Mission:

The COPS Office mission is to advance public safety through the practice of community policing. By proactively addressing the root causes of criminal and disorderly behavior, rather than simply responding to crimes once they have been committed, community policing concentrates on preventing both crime and the atmosphere of fear it creates. Community policing also promotes the use of operational strategies and the development of mutually beneficial relationships between law enforcement and the communities served. By earning community trust and making those individual community members stakeholders in their own safety, law enforcement can better understand and address the community's needs, and the factors that contribute to crime.

Organization:

The COPS Office is headed by a Director, who is appointed by the Attorney General. The COPS Office was established in 1994 to assist law enforcement agencies in enhancing public safety through the implementation of community policing strategies.

The FY 2017 budget request for COPS totals $286.0 million, which is a 34.9% increase over the FY 2016 Enacted.

Personnel:

COPS direct positions for FY 2017 total 188 positions, which is the same as FY 2016 Enacted.

Funding (FY 2014 - 2017)

Personnel (FY 2014 - 2017)

FY 2017 Strategy:

Over the past decade, the COPS Office programs and initiatives have provided funding to more than 13,000 of the nation's 16,000 law enforcement agencies. Approximately 81 percent of the nation's population is served by law enforcement agencies practicing community policing. To date the COPS Office has funded over 127,000 officers. With funding from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, the COPS Office ensured that over 4,736 additional law enforcement officer jobs were created or saved in law enforcement agencies across the country. The total number of officers funded from FY 2009 through 2015 was more than 10,000 between the COPS Office hiring and tribal law enforcement programs.

More than 700,000 law enforcement personnel and community members have been trained on community policing topics, including crime control strategies, police ethics and integrity, terrorism prevention and preparedness, school safety, partnership building, problem-solving and crime analysis.

In FY 2017, the COPS Office will continue to fulfill its mission of advancing the practice of community policing by:

- Funding additional officers to address community policing challenges;
- Continuing to support innovative programs that respond directly to the emerging needs of state, local, and tribal law enforcement. These innovative programs shift law enforcement's focus to preventing, rather than reacting to, crime and disorder;
- Developing state-of-the-art training and technical assistance to enhance law enforcement officers' problem-solving and community interaction skills;
- Promoting collaboration between law enforcement and community members to develop innovative initiatives to prevent crime;
- Providing responsive, cost-effective service delivery to the COPS Office's grantees to ensure successful implementation of community policing strategies; and
- Supporting evidence-based community policing practices that have proven to be effective, can be easily replicated by a broad cross-section of law enforcement agencies, and are sustainable.
