I. Overview for Executive Office for Immigration Review

Introduction

To support the mission of the agency, the Department of Justice's (DOJ or "the Department") Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) requests a total of $882,872,000; 3,761 permanent positions, and 2,621 full-time equivalent (FTE). This request includes a $4,000,000 transfer from the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) Immigration Examination Fee Account.

EOIR is responsible for conducting immigration court proceedings, appellate reviews, and administrative hearings to fairly, expeditiously, and uniformly administer and interpret U.S. immigration law. As the Department's primary office for applying and adjudicating immigration law, EOIR plays an essential role in the Nation's larger immigration system. As one of several major actors within the immigration space, it is crucial that EOIR be prepared to meet current and future challenges.

Immigration cases typically begin when DHS files a Notice to Appear (NTA), which charges a potential illegal alien with a violation of federal immigration law and seeks the removal of that individual from the United States. Due to recent changes in immigration enforcement priorities and policies, DHS agencies such as Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), Customs and Border Protection (CBP), and United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) have significantly increased their enforcement and processing and will likely continue to do so in the coming years. As a result, it remains critically important that EOIR has sufficient resources to keep pace with DHS enforcement efforts.

Budget Summary

EOIR's primary strategic focus is increasing adjudicatory and case processing capacity. Although EOIR is examining all potential avenues to increase efficiency and adjudicative capacity through existing means, additional resources are necessary. EOIR's Fiscal Year (FY) 2021 budget request includes program increases totaling over $137 million to provide funding for: additional immigration judges (IJs) and the necessary support staff; Information Technology (IT) modernization; and a Unified Immigration Portal. This request is essential to enable EOIR to advance initiatives that fulfill presidential and Attorney General priority areas, support EOIR's mission of adjudicating immigration cases promptly without compromising due process, and continue to improve court business process by the modernization of its IT infrastructure.

EOIR continues to face a myriad of internal and external challenges to increasing adjudicative and case processing capacity to reduce the pending caseload. The additional IJs provided through this program increase will help EOIR better address these challenges and ensure the efficient administration of immigration law.

Program Overview

Organization of EOIR

EOIR administers the Nation's immigration court system. EOIR primarily decides whether foreign-born individuals charged by DHS with violating immigration law should be a) ordered removed from the United States or b) granted relief or protection from removal and allowed to remain in the country. To make these critical determinations, EOIR operates 69 immigration courts throughout the country and has a centralized Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) located at EOIR Headquarters.

EOIR also adjudicates cases involving illegal hiring and employment eligibility verification violations, document fraud, and immigration-related employment discrimination. EOIR Headquarters, located in Falls Church, Virginia, provides centralized operational, policy, and administrative support to EOIR immigration proceedings and programs conducted throughout the United States.

EOIR's 2021 Budget Strategy

EOIR's program increase of $137,028,000 supports EOIR's current strategic initiatives of increasing adjudicatory and case processing capacity, which help advance EOIR's mission¹. Increasing adjudicatory and case processing capacity is particularly important given the growing pending caseload and the increase in the rate of new NTAs filed.

Challenges

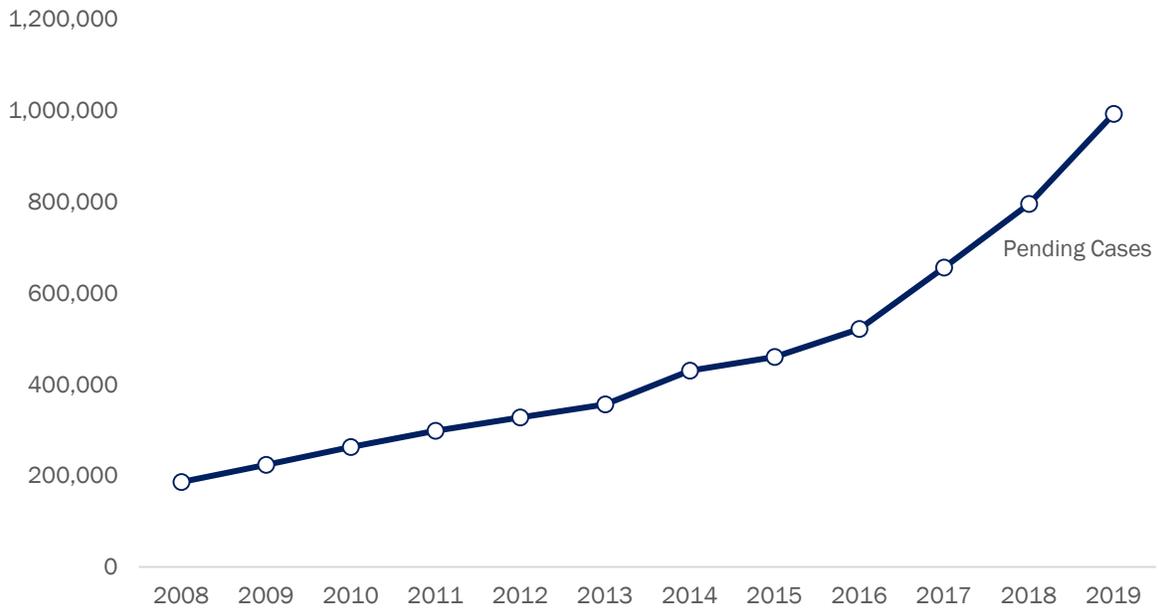

EOIR continues to face both internal and external challenges to increasing adjudicative and case processing capacity to help reduce the pending caseload. Internal challenges include the IJ hiring process and the geographic disbursement of courtrooms. Externally, the most significant factor is the recent shift in DHS enforcement priorities and resulting rapid increase in the number of new immigration cases.

At the end of FY 2019, there were over 1 million active cases pending in immigration courts nationwide, by far the largest ever pending caseload before the agency, marking the thirteenth consecutive year of increased pending caseloads. Additionally, by the end of FY 2019, DHS filed approximately 493,000 NTAs, a 57 percent increase from the approximately 315,000 filed in FY 2018.

