Mission:

INTERPOL Washington, the United States National Central Bureau (USNCB) is the statutorily designated representative to the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL) on behalf of the Attorney General. Its mission includes, but is not limited to, facilitating international police cooperation; transmitting information of a criminal justice, humanitarian and other law enforcement-related nature between U.S. law enforcement authorities and their foreign counterparts; and coordinating and integrating information in criminal investigations that serve to combat transnational crime and terrorism.

Organization:

USNCB is a component of the Department of Justice (DOJ), and is co-managed with the Department of Homeland Security pursuant to a memorandum of understanding. It is staffed by a multi-sector workforce consisting of permanent DOJ analysts, program managers, and administrative personnel; detailees (including the Director and Deputy Director) representing a variety of U.S. law enforcement agencies, and contractors. Personnel detailed to the USNCB are assigned to work in divisions dedicated to specific investigative areas including counterterrorism, drugs, economic crime, human trafficking, fugitives, and violent crime.

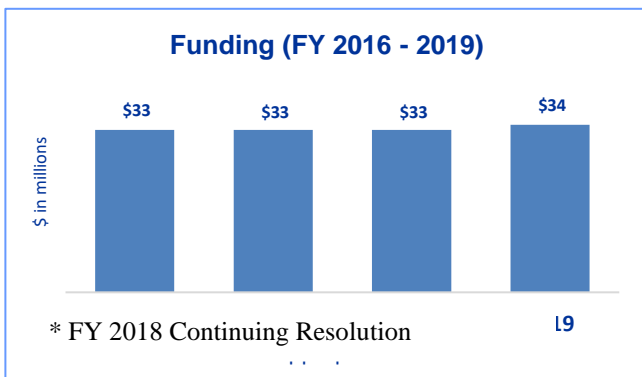

Operating 24/7/365, the USNCB has the sole responsibility for providing support to U.S. law enforcement, border security and immigration agencies on all matters pertaining to INTERPOL and its other 192 member countries. The USNCB also maintains the technical connection for all U.S. law enforcement agencies to the EUROPOL communication system.

Resources:

The FY 2019 budget request for USNCB totals $34.4 million, which is a 3.6% increase over the FY 2018 Continuing Resolution.

Personnel:

USNCB's direct positions for FY 2019 total 69 positions. USNCB's FY 2019 request includes a decrease of -3 positions from the FY 2018 Continuing Resolution of 72 direct positions.

FY 2019 Strategy:

The growth in transnational crime and the threats associated with international terrorism have resulted in a greater need for global law enforcement cooperation and access to international law enforcement information. The USNCB provides the necessary communications network, framework for police cooperation, and essential tools and services that lead to timely investigative results for our nation's law enforcement authorities and their international counterparts engaged in the fight against transnational crime and terrorism.

Facilitate Global Law Enforcement Communications

INTERPOL Washington provides Federal, State, Local and Tribal law enforcement officials with the ability to exchange information with INTERPOL and its 191 other member countries, either bilaterally, regionally, or globally. This unique capability facilitates police-to-police interaction in investigative matters ranging from simple criminal history checks to the sharing of intelligence and investigative leads targeting transnational organized crime groups. It also provides an international communications network for processing humanitarian assistance requests on U.S. citizens overseas or foreign nationals in the U.S.

Support International Investigative Efforts

INTERPOL administers a system of international Notices to share information with its 192 member countries. As the U.S. National Central Bureau, INTERPOL Washington is exclusively responsible for obtaining the publication of INTERPOL Notices on behalf of all U.S. law enforcement authorities, providing critical information on individuals wanted for serious crimes, potential threats, and missing persons, among other matters. The USNCB also performs an array of activities that directly support domestic and foreign law enforcement and enhances access to international law enforcement investigative assistance, data, and criminal intelligence. These activities typically involve the handling of both incoming and outgoing requests for assistance in criminal investigations. Additionally, the USNCB receives and responds to many requests relating to administrative matters that include applications for licenses and employment with a public safety and security nexus.

Increase and Enhance Access to Law Enforcement Information

The USNCB is committed to facilitating and encouraging the sharing of international law enforcement information throughout the United States. Its ability to support this mission is intrinsically linked to technology, interoperability and automation.

Through the USNCB's expansion initiatives, all states now have the ability to directly query INTERPOL databases through the USNCB information technology architecture. Automating INTERPOL queries for U.S. law enforcement officers is a proven, highly effective method for aggressively identifying, tracking, and apprehending subjects that have committed transnational crimes. The USNCB will continue to extend and automate national access to these INTERPOL systems as well as to improve and simplify its ability to communicate securely with various law enforcement agencies through mobility platforms and Internet connected devices. The USNCB's on-going information sharing approach focuses on gaining efficiencies by reusing and enhancing existing capabilities and technologies to further strengthen national security.

Protecting Americans from National Security Threats

By strategically leveraging its access to INTERPOL's global law enforcement systems and capabilities, the USNCB has developed a suite of low-cost, high-yield projects to counter the spread of Foreign Terrorist Fighters (FTF) and other radicalized elements. These initiatives employ identification, screening, and detection methods that involve the use of physical tokens (i.e. passports), biometrics, data analytics, IT integration techniques, and INTERPOL's system of Notices and Diffusions to provide a broad-spectrum defense against transnational threats to our public safety and national security.

FY 2019 Program Changes:

The budget proposal includes funds for current services for USNCB. No program changes are requested.
