UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Plaintiff, v. ELLIOTT GUNTON, A/K/A "PLANET," and ANTHONY TYLER NASHATKA, A/K/A "PSYCHO" Defendants.	CASE NO. VIOLATIONS: 18 U.S.C. § 1030(b) – Conspiracy to Commit Computer Fraud and Abuse; 18 U.S.C. §§ 1030(a)(5)(A), (c)(4)(B)(i) and (c)(4)(A)(i)(VI) – Transmission of a Program, Information, Code, and Command to Cause Damage to a Protected Computer; 18 U.S.C. §§ 1030(a)(4) and (c)(3)(A) – Unauthorized Access to a Protected Computer To Obtain Value; 18 U.S.C. § 1349 – Conspiracy to Commit Wire Fraud; 18 U.S.C. § 1028A(a)(1) – Aggravated Identity Theft; 18 U.S.C. §§ 982(a)(2)(B) and 1030(i) and (j), and 981(a)(1)(C) and 28 U.S.C. § 2461(c) – Forfeiture Allegations SAN FRANCISCO VENUE

INDICTMENT

The Grand Jury charges:

Background

At all times relevant to this Indictment:

1. ANTHONY TYLER NASHATKA, a/k/a "psycho" is a resident of New York.

2. ELLIOTT GUNTON, a/k/a "planet" and "Glubz" is a resident of the United Kingdom.

3. EtherDelta was a digital currency exchange platform based in Chicago, Illinois.

4. Cloudflare, Inc. (Cloudflare) is, and was during all relevant times set forth in this Indictment, a company headquartered in San Francisco, California that provided content delivery network services, DDoS mitigation, Internet security and distributed domain name server services. Cloudflare's content delivery network (CDN) provided a system of network servers all over the world, including approximately 38 in the United States alone, and in the Northern District of California, that delivered pages and other Web content to a user, from its servers. The network data centers acted as a repository for website content, providing local users with accelerated access to cached files.

5. EtherDelta used Cloudflare's services, including the content delivery network system servers for its cryptocurrency exchange platform.

6. The computer servers provided for EtherDelta through Cloudflare were used to facilitate interstate and foreign commerce and communication and constituted "protected computers" as defined in Title 18, United States Code, Section 1030(e)(2)(B).

COUNT ONE: (18 U.S.C. § 1030(b) – Conspiracy to Commit Computer Fraud and Abuse)

7. Paragraphs 1 through 6 of this Indictment are re-alleged and incorporated as if fully set forth here.

8. Beginning at a time unknown to the Grand Jury, but no later than on or about December 13, 2017, and continuing through a date unknown, but at least through on or about December 26, 2017, in the Northern District of California, and elsewhere, the defendants, did knowingly and willfully conspire and agree with each other and with others, to commit computer fraud and abuse, namely, (1) caused the transmission of a program, information, code, and command, and, as a result of such conduct, intentionally caused damage without authorization to a protected computer, in violation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 1030(a)(5)(A), (c)(4)(B)(I) and (c)(4)(A)(i)(VI); and (2) with intent to defraud, accessed a protected computer used in interstate and foreign commerce without authorization and exceeding authorized access, and by means of such conduct furthered the below-described fraud and obtained something of value, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1030(a)(4).

ANTHONY TYLER NASHATKA, and

9. As part of the conspiracy, the defendants used the Internet to access and modify, without authorization, EtherDelta's Domain Name System[1] setting, which was set to an Internet Protocol address registered to Cloudflare, located in San Francisco, California, as well as EtherDelta's account with Cloudflare, and by means of such conduct defrauded EtherDelta's users to obtain their cryptocurrency addresses and private keys and withdrew funds contained in those cryptocurrency addresses.

10. In furtherance of the conspiracy, the defendants used the following manner and means to accomplish the object and purpose of the conspiracy:

a. Obtaining personal information of potential victims;

b. Using fraud, deception, and social engineering techniques to induce representatives of cellphone service providers to forward cellphone numbers to Google Voice numbers controlled by the conspirators;

c. Using the victim's cell phone number and deceptive techniques to gain access to email, DNS accounts, and web infrastructure and website security accounts;

d. Resetting passwords for web infrastructure and website security accounts so that the conspirators could control those accounts;

e. Resetting the DNS settings for email and for web infrastructure and website security accounts to obtain information from victim users of the EtherDelta exchange;

f. Using fraud, deception, and social engineering techniques to gain access to the cryptocurrency addresses and private key of hundreds of victim users of the EtherDelta exchange platform; and

g. Using information obtained from victim users of the EtherDelta exchange platform to access the cryptocurrency addresses and of victims and transfer without authority cryptocurrencies owned by the victims.

[1] The Domain Name System (DNS) is the phonebook of the Internet. People access information online through domain names, like nytimes.com or espn.com. Web browsers interact through Internet Protocol (IP) addresses. DNS translates domain names to IP addresses so browsers can load Internet resources.