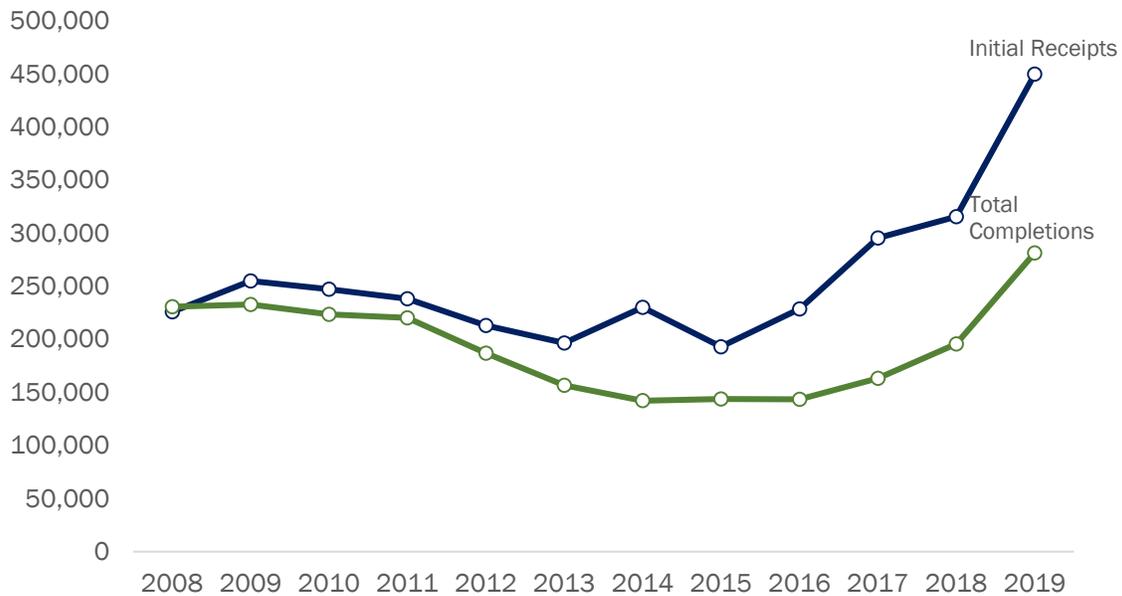

Additionally, in June 2019, Congress passed the Emergency Supplemental Appropriations for Humanitarian Assistance and Security at the Southern Border Act, providing EOIR with $65 million for the hiring of 30 additional IJ teams, purchase or lease of IJ courtroom space and equipment, and for services and activities provided by the Legal Orientation Program (LOP). This funding expired at the end of September 2019.

¹ EOIR's primary mission is to, "adjudicate immigration cases by fairly, expeditiously, and uniformly interpreting and administering the Nation's immigration laws."

New Cases and Total Completions Through FY 2019

While the challenges noted below are specific to OCIJ, EOIR remains cognizant that the large and growing pending caseload will also affect the BIA. From FY 2014-2016, BIA received on average about 30,000 appeals per year. However, in FY 2017, over 33,500 appeals were filed with BIA, and in FY 2018, nearly 50,000 case appeals were filed, surpassing FY 2017 by nearly 50 percent. In FY 2019, the BIA received over 61,000 case appeals, which is an increase of 22 percent over FY 2018 and nearly double what was filed in FY 2017. This work is shared across 21 permanent Board Members, an extremely large volume for any appellate body. As both new OCIJ case receipts and the number of immigration judges' increase, the BIA will likely continue to face a resultant increase in the number of appeals filed.

Internal Challenges

The thorough vetting and hiring process for IJs has historically taken well over a year. A June 2017 GAO Report concluded it took the DOJ an average of 742 days to complete each immigration judge's hiring process. Although EOIR hired 64 immigration judges in FY 2017, the FY 2017 pace was insufficient to fully make up for prior shortfalls in filling authorized positions. IJ hiring time improved dramatically in FY 2018 and FY 2019, with EOIR hiring 81 and 92 IJs respectively during each fiscal year, and recent hiring time has been reduced to generally six to eight months for IJs hired under the new process. Although the initial impact of recent adjustments to the hiring process have been positive, EOIR and the Department continue to take steps to improve internal hiring processes. Additionally, IJ retirements and separations were higher in FY 2017, FY 2018 and FY 2019 than in prior years. Although EOIR has hired more IJs in the past two-plus fiscal years than it hired in the previous seven fiscal years combined, a concerted effort to hire rapidly needs to continue to ameliorate the lower staffing levels resulting from years of relying on a complex and lengthy process.

Second, as referenced above, IJ attrition poses potential difficulties for increasing adjudicative capacity. The typical attrition rate for the previous seven fiscal years was roughly 12 judges a year. However, 21 IJs separated from EOIR in FY 2017; and 23 separated in FY 2018. Furthermore, with 33 percent of IJs currently eligible to retire, the attrition rate may very likely rise in the coming months and years, further exacerbating staffing challenges.

Third, the current case management system (CASE) is a fragmented, paper-based system. For years, EOIR has been planning to upgrade CASE to a single, electronic platform for all aspects of case management. However, a new system had not yet been fully deployed. EOIR began developing an EOIR Court and Appeals Systems (ECAS) pilot in late FY 2017 and deployed the pilot in the summer and fall of 2018. EOIR has begun the nationwide rollout in FY 2020.

External Challenges

EOIR faces three prominent external challenges: (1) increased illegal immigration flows; (2) the continuing residual impact of the 2014 and 2016 border surges and EOIR's responses to those surges and (3) court rulings on immigration matters which either temporarily or permanently impact government operations. Increased illegal immigration flows, particularly of family units, unaccompanied alien children, and putative asylum seekers from Central America, have led to a substantial increase in new case filings by DHS. Approximately 315,000 new receipts were filed with EOIR during FY 2018, an average of about 26,000 cases per month. In FY 2019, nearly 500,000 new cases were filed, an average of over 41,000 per month. The already large pending caseload has increased dramatically in this new enforcement environment, now reaching just over 1 million cases as of the end of FY 2019. Finally, federal court rulings may have various impacts such as making it more difficult to complete certain cases, thus increasing budgetary requirements if the new case law requires new financial obligations, etc. In turn, such rulings may result in a rate of increase in the pending caseload.

The residual impact of cases generated by the border surges in the summer of 2014 and in 2016 continues to impact EOIR's pending caseload. This surge included an increase in both unaccompanied children and adults with children, and cases involving children tend to take longer to resolve, as their cases often require continuances.

