

Portee Update:

Back in September 2011, Mr. Portee was sentenced to 24 months' incarceration to be followed by a three year term of supervised release. Mr. Portee has completed his term of incarceration. In July 2013, Mr. Portee began to serve his term of supervised release. While on supervised release, Mr. Portee was found guilty of violating his supervised release. The judge ordered him to serve an additional term of incarceration. Mr. Portee filed an appeal saying that the judge acted improperly. Just recently, the court of appeals rejected Mr. Portee's arguments. Mr. Portee is obligated to complete his term of supervised release.
