Anna Jarvis created the holiday to honor her mother, Ann Jarvis, who had organized women's groups to promote health and friendship. After her mother's death in 1905, Anna Jarvis campaigned to establish Mother's Day as a recognized holiday. The holiday quickly gained popularity, and by 1911, all U.S. states observed it in some form. In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson officially designated the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day, making it a national holiday 1 3 5 6.
Thus, the first Mother's Day in its modern form was in 1908, with the official national recognition coming in 1914.