The program requirements for increases in the number of immigration judges and support staff assumes that immigration adjudication trends in FY 2021 will be largely similar to FY 2017, other than a sustained decrease in the utilization of administrative closure, stemming from DHS's movement away from the practice of exercising prosecutorial discretion to close cases and new EOIR policies. EOIR used input from DHS and recent trends to approximate the expected levels for case receipts in FY 2021. Assuming current hiring trends and policies, even with these program increases EOIR expects the pending caseload to continue growing in the immediate future, with full effects of the staffing increase only being realized after about six to seven years.

A. Program Description

Under the direction of the EOIR Director and Deputy Director, the following components conduct adjudicative proceedings:

Adjudicative Components

- Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) – The BIA hears appeals of decisions of immigration judges (IJs) and certain decisions of officers of DHS in a wide variety of proceedings in which the Government of the United States is one party and the other party is an alien, a citizen, permanent resident, or a transportation carrier. The BIA exercises independent judgment in hearing appeals for the Attorney General and provides a nationally uniform application of the immigration laws. The majority of cases before the BIA involve appeals from orders of EOIR’s immigration judges entered in immigration proceedings.

Appeals of decisions of DHS officers, reviewed by the BIA, principally involve appeals from familial visa petition denials and decisions involving administrative fines on transportation carriers. The BIA also issues decisions relating to the EOIR Attorney Discipline Program.

BIA decisions are binding on immigration judges and all DHS officers unless modified or overruled by the Attorney General or a Federal Court. Certain BIA decisions that the BIA designates as precedent decisions apply to immigration cases nationwide. Through precedent decisions, the BIA provides guidance to immigration judges, DHS, and the general public on the proper interpretation and administration of the immigration laws and regulations. The BIA is the highest administrative tribunal for interpreting and applying U.S. immigration law.

The BIA plays the major role in interpreting the immigration laws of the country in an area of law the courts have characterized as uniquely complex. A challenge for the BIA is to maintain a high-volume administrative caseload while addressing the differing issues associated with the law of eleven different circuits and the Supreme Court.

- Office of the Chief Immigration Judge (OCIJ) – The OCIJ oversees the administration of approximately 69 immigration courts located throughout the United States and exercises administrative supervision over EOIR employees, including immigration judges, assigned to those courts. The OCIJ develops policies and procedures for immigration proceedings throughout the immigration court system. The IJs in OCIJ preside over administrative court proceedings, called removal proceedings, to determine whether foreign-born individuals, who are charged by DHS with violating immigration law, should be ordered removed from the United States or should be granted relief or protection from removal and be permitted to remain in this country. Generally, IJs determine removability and adjudicate applications for relief from removal such as cancellation of removal, adjustment of status, asylum, or waivers of removability. Custody redetermination hearings are held when an alien in DHS custody seeks a reduction in the bond amount set by DHS, or a release on his or her own recognizance.

With respect to criminal alien adjudications, the Institutional Hearing Program (IHP)³ provides the framework for hearings to determine the immigration status of aliens convicted of offenses who are incarcerated in federal, state, and local prisons across the United States. EOIR’s IHP is designed to expedite the removal of criminal aliens and involves close coordination with DHS, the Bureau of Prisons, and state and local corrections authorities.

The Chief Immigration Judge provides overall program direction, articulates policy, and establishes priorities for the immigration judges located in courts throughout the United States. The Chief Immigration Judge carries out these responsibilities with the assistance of Deputy and Assistant Chief Immigration Judges; offices such as the Chief Clerk’s Office and Language Services Unit assist with coordinating management and operation of the immigration courts.

- Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (OCAHO) – The OCAHO adjudicates cases involving illegal hiring and employment eligibility verification violations (“employer sanctions”), document fraud, and employment discrimination under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). The OCAHO is headed by a Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (CAHO) who provides overall program direction and management, articulates and develops policies and procedures, establishes priorities, assigns cases, and administers the hearing process presided over by Administrative Law Judges (ALJs). The CAHO also reviews decisions and orders issued by OCAHO ALJs in employer sanctions and document fraud cases, and may modify, vacate, or remand those decisions and orders.

OCAHO employs ALJs appointed pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 3105 to adjudicate cases arising under Sections 274A, 274B, and 274C of the INA. Section 274A provides for sanctions (civil penalties and injunctive relief) against employers or entities who: (1) knowingly hire, recruit, or refer for a fee, or continue to employ, unauthorized aliens; (2) fail to comply with employment eligibility verification requirements; or (3) require the execution of an indemnity bond by employees to protect the employer or entity from potential liability for unlawful employment practices. Section 274B prohibits employment discrimination based on national origin or citizenship status and provides for civil penalties and various equitable remedies. Section 274C provides civil penalties for immigration-related document fraud. Adjudicative proceedings are initiated by complaints filed with OCAHO by DHS (in Section 274A and Section 274C cases), or the Immigrant and Employee Rights (IER) section in the Civil Rights Division, and/or aggrieved private parties and entities (in section 274B cases).

Parties may seek administrative reviews of ALJ decisions in INA Sections 274A and 274C cases, or the CAHO may review such decisions on his or her own initiative, and may affirm, modify, vacate, and/or remand such decisions. Unless the case is certified to the Attorney General, the CAHO's decision on review constitutes the final agency action with respect to these cases. Appeals from final OCAHO decisions are brought before the U.S. circuit courts of appeal.

Map of the Immigration Courts

Non-Adjudicative Components

A number of other Headquarters offices also provide EOIR-wide mission support:

- Office of the Director – In addition to the Director, Deputy Director, Chief of Staff, and senior advisors, the Office of the Director includes the Equal Employment Opportunity Office, the Ombuds, and the Planning, Analysis, and Statistics Division. These offices provide mission support to the Office of the Director by (1) ensuring equality and diversity in the work place; (2) providing oversight of certain pilot programs and initiatives; (3) overseeing the strategic management process; (4) conducting research, evaluation, and statistical analysis; (5) expanding analytics capacity to meet the demand for advances and predictive analysis; and (6) enhancing data quality and governance to quickly and effectively mitigate any data quality issues in the field.
- Office of the General Counsel (OGC) – Provides legal advice on a wide variety of matters involving EOIR employees in the performance of their official duties. OGC staff handle employee labor relations issues, review and prosecute complaints involving attorney misconduct, and coordinate and respond to requests for assistance involving immigration fraud. OGC also coordinates development of agency regulations and forms; provides litigation support to U.S. Attorneys, the Civil Division’s Office of Immigration Litigation, and the Solicitor General’s Office; coordinates inter-agency activities; and responds to all Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and Privacy Act requests.
- Office of Policy (OP) – Centralizes coordination between the components on a number of policy projects and issues, including policy development, communications, strategic planning, training, and legal updates. This new office (1) identifies, develops, drafts, standardizes, and communicates agency priorities and policies; (2) oversees and standardizes the EOIR regulatory process; (3) coordinates all legal training and related resources; and (4) oversees legal access programs.

