PROPOSED DECISION

Claimant brings this claim under the Guam World War II Loyalty Recognition Act for injuries suffered as a result of the occupation of Guam by Imperial Japanese military forces during World War II.<sup>1</sup> To be eligible for a consideration under the Act, a claim must be filed not later than one year after the Commission published notice of the deadline for filing claims, i.e. June 20, 2018. Because Claimant’s claim was filed with the Commission after the June 20, 2018 deadline, it is denied.

The Commission’s authority to adjudicate claims under Section 1704 of the Act is set forth in Section 1705.<sup>2</sup> Among other things, Section 1705 provides that “[a]n individual filing a claim for a payment under section 1704 shall file such claim not later than one year after the date on which the [Commission] publishes . . . a notice of the deadline for filing a claim” in the Federal Register, and in newspaper, radio, and television media in Guam.<sup>3</sup>

As required under Section 1705, on June 20, 2017, the Commission published notice in the Federal Register announcing the commencement of the Guam Claims Program and setting a filing deadline of June 20, 2018.<sup>4</sup> On that same date, the Commission also published notice of the deadline for filing claims in newspaper, radio, and television media in Guam. Consequently, the statutory deadline for filing claims under the Act was June 20, 2018.

The Commission's records indicate that Claimant's Statement of Claim was filed with the Commission after June 20, 2018. The claim was thus filed after the expiration of the one-year filing period established by the Act.

Accordingly, while the Commission recognizes that Claimant may be among those residents of Guam who "suffered unspeakable harm as a result of the occupation of Guam by Imperial Japanese military forces during World War II,"<sup>5</sup> it is constrained to conclude that this claim was not timely filed under the Act. Thus, this claim must be and is hereby denied. The Commission makes no determinations about any other aspect of this claim.
