Dmitry Shevelenko's Post

Dmitry ShevelenkoBusiness @ Perplexity

This week I am testifying on behalf of Perplexity in the Google Search antitrust remedies trial in DC. Google is an integral part of our online lives and has pioneered many technologies that have broad useful applications. We want them to be successful and don't think they should be broken up!

But when it comes to the mobile ecosystem, Google has taken the promise of an open Android OS and corrupted it -- operating like a mob boss with regards to mobile OEMS and carriers. Users around the world are deprived of easy access to the best products because of Google's monopoly abuse. Mobile carriers and OEMs are constrained in their ability to partner with innovators in AI and bring the full power of these new technologies to their users. Choice is the remedy - read our detailed perspective at the link below <https://lnkd.in/gmKFQjVJ>