- Office of Administration (OA) – Provides administrative and managerial support in several areas concerning financial management or special emphasis and compliance programs. Specifically, OA supports the following areas: budget and financial management, contracts and procurement, human resources, space and facilities management, and security.
- Office of Information Technology (OIT) – Responsible for the design, development, operations, and maintenance of the complete range of information technology systems supporting EOIR’s day-to-day operations. OIT manages programs such as EOIR’s current multi-year effort to modernize the case management and related electronic systems that support EOIR’s mission. The ECAS program has been established to modernize these systems and reduce maintenance costs through phased elimination of paper filings and processing and retaining all records and documents in electronic form. OIT has also improved EOIR’s IT security posture by leveraging staff resources and refining internal change management processes, positioning EOIR as one of the Department’s cybersecurity leaders.

Adjudication of Immigration Cases

Immigration Court Proceedings Overview: DHS initiates all cases before the immigration courts by charging an individual with potential grounds of removability and issuing an NTA in Immigration Court under §240 of the INA (8 U.S.C. 1229a).

Immigration judges (IJs) are responsible for conducting formal immigration court proceedings. In removal proceedings, IJs determine whether an individual from a foreign country (an alien) should be allowed to enter or remain in the United States or should be removed. IJs also have jurisdiction to consider various forms of relief or protection from removal. If the IJ finds the individual to be removable as charged, the individual can then request several different forms of relief or protection from removal such as asylum and withholding of removal (including protection under the Convention Against Torture), cancellation of removal, voluntary departure, or other forms of relief or protection from removal. IJ decisions are administratively final unless appealed or certified to the BIA.

Some removal proceedings are conducted in prisons and jails as part of the Institutional Hearing Program. In coordination with DHS and correctional authorities across the country, IJs conduct hearings to adjudicate the immigration status of alien inmates while they are serving sentences for criminal convictions.

