REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES ON THE
ADMINISTRATION OF THE FOREIGN AGENTS
REGISTRATION ACT OF 1938, AS AMENDED,
FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1976

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED:

I have the honor to report on the administration of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended, pursuant to Section 11 of the Act, which requires the Attorney General from time to time to report to the Congress concerning the administration of the Act, as well as the nature, source and content of political propaganda disseminated or distributed by agents of foreign principals registered under the Act.

It has been the policy of the Department since 1950 to prepare a report each year. This report covers the administration and enforcement of the Foreign Agents Registration Act for the calendar year 1976.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

During the year 1976, the Department received 95 new registration statements and terminated 68 registrations, leaving a total of 582 active registrations on file as of December 31, 1976. Individuals acting as officials or employees or rendering assistance to a registrant for or in the interest of the latter's foreign principal filed 407 short-form registration statements under the Act.

In this reporting year, the staff of the Registration Unit reviewed over 1,066 supplemental statements and processed 15,000 pieces of both incoming and outgoing correspondence which involved other government agencies, registrants and the general public. There were 74 agreements with new foreign principals reported by agents already registered under the Act.

ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT

The Registration Unit continued to conduct in-depth inspections of a broad spectrum of registrants pursuant to Section 615 of the Act. During the year, 40 such inspections of books and records were conducted by the staff. In a number of cases it was determined that insufficient disclosures were being made and amendments to registration statements were obtained. However, in one case, the inspection disclosed a course of conduct designed to avoid the disclosure provisions of the Act. This course of conduct resulted in the presentation of the matter to a grand jury sitting in the District of Columbia with a view toward a criminal indictment for willful violation of the Act. This matter is currently under consideration by the grand jury.

The staff of the Registration Unit devoted considerable time to the preparation of pleadings and briefs in four civil actions which were brought in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia during calendar year 1975. The most significant of these cases, Attorney General v. United States Japan Trade Council, et al. (Civil Action No. 76-1260), marked the first time an injunctive action was brought since the enactment of the 1966 amendments to the Act, which alleged a fraudulent course of conduct by registered agents. This case resulted from a routine series of inspections of interrelated organizations conducted in 1975. The three-count complaint alleged the filing of false and misleading registration documents over a protracted period, false and misleading labeling of propaganda material and misrepresentation of the identity of the agent's foreign principal before congressional committees. All the defendants, without admitting or denying these allegations, consented to a court decree which provided the relief sought by the Department. This included ancillary relief calling for defendants to take out an informative advertisement in The Wall Street Journal and the personal notification of thousands of individuals and certain federal legislators of this action, together with an offer to supply amended registration documents which would accurately reveal the activities engaged in by the defendants and the true identity of their foreign principals. Hopefully, this action has served notice on the foreign agent community that the Department expects truthful and detailed reporting of their activities and that vigorous enforcement of the Act can be expected.

In addition, the Department in Attorney General v. Arab Information Center, et al. (Civil Action No. 76-279) commenced an action against the defendants for failure to label advertisements taken out in newspapers in major cities of the United States, for failure to file timely dissemination reports in connection with these advertisements in violation of Section 614, and for refusing to allow the Department to conduct an inspection of its books and records pursuant to Section 615. Amin Hilmy, II, Director of the Center, was charged with failure to file a registration statement as required by Section 612. The cause of action as to Mr. Hilmy was dismissed when the Department of State belatedly granted his request for privileges and immunities. Following this, the Center entered into a consent decree which requires that it label its political propaganda and file appropriate dissemination reports; maintain all books and records required by the Act; that all political propaganda be authorized by the Director or Acting Director who must ensure that the defendant comply with the reporting and labeling requirements of the Act; and that the defendant must maintain and keep open for inspection all books and records required to be kept by Section 5 of the Act. The consent decree further requires that semi-annual staff meetings of defendant be held to review and explain the obligations of defendant with respect to dissemination reports, labeling, record maintenance and inspection.

In February, 1976, the Department filed an injunctive action in Attorney General v. Trinidad & Tobago Industrial Development Corporation, et al. (Civil Action No. 76-584), alleging that the defendants had violated the provisions of Sections 612 and 614 of the Act by failing to make timely filings during the three preceding years and by failing to comply with the labeling and filing requirements as they relate to the dissemination of political propaganda. On October 13, 1976, the Court granted plaintiff's motion for summary judgment and, on October 21, 1976, signed an order permanently enjoining defendants from acting on behalf of their foreign principals unless and until they complied with the provisions of Sections 612 and 614 of the Act. Defendants have appealed this decision to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

The Department in August, 1976, instituted a civil action, Attorney General v. The Irish People, Inc. (Civil Action No. 76-1518), seeking a mandatory injunction requiring the defendant to register as an agent of a foreign principal pursuant to Section 612 of the Act and a permanent injunction enjoining the defendant from further violating the Act. The Irish People, Inc. owns, publishes and distributes a weekly newspaper, The Irish People and allegedly has received approximately $45,000, free office space, telephone service, as well as the services of officers and members of the Irish Northern Aid Committee, which is registered as the agent of the Northern Aid Committee, Belfast.

Further, we continued to conduct field conferences to assist new registrants in fully meeting their reporting obligations under the Act.

The Department also has retained the practice of distributing copies of registration statements and supplements thereto to interested departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

NATURE, SOURCE AND CONTENT OF POLITICAL PROPAGANDA

The following is an analysis of the principal trends noted during 1976 in the propaganda material disseminated within the United States in the English language on behalf of the foreign principals and geographical areas listed.

