performed as described, necessary, appropriate, and properly billed in accordance with accepted industry standards. It was not within industry standards, among other things, to charge for services that were not necessary and not legitimately prescribed.

5. Payments were sent to providers via electronic funds transfer (“EFT”).

Remittance notices that listed all the claims paid on each EFT were sent to providers.

Compound Drugs (Generally)

6. In general, “compounding” is a practice in which a licensed pharmacist, a licensed physician, or, in the case of an outsourcing facility, a person under the supervision of a licensed pharmacist, combines, mixes, or alters ingredients of a drug or multiple drugs to create a drug tailored to the needs of an individual patient. Compound drugs are not approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”); that is, the FDA does not verify the safety, potency, effectiveness, or manufacturing quality of compound drugs. The Texas State Board of Pharmacy regulates the practice of compounding in the State of Texas.

7. Compound drugs may be prescribed by a physician when an FDA-approved drug does not meet the health needs of a particular patient. For example, if a patient is allergic to a specific ingredient in an FDA-approved medication, such as a dye or a preservative, a compound drug can be prepared excluding the substance that triggers the allergic reaction. Compound drugs may also be prescribed when a patient cannot consume a medication by traditional means, such as an elderly patient or child who cannot swallow an FDA-approved pill and needs the drug in a liquid form that is not otherwise available.

(Violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1349 (18 U.S.C. § 1347))

25. The Grand Jury re-alleges and incorporates by reference as if fully alleged herein paragraphs 1 through 24 the General Allegations of this indictment.

The Conspiracy

26. From in or about May 2014 and continuing to in or about March 2017, the exact dates being unknown to the Grand Jury, in the Dallas Division of the Northern District of Texas and elsewhere, the defendants, Jamshid Noryian, Dehshid Nourian, Christopher Rydberg, Ashraf Mofid, Leyla Nourian, Leslie Benson, Michael Taba, and Kevin Williams did knowingly, intentionally, and willfully combine, conspire, confederate, and agree with each other and with other persons known and unknown to the Grand Jury, to commit certain offenses against the United States, that is, to knowingly and willfully execute, and attempt to execute a scheme and artifice to defraud FECA, a health care benefit program as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 24(b), and to obtain money and property owned by and under the custody and control of FECA, by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, in connection with the delivery of or payment for health care benefits, items and services, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1347.

Object of the Conspiracy

27. It was the object of the conspiracy for the defendants and others known and unknown to the Grand Jury to unlawfully enrich themselves, by submitting false and fraudulent claims for health care benefits to which they were not entitled. The false and fraudulent claims were for compound medications that were not legitimately prescribed, not wanted, not needed, not used, and which were the product of kickbacks.

Manner and Means of the Conspiracy

28. The manner and means by which the defendants sought to accomplish the object of the conspiracy included, among other things:

The Scheme to Defraud

29. Defendant Jamshid Noryian, Dehshid Nourian, and Christopher Rydberg obtained and maintained control of Ability, Industrial & Family, and Park Row (collectively “the pharmacies”) solely to achieve the objective of their scheme to defraud: to unlawfully enrich themselves by submitting false and fraudulent claims for health care benefits to which they were not entitled.

30. Defendants Christopher Rydberg, Dehshid Nourian, and others filed, and caused to be filed, Payment Information Forms for Ability, Industrial & Family, and Park Row to transmit payment electronically from DOL-OWCP to the pharmacies.

31. R.R., a pharmacist, formulated compound creams and vitamins with ingredients intended to maximize reimbursement from DOL-OWCP. The creams were for scars, wounds, and pain and had DOL-OWCP reimbursement rates of up to approximately $28,000 per container.

32. Defendant Jamshid Nourian, R.R., and others created a prescription pad to be provided to doctors referring prescriptions to Ability.

33. Defendant Jamshid Noryian marketed the creams to doctors treating DOL-OWCP patients and induced doctors to send unnecessary and excessive prescriptions for compound medications to the pharmacies with payments.

34. Defendant Leyla Nourian recruited defendant Michael Taba to write prescriptions for compound medications for DOL-OWCP patients to be filled by Ability.

35. Defendants Leslie Benson and Michael Taba toured Ability and were provided with prescription pads from the pharmacies to ensure that all prescriptions written by these doctors for compound creams would be sent to the pharmacies.

36. Defendants Leslie Benson, Michael Taba, and Kevin Williams sent, and caused to be sent, prescriptions to the pharmacies in return for payments from defendants Jamshid Noryian, Dehshid Nourian, Ashraf Mofid, Leyla Nourian, and Christopher Rydberg.