Overt Acts

11. In furtherance of the conspiracy and to effect its objects, on or about the dates listed below, in the Northern District of California and elsewhere, NASHATKA and GUNTON, and others, committed the following overt acts, among others:

a. On or about December 13, 2017, NASHATKA purchased identifying information regarding Z.C. with payment made in Bitcoin and NASHATKA received an email confirming the purchase on that date.

b. On or about December 13, 2017, NASHATKA sent GUNTON the phone number and email address for Z.C. and the two discussed taking EtherDelta, and getting into EtherDelta's Dreamhost and Cloudflare accounts to change the servers.

c. On or about December 19, 2017, GUNTON convinced a support operator at the service provider for Z.C.'s cellphone, without Z.C.'s permission, to attach a call forwarding number to his account, such that the calls would be forwarded to a Google Voice number controlled by GUNTON and NASHATKA, and allowing them to use the two-factor authentication necessary to access EtherDelta's accounts.

d. On or about December 20, 2017, NASHATKA and GUNTON gained unauthorized access to the DNS setting for Z.C.'s email account and disabled the DNS setting to Gmail and redirected the DNS setting to an IP address that is registered to a company in the United Kingdom. This allowed the conspirators to conceal any emails that may be sent to Z.C. regarding account intrusions.

e. On or about December 20, 2017, NASHATKA and GUNTON gained unauthorized access to EtherDelta's Cloudflare account, and reset the password, ensuring that Z.C. would not be able to access the Cloudflare account.

f. On or about December 20, 2017, NASHATKA and GUNTON gained unauthorized access to the DNS setting for EtherDelta's Cloudflare account and disabled the setting from an Internet Protocol address registered to Cloudflare and assigned to EtherDelta, and altered it to redirect the DNS setting to an Internet Protocol address that contained a fake website resembling the true EtherDelta platform. During this time, the access to Cloudflare's servers for EtherDelta, including servers in the Northern District of California, were disabled, and there was no access to the true EtherDelta website on any server. When an EtherDelta customer logged into the fake website, the defendants obtained the customers' cryptocurrency address and private key.

g. With those cryptocurrency addresses and private keys, NASHATKA and GUNTON were able to withdraw the cryptocurrency from hundreds of victim EtherDelta users between December 20 and at least December 26, 2017, and deposit the cryptocurrency into cryptocurrency addresses controlled by GUNTON and NASHATKA.

h. With respect to one such victim customer, R.R., NASHATKA and GUNTON fraudulently obtained the cryptocurrency address and private key of R.R. through the fake EtherDelta website on or about a date between December 20 and 21, 2017.

i. On or about December 25, 2017, NASHATKA and GUNTON accessed R.R.'s EtherDelta account and withdrew approximately $800,000, and deposited the cryptocurrency into cryptocurrency addresses controlled by GUNTON and NASHATKA.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1030(b).

COUNT TWO: (18 U.S.C. §§ 1030(a)(5)(A), (C)(4)(B)(i) and (c)(4)(A)(i)(VI) – Transmission of a Program, Information, Code, and Command to Cause Damage to a Protected Computer)

12. Paragraphs 1 through 11 of this Indictment are re-alleged and incorporated as if fully set forth here.

13. Beginning on or about December 20, 2017, and continuing through on or about December 21, 2017, in the Northern District of California and elsewhere, the defendants, knowingly caused the transmission of a program, information, code, and command, and, as a result of such conduct, intentionally caused damage without authorization to a protected computer, to wit, the defendant caused the transmission of a command to disable all of EtherDelta's servers, which are computers used in interstate and foreign commerce and communication, and, by such conduct, caused damage affecting 10 or more protected computers during a 1-year period.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1030(a)(5)(A), (c)(4)(B)(i) and (c)(4)(A)(i)(VI).

COUNT THREE: (18 U.S.C. § 1030(a)(4) – Computer Fraud)

14. Paragraphs 1 through 11 of this Indictment are re-alleged and incorporated as if fully set forth here.

15. On or about December 19 and 21, 2017, within the Northern District of California and elsewhere, the defendants, knowingly and with intent to defraud accessed a protected computer used in interstate and foreign commerce without authorization and exceeding authorized access, and by means of such conduct furthered the intended fraud and obtained something of value, specifically cryptocurrency addresses and passkeys, containing cryptocurrency later withdrawn without authorization by defendants.

All in violation of 18 U.S.C. Sections 1030(a)(4) and (c)(3)(A).

COUNT FOUR: (18 U.S.C. § 1349 – Conspiracy to Commit Wire Fraud)

16. Paragraphs 1 through 11 of this Indictment are re-alleged and incorporated as if fully set forth here.

ANTHONY TYLER NASHATKA, and

and others, did knowingly conspire to devise and intend to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud as to a material matter and to obtain money and property by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, and by concealment of material facts, and, for the purpose of executing such scheme or artifice and attempting to do so, did transmit, and cause to be transmitted, by means of wire communication in interstate and foreign commerce, certain writings, signs, signals, pictures, and sounds, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1343.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1349.