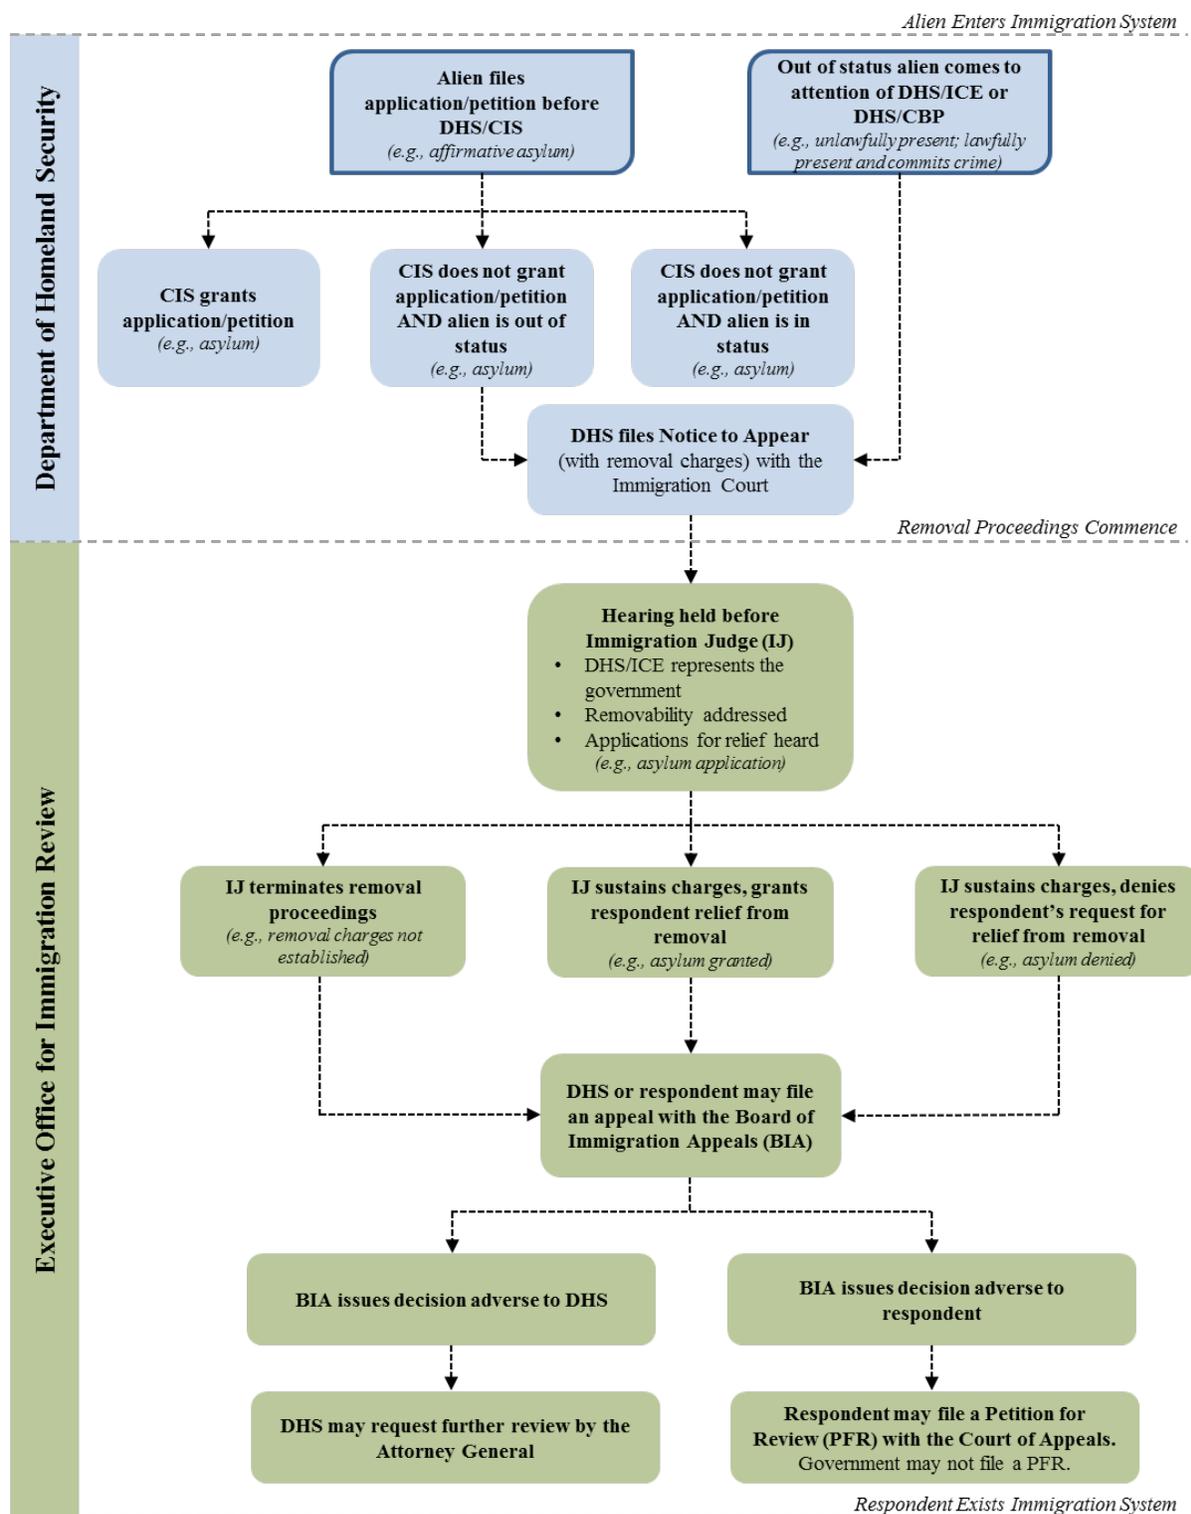

Appellate Review: In most appeals to the BIA, the process begins with filing a notice of appeal challenging an IJ decision. The appeal can be filed either by the alien or the Government (represented by DHS’s ICE).

When an appeal is filed by either party, the BIA acknowledges receipt of the appeal, transcribes the proceedings (where appropriate), and sets a briefing schedule to allow both parties to present their arguments. Once briefing concludes, the appeal is adjudicated by a panel of one, three, or all Board Members.

If the decision is not published, the decision is binding only on the parties. If the BIA elects to publish the decision, it becomes legal precedent and is binding nationwide. The BIA's decision will stand unless and until modified or overruled by the Attorney General, a Federal Court, or the BIA itself.

The following flow chart details examples of paths to and through removal proceedings.

EXAMPLE PATHS TO AND THROUGH REMOVAL PROCEEDINGS

OCAHO Administrative Hearings: OCAHO cases begin with the filing of a complaint, either by the DHS/ICE, in employer sanctions and document fraud cases under INA §§ 274A and 274C, respectively, or by private individuals or entities and/or the Civil Rights Division's IER Section in immigration-related employment discrimination cases under INA § 274B. After the complaint is filed, the respondent is given an opportunity to file an answer. Following the answer, the parties typically file prehearing statements, undertake discovery, and participate in one or more telephonic prehearing conferences with the ALJ. Parties may also engage in settlement negotiations and file dispositive motions with the ALJ. Cases that are not resolved or dismissed proceed to a formal evidentiary hearing, typically held near where the parties reside or the alleged violation(s) occurred. Final decisions and orders issued by the ALJ in employer sanctions and document fraud cases are reviewable by the CAHO and/or the Attorney General. Once a final agency decision has been issued, a party may file an appeal with the appropriate federal circuit court of appeals. Final ALJ decisions in immigration-related employment discrimination cases are not reviewable by the CAHO or the Attorney General; rather, these decisions may be appealed directly to the appropriate federal circuit court of appeals.

C. Performance, Resources, and Strategies

EOIR’s adjudication functions are part of the Government’s broader immigration and border control programs. As such, EOIR’s ability to adjudicate cases involving individuals housed in DHS detention space in a timely fashion allows EOIR to aid in the efficient utilization of DHS detention space. The guarantee of fairness and due process, including for those individuals in detention, remains a cornerstone of our judicial system, and EOIR’s role in granting relief from removal in meritorious cases, and in the denial of relief from removal in others, helps assure the integrity of the overall process.

a. Performance Plan and Report for Outcomes

For the immigration courts, EOIR set the following goal:

A clearance rate for I-862 case types (removal, exclusion, and deportation). EOIR is establishing a baseline measure for this measure in FY 2018, so that outyear targets can be established. In order to develop these percentages, EOIR estimated the number of receipts that result from NTAs filed by DHS (denominator) and the number of completions it projects (numerator). EOIR has no control over the number of NTAs filed by DHS. EOIR controls only the numerator in calculating the clearance rate, and DHS controls the denominator. Thus, any projected clearance rate could be significantly different from the final actual number based on variations in new cases filed by DHS.

The performance measure for OCAHO is:

90 percent of employer sanctions (INA 274A), immigration-related unfair employment practices (INA 274B), and immigration-related document fraud (INA 274C) cases completed within the established timeframe for each case type (430 days, 500 days, and 750 days, respectively).

EOIR established these metrics during the development of the Department of Justice (DOJ) Strategic Plan for FY 2018 – 2022. As such, EOIR spent FY 2018 developing a methodology for appropriately measuring clearance rate and beginning to benchmark.

Through July 1, 2019, OCIJ and OCAHO are meeting the aforementioned performance targets.

b. Strategies to Accomplish Outcomes

Ongoing Efforts to Achieve EOIR Success

DOJ's Department of Justice Strategic Plan for 2018-2022 describes the agency's priorities over the next five years. Within the DOJ Strategic Plan, EOIR aligns with Goal 2: Secure the Borders and Enhance Immigration Enforcement and Adjudication. Under Goal 2, it addresses Objective 2.2: Ensure an immigration system that respects the rule of law, protects the safety of U.S. Citizens and serves the national interest. The performance measures listed above and the strategies that follow directly support achievement of this objective. During this period, EOIR will continue to work to reduce EOIR's pending caseload, make proper decisions, better enable the EOIR mission, and provide superior stewardship.

EOIR is undertaking several efforts to increase adjudicative capacity and help reduce the pending caseload. In addition to EOIR's continued focus on hiring all authorized positions to fill existing vacancies, EOIR is making ongoing efforts to maximize existing resources and eliminate agency inefficiencies. These ongoing efforts include making docket adjustments to reflect enforcement priorities, developing and implementing a workforce staffing model, opening new courts, leveraging existing IT systems, emphasizing policy coordination and analysis, and making the IJ hiring process more efficient.