37. Defendants Ashraf Mofid, Christopher Rydberg, and Leyla Nourian operated Bandoola Pharmaceutical in order to make payments to doctors for referring prescriptions of DOL-OWCP patients to the pharmacies and concealed these payments with “promissory notes” to make it appear as though the payments were loans instead of payments for sending prescriptions to the pharmacies.

38. Defendant Jamshid Noryian instructed employees of Ability to contact patients and doctors and request refills when the pharmacy was not processing sufficient prescriptions.

39. Defendants Leslie Benson, Michael Taba, and Kevin Williams prescribed unnecessary pain creams when patients were already prescribed controlled substance medications for pain management.

40. Defendant Jamshid Noryian controlled, and attempted to control, medical treatment for patients of defendants Michael Taba and Leslie Benson by offering and providing inducements to office staff to ensure compound prescriptions were written for the most patients and sent to Ability and Industrial & Family.

41. Defendant Jamshid Noryian offered free rent and other inducements and payments to defendant Leslie Benson, his tenant, for writing prescriptions for compound medications and referring them to the pharmacies.

42. Defendant Leslie Benson wrote prescriptions for compound medications for all patients regardless of whether they wanted or needed the medications.

43. Defendant Leslie Benson referred approximately 3,968 prescriptions for DOL-OWCP patients to Ability and Industrial & Family. Defendant Leslie Benson caused at least approximately $20 million to be billed by Ability and Industrial & Family to DOL-OWCP.

44. Defendant Jamshid Noryian maximized, and attempted to, maximize prescriptions by contacting the office of defendant Michael Taba if prescriptions had not come in that week to ask why no prescriptions had come in.

45. Defendant Jamshid Noryian instructed Ability employees to go to defendant Michael Taba's clinic where they would work with defendant Michael Taba's staff to fill out prescriptions, stamp defendant Michael Taba's signature on prescriptions, and contact patients about receiving prescriptions.

46. Defendant Michael Taba instructed his employees to review his patient visit schedule at the end of each day, write prescriptions for compound creams for each patient, and send the prescriptions to the pharmacies. The medications were not tailored to the individual patient; every patient received the same compound medications.

47. Defendants Ashraf Mofid, Leyla Nourian, and Christopher Rydberg wrote checks to defendant Michael Taba for sending prescriptions to Ability and Industrial & Family Pharmacy.

48. Defendant Michael Taba referred approximately 3,527 prescriptions to DOL-OWCP to Ability and Industrial & Family. Defendant Michael Taba caused at least approximately $33 million to be billed by Ability and Industrial & Family to DOL-OWCP.

49. Defendants Jamshid Noryian and Dehshid Nourian obtained Park Row for the sole purpose of filling out-of-state prescriptions written for DOL-OWCP patients by defendant Kevin Williams.

50. Defendant Kevin Williams wrote prescriptions for wound and scar medications when patients did not need the medications because they had not had surgery and were not planning to have surgery.

51. Defendant Kevin Williams wrote prescriptions with eleven refills so that refills were automatic.

52. Defendant Christopher Rydberg met defendant Kevin Williams in the parking lot of Queen Shiva, and other locations, to deliver checks to him for referring prescriptions for DOL-OWCP patients to the pharmacies.

53. Defendant Jamshid Noryian instructed his employees to deliver prefilled prescriptions to defendant Kevin Williams's office for signature.

54. Defendant Kevin Williams referred approximately 10,484 prescriptions to DOL-OWCP to Ability, Industrial & Family, and Park Row. Defendant Kevin Williams caused at least approximately $90 million to be billed by Ability, Industrial & Family, and Park Row to DOL-OWCP.

55. Defendant Jamshid Noryian closely monitored the claims submitted to DOL-OWCP, and the payments received, by checking a computer program several times a day to see the amount of money that had been billed for the day. Defendant Jamshid Noryian instructed employees to text him the amount of money made at the end of the day if he was out of the office. Defendant Jamshid Noryian told employees and others that he made $1 million a day off of the compound medications.

56. Defendant Jamshid Noryian, Dehshid Nourian, Christopher Rydberg, Ashraf Mofid, Leyla Nourian, Leslie Benson, Michael Taba, and Kevin Williams caused to be submitted to FECA through OWCP, at least approximately $158 million in false and fraudulent claims and received at least approximately $82 million as payment for those claims.

in the financial transactions represented the proceeds of some form of unlawful activity, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1956(a)(1)(B)(i), and (b) To knowingly engage and attempt to engage, in monetary transactions within the United States, by, through or to a financial institution, affecting interstate and foreign commerce, in criminally derived property of a value greater than $10,000, such property having been derived from a specified unlawful activity, that is health care fraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1957.
