

CRIMINAL INTELLIGENCE SHARING: PROTECTING PRIVACY, CIVIL RIGHTS, AND CIVIL LIBERTIES

April 12, 2011 ♦ Kansas City, Missouri

About the Training

In recent years, the importance of information sharing among the nation's law enforcement agencies has come to the forefront, particularly regarding criminal intelligence. This training is designed to enhance the sharing of information by examining 28 CFR Part 23—the federal guideline that governs the operation of federally funded criminal intelligence systems—presenting effective information sharing tools, and addressing the importance of privacy and civil liberties.

Who Should Attend

Agency-designated individuals responsible for the collection or management of criminal information are encouraged to attend this training.

Training Includes

- ♦ National information sharing trends
- ♦ Privacy and civil liberties issues
- ♦ Overview of 28 CFR Part 23

Instructors

Instruction will be provided by subject-matter experts with experience regarding law enforcement intelligence and privacy issues.