Filling Existing Vacancies

EOIR's continued focus on filling existing vacancies has helped increase adjudicative capacity over the last several years. Despite this increase in adjudicative capacity and EOIR's continued efforts to hire new IJs, the pending caseload continues to grow. To successfully decrease the pending caseload to a manageable level, EOIR requires additional authorized IJs and support staff.

Docket Adjustments

EOIR continues to make docket adjustments and prioritize certain case types to reflect the shifts in enforcement priorities. EOIR will continue engaging with Federal partners to gauge the impact of enforcement activities, migratory patterns, and other factors that affect the immigration courts and adjust dockets and resource allocations accordingly.

New and Expanded Court Locations

Over the last few years EOIR has added space in some existing locations, and expanded its number of locations. In October 2018, EOIR opened a video teleconferencing (VTC)-only adjudication center. Additionally, new courts opened in 2018 and 2019, including ones in LaSalle, LA, Van Nuys, CA, Atlanta, GA, and Sacramento, CA. By expanding available court space as the IJ corps expands, EOIR will be able to hear a greater volume of cases, reducing the backlog more quickly.

Leveraging Existing IT Systems

To maximize the capacity of immigration courts nationwide, EOIR has made greater use of VTC systems, which enable IJs to adjudicate cases in other parts of the country. This has multiple benefits. IJs in locations with a lower caseload can administer cases in higher-volume locations remotely. IJs are able to adjudicate certain detained and Institutional Hearing Program (IHP) cases remotely, diminishing the challenges associated with reaching DHS and Federal facilities that are not co-located with immigration courts. All courtrooms and many conference rooms are now equipped with VTC capability. Additionally, EOIR has successfully upgraded the Digital Audio Recording systems in 413 courtrooms. The touch panel and modernized audio-processing components will provide courtroom users with enhanced phone controls, video teleconference capabilities, and simultaneous interpretation controls. Looking forward, EOIR is using analytics to explore how VTC use could minimize the number of underutilized courtrooms.

In addition, EOIR continues to strive to modernize and digitize its critical information systems. The benefits of an electronic filing and case management system are undisputed. A fully electronic system will improve case scheduling and adjudication efficiency, reduce time spent on administrative tasks related to paper files, and free additional space to be used for additional staff or court expansion. In 2018 EOIR piloted its new electronic filing system, ECAS, at five immigration courts and the BIA with encouraging results, and has now been launched to three additional courts, for a total of eight locations as of the end of CY 2019. As of January 23, 2020, nearly 13,000 attorneys have registered to use ECAS so far, over 306,300 documents have been uploaded, over 60,150 electronic records of proceeding (eROP) have been created, and approximately 275 EOIR users have been trained. Although the lapse in appropriations during FY 2019 and the delay in receiving FY 2019 funding delayed the nationwide rollout of ECAS until the beginning of FY 2020, EOIR remains confident that with continued support it can realize its goal of a fully electronic and integrated filing and case management system.

Policy Coordination and Analysis

EOIR is reviewing and finalizing its internal FY 2019 – FY 2023 Strategic Plan, which complements the DOJ Strategic Plan for FY 2018 – FY 2022. In addition to process improvement, technology, and communication strategies, this plan will include strategies to ensure that short- and long-term human capital needs are met, particularly as they relate to the IJ hiring process and immigration court staffing and resourcing requirements. An implementation plan will accompany the strategic plan and will define the metrics for monitoring and evaluating progress toward meeting the agency’s goals. OCIJ and BIA are also examining activities critical to case completion and the amount of time required for staff to complete these activities thoroughly. This analysis will help inform potential policy, process, and/or role changes to increase the number of cases adjudicated while maintaining due process.

Further, on January 17, 2018, EOIR Director McHenry released a “Case Priorities and Immigration Court Performance Measures” memorandum to announce a series of immigration court performance measures. These measures will help determine which courts are operating in a healthy and efficient manner, and which courts may be in need of more specialized attention in the form of additional resources, training, court management, creative thinking and planning, and/or other action as appropriate. Establishing measures provides a framework to consider how day-to-day activities can be streamlined to improve efficiency, while maintaining due process.

Improving the IJ Hiring Process

EOIR and DOJ continue to take steps to reduce the timeline to hire and on-board new IJs. The Department implemented a new, streamlined hiring plan, announced by the Attorney General during a speech on April 11, 2017. It retains the same degree of rigorous vetting as before, but aims to reduce the timeline an application is pending before the agency.

The revised process: 1) sets clear deadlines for assessing applicants at each stage of the process and for making decisions to move them to the next stage; 2) eliminates steps that did not aid or advance the selection process; and 3) allows for temporary appointments pending full background investigations, which can often take several months to a year to complete. The new process aims to reduce the amount of time that it takes to recommend applicants for appointment to six months or less.

Due to this effort, in August 2018, EOIR was able to hold the largest investiture of immigration judges since at least 2010, with hiring times for IJs hired under the new process reduced by approximately 50 percent from the previous year. EOIR hired 81 new IJs in FY 2018, 92 new IJs in FY 2019 and by the end of the FY, had hired a total 216 new IJs since January 20, 2017. EOIR has been able to clear a new IJ to start in as little as 150 days and to onboard a new IJ in as little as 195 days, which is a 74 percent reduction in hiring time compared to a GAO report on the subject. Moving forward, EOIR will continue to assess the hiring process and identify any areas for improvement.

Immigration Judge (IJ) Hiring

In addition to increasing the number of IJs, EOIR is working to help those IJs improve their efficiency. To further reduce the backlog of cases, the Department has implemented new measures for immigration courts and immigration judges to assess their efficiency, ensure the quality of operations and decision making, and to better identify and address where problem area may lie in the overall court process.

As of the end of FY 2019, there were 442 IJs on board, but with those increased IJs the number of cases has also increased. The current caseload has more than quintupled since FY 2008 and more than tripled since FY 2012. After eight consecutive years of declining or stagnant productivity between FY 2009 and FY 2016, EOIR is now in the middle of its third consecutive year of increased immigration court case completions. In FY 2018, immigration judges completed almost 200,000 initial cases, a 20 percent increase over FY 2017 and the highest number of case completions since FY 2011, and by the end of FY 2019, EOIR completed more cases than at any time in its history. These results are a testament to the professionalism and dedication of EOIR's immigration judge corps and a direct refutation of critics who intimate that immigration judges lack the integrity or competence to resolve cases in both a timely and impartial manner as required by law.

