

FOREIGN CLAIMS SETTLEMENT COMMISSION
OF THE UNITED STATES
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20579

IN THE MATTER OF THE CLAIM OF

FAUSTINA DEL COLLADO

Under the International Claims Settlement
Act of 1949, as amended

Claim No. CU-3339

Decision No. CU 1085

PROPOSED DECISION

This claim against the Government of Cuba, under Title V of the International Claims Settlement Act of 1949, as amended, in the amount of $33,622.42, was presented by FAUSTINA DEL COLLADO, and is based upon the asserted loss of real property and personal property located in Havana, Cuba. Claimant states that she has been a national of the United States since her naturalization on May 6, 1963.

Under Title V of the International Claims Settlement Act of 1949 [78 Stat. 1110 (1964) 22 U.S.C. §§1643-1643k (1964), as amended, 79 Stat. 988 (1965)]⁷, the Commission is given jurisdiction over claims of nationals of the United States against the Government of Cuba. Section 503(a) of the Act provides that the Commission shall receive and determine in accordance with applicable substantive law, including international law, the amount and validity of claims by national of the United States against the Government of Cuba arising since January 1, 1959 for losses resulting from the nationalization, expropriation, intervention or other taking of, or special measures directed against, property including any rights or interests therein owned wholly or partially, directly or indirectly at the time by nationals of the United States.

Section 502(3) of the Act provides:

The term 'property' means any property, right or interest including any leasehold interest, and debts owed by the Government of Cuba or by enterprises which have been nationalized, expropriated, intervened, or taken by the Government of Cuba and debts which are a charge on property which has been nationalized, expropriated, intervened, or taken by the Government of Cuba.

Section 504 of the Act provides, as to ownership of claims, that

(a) A claim shall not be considered under Section 503(a) of this title unless the property on which the claim was based was owned wholly or partially, directly or indirectly by a national of the United States on the date of the loss and if considered shall be considered only to the extent the claim has been held by one or more nationals of the United States continuously thereafter until the date of filing with the Commission.

Section 502(1) of the Act defines the term "national of the United States" to mean "(A) a natural person who is a citizen of the United States." The term does not include aliens.

Thus, in order for the Commission to favorably consider claims under Section 503(a) of Title V of the Act, it must be established (1) that the subject property was owned in whole or in part by a national of the United States on the date of nationalization or other taking; and (2) that the claim arising as a result of such nationalization or other taking has been continuously owned thereafter in whole or in part by a national or nationals of the United States to the date of filing with the Commission.

Claimant asserts that she was the owner of two lots of unimproved realty located in Havana, Cuba. She also asserts a part ownership interest in a house located in Havana, Cuba, as well as ownership of furnishings situated therein. Claimant contends that with respect to the house and the furnishings therein, a loss occurred on December 23, 1965 when her niece and her husband, who had been residing in the house, departed for the United States. The only evidence submitted to establish the date of loss of the house and furnishings is claimant's own statements.

With respect to the two lots of unimproved realty, claimant states that she has no knowledge regarding the date of loss.

Under the provisions of Section 502(3), 503(a) and 504(a) of the Act, supra, not only should the claimant herein establish that she was the owner of interests in property, subject of her claim, but she must also establish that some measure depriving her of his interest therein was applied by the Government of Cuba not only after January 1, 1959, but subsequent to May 6, 1963, the date on which she acquired citizenship of the United States. This she has not done.

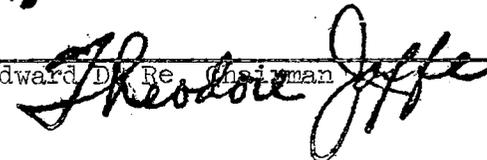

On the basis of the existing record, the Commission finds that claimant has failed to establish that the property, subject of this claim, was owned by a national of the United States on the date of loss, a requirement of Section 504(a) of the Act.

According, for the reasons stated above, the Commission concludes that this claim is not one within the purview of Title V of the Act, supra, and it is denied. The Commission deems it unnecessary to make specific findings with respect to other elements of this claim.