V. Program Increases

Item Name: Immigration Judges and Support

Strategic Goal: 2
Strategic Objective: 2.2
Budget Decision Unit: EOIR
Organizational Program: Immigration Adjudications

Program Increase: Positions [600] Agt/Atty 300 FTE [300] Dollars $106,628,000

Description of Item

The request provides $106.6 million, which will enable EOIR to add 100 new immigration judges (IJs), for a total of 734 authorized IJs, and necessary support staff. Each IJ is supported by: one attorney position, one legal assistant; and up to two other FTE comprised of a combination of the following positions on an as-needed basis: additional legal assistant, interpreter, and/or other EOIR mission support staff. Some support positions may also go to headquarters to support the growth of immigration courts.

EOIR is also requesting 100 additional attorney positions, which will be judicial law clerks (JLC). EOIR intends to increase the use of JLCs as part of a broader effort to manage pending caseload more effectively. With a higher ratio of JLCs to IJs, EOIR will be able to issue more written decisions rather than relying on oral decisions, which can require more time in court and can increase the time it takes to close a case. Although EOIR's current IJ team cost module includes one JLC for each IJ, historically the JLCs were not matched to IJs in a one-to-one ratio. The additional attorney positions requested this year for JLCs will move EOIR towards a one-to-one ratio.

This program increase also includes funding for the necessary corresponding courtrooms, office space, and associated expenses (e.g. interpreter services, furniture, equipment). For the first time in recent years EOIR has also updated its cost module to include additional funding for guard services – historically as EOIR acquired new space it was in existing buildings, and the associated security cost increases were minimal. At this time, EOIR is opening new locations and, with new locations, EOIR has larger initial and out-year costs for guard services. Finally, this program increase updates the cost module to account for certain out-year costs stemming from IJ increases as well as the changing immigration climate over recent fiscal years. These are ancillary costs whose impact was unknown at the time of the previous budget requests. This includes the costs of processing FOIA requests, BIA transcriptions and certifications, and costs associated with the National Qualified Representative Program.

At this time, EOIR is not requesting an increase of 600 positions and 300 FTE that would typically be concurrent with the request for a funding increase associated with 100 IJs, 400 supporting personnel and 100 additional attorneys. During the period after the Budget Control Act was enacted and later sequestration occurred, as with many federal agencies, EOIR's funding was reduced. However, the authorized number of positions in EOIR's base was not similarly reduced, leading to an imbalance in funded positions. Since that time, many DOJ components and other federal agencies have adjusted their authorized personnel levels so that the funded level more appropriately aligns to the authorized level. EOIR has not made that adjustment and recommends doing so at this time. By providing the appropriate funding for these additional 600 positions but not increasing EOIR's authorized positions or FTE level, this request will enable EOIR align its funding resources to the appropriate authorized personnel level.

Despite the lack of requested additional positions, EOIR understands that this program increase would designate 300 of the existing positions as attorneys (100 as IJs, 100 attorneys in the IJ cost module, and 100 additional attorneys to increase the use of JLCs).

Justification

EOIR must increase the number of immigration judges as the pending caseload has been steadily increasing since FY 2006, hitting a new high of nearly 1,050,000 at the end of FY 2019, and as a result the time it takes to close a case has increased. Recently, this caseload increase has been exacerbated by the increase in the number of new NTAs that DHS files before the immigration court. Over the course of FY 2017, DHS filed nearly 300,000 NTAs, representing a greater than 25 percent increase in new case receipts over FY 2016; DHS further increased that pace in FY 2018 and FY 2019, filing over 315,000 in FY 2018 and over 492,000 in FY 2019. Without corresponding increases in resources, combined with process improvements, EOIR will not be able to successfully manage the incoming caseload.

As caseload has grown, processing time has increased. Certain typically lengthy applications, like asylum, have increased. Conversely, voluntary departure, a relatively speedier process, has decreased. These findings are also supported by the 2017 GAO report Actions Needed to Reduce Case Backlog and Address Long-Standing Management and Operational Challenges, which notes that the 23 percent increase in continuances from FY 2006 to FY 2015 has lengthened case processing time.

EOIR must also increase the number of JLCs to account for increases in caseload, processing time, change of venues (COV) and transfers, coupled with a decrease in the proportion of typically quick cases. JLCs are a vital component of the immigration court system. JLCs conduct research, assist with legal analysis, and conduct initial legal drafting in support of IJs as IJs adjudicate cases. Currently, EOIR has a model of approximately one JLC to support every two IJs. This program request will enable EOIR to move to a ratio of one JLC to one IJ, with a focus on ensuring IJs currently without a full-time JLC are assigned coverage by a JLC. With a higher ratio of JLCs to IJs, EOIR will be able to issue more written decisions, rather than the immigration courts current reliance on oral decisions. An increase in written decisions and the use of JLCs would reduce the amount of time IJs spend on reviewing, editing, and preparing written decisions themselves. Furthermore, oral decisions require the IJ to call respondents back into the courtroom, using up valuable calendar time, whereas written decisions do not require respondents be present in the courtroom. In addition to helping with written decisions, an increase in available JLCs would also provide broader benefits with respect to managing an IJ's overall workload.

Beginning with the FY15 appropriation, EOIR's authorized number of IJs has increased dramatically each year, growing from the 284 authorized in FY14, to the 725 requested for FY21. This increase of 450 IJ positions over seven fiscal years marks an increase of almost 260 percent or growth by more than two and a half times the original authorized level of IJs. While the cost modules associated with the IJ teams have included funding for a variety of direct needs (support staff, equipment, furniture, and space) some of the related indirect out-year costs were either too far in the future to be appropriately estimated, or were direct results of the changing immigration climate across the recent years. In effect, each IJ has been a force multiplier in terms of addressing the case backlog, but that same multiplier effect has also led to out-year downstream cost increases for (1) increased FOIA requests and the staff needed to process those requests; and (2) case transcription, certification, and staff at the BIA. At this time, in order to appropriately fund the out year work generated by the increased number of IJs both past and present, EOIR is updating the cost module to include funding for these costs.

Impact on Performance

This program increase directly supports current EOIR strategic initiatives to increase adjudicatory capacity and case processing capacity, and EOIR's overall mission. EOIR estimates that each IJ and support staff could help reduce the pending caseload by approximately one percentage point once it is fully staffed and operational. Due to the robust IJ hiring process and the six- to twelve-month timeline for new IJs to begin hearing cases at a rate as efficiently as experienced IJs, this program increase will not affect performance immediately but rather over the course of the next several years. However, with a sustained commitment to increasing the number of IJs and the number of IJ support staff including JLCs, EOIR will be able to decrease the pending caseload and reduce the amount of time respondents must wait until their case is heard.

This initiative also ties directly to DOJ Strategic Goal 2, "Secure the Borders and Enhance Immigration Enforcement and Adjudication," and Objective 2.2, to "ensure an immigration system that respects the rule of law, protects the safety of U.S. Citizens and serves the national interest." Specifically, this initiative would advance strategies four, to "improve fair and timely adjudication of immigration cases in the administrative immigration courts."

Item Name: Information Technology Modernization

Strategic Goal: 2
Strategic Objective: 2.2
Budget Decision Unit: EOIR
Organizational Program: Office of Information Technology

Program Increase: Positions 0 Agt/Atty 0 FTE 0 Dollars $28,400,000

Description of Item

The IT Modernization program increase will be used to improve immigration court business processes in an effort to increase efficiencies in immigration proceedings, thus reducing the time and effort required to process cases. This will be accomplished by:

1. Application Modernization

a. Application improvements to EOIR’s Electronic Record of Proceeding (eROP) and Electronic Filing (eFiling) applications

The eROP and eFiling applications provide management of electronic records, including the submission of electronic court related documents. OIT has identified the need for application architecture and development improvements related to these two applications. These improvements are intended to reduce document scanning and upload time as well as improve the system’s handling of larger documents. Additional development is also required for these applications to support the EOIR appeal processes.

b. Application improvements to EOIR’s Judicial Tools suite

The Judicial Tools application suite provides management of day-to-day court operations as well as providing immigration judges with multiple tools such as calendar management, PDF document annotation, and electronic signature capabilities.

c. Improvements to the EOIR Data Connector (EDC)

The EDC provides a single point of reference for all EOIR business unit data sets. The EDC also provides a common framework for accessing internal application data. Additional development is needed to create application program interfaces (APIs) for older applications that need to share or consume data. This connector must continue to be updated as other applications are improved and new applications or functions within existing applications are introduced into the environment.

2. Application development of EOIR’s Case Management System (CMS)

This application will replace the current EOIR CASE application. The current application was developed utilizing Cold Fusion technology and is outdated, inefficient, and cumbersome to manage. The new CMS application is being designed with a focus on business process and digital records in order to maximize efficiencies. The new CMS application will have a robust API designed to work within the EDC framework.

3. EOIR Record Digitization

Previous efforts of digitizing court records have been focused on the digitization of new records. EOIR courts currently experience space and facilities related issue due to the amount of paper records that are required to be maintained at the court location until they are permitted to be moved into the federal records center. In order to maximize efficiencies of new applications and provide the biggest benefit to the immigration courts, all of these records must be digitized and the data must be extracted and ingested into the existing ECAS data set.

Justification

This funding is required in order to assist in the improvement of the current immigration court business process. Improving these business processes will result in the ability to process additional cases, thus reducing the current immigration case backlog. The new CMS application will aid in improving these processes and will allow EOIR to phase out the legacy CASE system which is built on outdated technology and is difficult to maintain.

Additionally, the current paper based processes are unnecessarily cumbersome and this funding would allow EOIR to digitize legacy court records and implement system improvements that would eliminate the need for these processes, such as the tagging and tracking of court records. This would free up court staff to focus on other tasks.

Impact on Performance

With this additional funding, EOIR Office of Information Technology (OIT) will be able to digitize legacy records and continue improving/developing the applications that will be needed to implement an efficient, paperless, immigration court process. Additionally, by working to speed implementation of a new CMS, EOIR minimizes the sunk costs expended on maintaining the legacy system.

Item Name: Unified Immigration Portal

Strategic Goal: 2
Strategic Objective: 2.2
Budget Decision Unit: EOIR
Organizational Program: Immigration Adjudications

Program Increase: Positions 0 Agt/Atty 0 FTE 0 Dollars $2,000,000

Description of Item

The request provides $2 million, which will enable EOIR to participate in the multi-agency Unified Immigration Portal (UIP) initiative led by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). The UIP initiative aims to ensure consistent government-wide immigration data standards, to give immigration data stakeholders access to relevant data from across the government. This will be accomplished, in this instance, by improving DHS-DOJ system to system communication. The objective of system to system communication is to provide comprehensive immigration data, as appropriate, to both DHS and DOJ instead of each agency retaining only a portion of the relevant data.

Under the UIP initiative, each component involved in the immigration process will publish standardized data from an immigration encounter to a single “ledger” at the same time the data is entered into the agency’s system. The UIP will then provide authorized agencies insight into encounters within their domain recorded to the “ledger” in real-time. This federated approach to sharing encounters, or “ledger entries” will replace the need for agencies to initiate queries of numerous systems every time an immigration encounter occurs. Encounters will be transparently recorded to the “ledger” in real time as individuals progress through the immigration system. This approach will also allow agencies to focus solely on encounters that will be recorded as “ledger entries” instead of focusing on negotiating and developing numerous interagency agreements, interconnection security agreements, and interfaces.

The UIP will ultimately help to better track individuals as they move through the immigration journey, improve compliance (e.g. recording custodial actions, determining Time in Custody, etc.), and improve access to information, as appropriate, for agencies involved in immigration.

Justification

Although the UIP is largely a tool to assist DHS in its tracking and management of immigration encounters, in order to be successful, DHS entities need access to EOIR data. Creating a more streamlined system of data access will save staff time for EOIR employees so that they can instead focus on other high priority data and information requests. At the same time, DHS will continue to have access to timely data so as to improve their business management efforts. EOIR requires $2 million for this effort to build out the data connectors from the existing EOIR systems to appropriately communicate with the new interagency portal.

Impact on Performance

With this additional funding, EOIR Office of Information Technology (OIT) will be better able to collaborate with DHS counterparts to integrate their respective identity management, data structures and computer networking systems. Prior to completing the UIP project, DHS and DOJ will need to determine what data is retained in each system, what entities require access to which data elements and the mechanisms that need to be developed to securely exchange data.