During the year 1976, 5,078 dissemination reports were filed in connection with the distribution of over 15,500 different pieces of propaganda and other printed matter which were submitted.

The registrant's testimony was in opposition to the various bills being considered, on the grounds that existing inspection procedures are more than adequate to safeguard the consumer, that the proposed legislation would not improve the quality of imported dairy products although it would restrict imports and drive prices higher, and that Austrian dairy producers already adhere to rigid standards of sanitation.

He also reported that during the last year of the operation of the Sugar Act, Belize "shipped every available ton to the U.S.A. at a substantial financial loss" as they were "more interested in establishing a reputation as reliable suppliers under the U.S. Sugar Act than in the short-term fast buck."

The Belize sugar industries urged the Commission to recommend that Congress enact a new International Sugar Agreement to benefit foreign suppliers based on past performance as well as reliability.

Hamel, Park, McCabe
and Saunders

Statement

Gordon H. Maingot, Chairman of the Sugar Association of the Caribbean, presented a statement before the United States International Trade Commission on behalf of the sugar industries of the CARICOM nations (Jamaica, Trinidad-Tobago, Guyana, Barbados and St. Kitts.)

For the CARICOM nations, Mr. Maingot stated that these "suppliers may be relied upon to meet their market commitments much more so than certain other suppliers . . ." since these nations depend on the sugar industry for their livelihood. He also reported that "CARICOM consistently supplied the U.S. under the quota system of the Sugar Act until its expiration in 1974. Commencing in 1975, CARICOM continued to supply sugar to the U.S. under the current free market system."

Mr. Maingot suggested that the Trade Commission consider recommending to the U.S. Congress a policy similar to the International Sugar Agreement of 1974 and a "U.S. Sugar program which is designed to assure remunerative prices for domestic and foreign producers, as well as guaranteed outlets to traditional suppliers."

New York Committee of International Committee of Passenger Lines

Statement

The registrant represents the International Committee of Passenger Lines (ICPL) which consists of Chandris America Lines, Inc., Costa Line, Inc., Cunard Line Limited, Epirotiki Lines, Inc., Flagship Cruises Ltd., Hall and America Cruises, Home Lines, Inc., Italian Line, Norwegian America Line, P & O Lines Inc., Royal Caribbean Cruise Line, Inc., Royal Viking Line, Sitmar Cruises, and Sun Line. ICPL advises foreign principals of "regulations issued or under consideration in regard to Public Health Service Vessel Sanitation Inspection and health regulations; Panama Canal toll increases; bunker fuel shortages; Federal and State regulations concerning pollution of navigable waters by sewage, oil and hazardous substances; possible restrictions on stopovers in U.S. ports by foreign flag vessels and proposed changes in U.S. tax laws."

A statement was presented by the ICPL before the House Merchant Marine Sub-Committee on Panama Canal concerning "all aspects of the operations of the Panama Canal Company in the hope of resolving financial and other problems currently affecting it." ICPL believes that the toll increase in 1974 and the proposed additional increase of 20-25% in 1976 "can only be counter-productive: They will reduce the number of such vessels transiting the Canal, with a consequent reduction in toll revenues received by the Canal Company." The registrant proposes that the Sub-Committee "review accounting procedures to determine what costs should be properly assessed against vessels transiting the Canal and recommend that the Panama Canal Company reconsider the subject of measurement rules as applied to passenger vessels in consultation with all interested parties."

David C. Todd of the law firm Patton, Boggs and Blow appeared before the U.S. International Trade Commission on behalf of the Central American Sugar Council and its member nations El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

The Council urged the United States to "be dependent upon foreign supplies for a significant portion of its sugar needs," and to pursue "stable and remunerative sugar prices on a world-wide basis."

In addition, the statement reports that "if this Commission determines that relief for domestic producers is required under the terms of the Trade Act, the Council urges that any such relief be such that it will have the least possible negative impact upon world sugar prices." Specifically, the Council urged the Commission "not to take any action which would serve to prejudice the countries of Central America."

Another release presented a four year plan, outlining the goals of the World Zionist Organization as "the deepening of Zionist ideology in light of the current anti-Zionist drive being pushed by Arab and pro-Arab forces all over the world; a clear definition of the goals of Zionism; a drive for increased aliyah (immigration to Israel) with more power in the planning and implementation of programs in the hands of the Jewish communities and Zionist federations; and a broadcasting of Zionist education throughout the Diaspora (the body of Jews outside Palestine)."

NEW ZEALAND

Bronz & Farrell

Statement

Bronz & Farrell is registered on behalf of the New Zealand Meat Producers Board and the New Zealand Dairy Board for the purpose of advising the foreign principals "on various problems affecting the importation of meat and dairy products into the United States."

Mr. Farrell presented a statement before the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Dairy and Poultry on behalf of the New Zealand Dairy Board, concerning H.R. 10842 which would "add certain labeling requirements to the inspection provisions of the other bills."

The registrant stated that "to require a label on every product containing the slightest bit of imported material could serve no other purpose than as a harassment to international trade, as a discouragement to the use of imports and as an impossible enforcement job . . ."

The Dairy Board urged the Subcommittee to reconsider enacting legislation that would "obstruct the free flow of trade. A precedent set by the United States in the agricultural field might very well prompt other countries of the world to enact similar requirements applicable to United States exports . . . If every country insists on monitoring every step in the production of products destined for its market, international trade could soon become well nigh impossible."

Sullivan Sarria & Associates, News Releases, Reprints
Inc.

Sullivan Sarria & Associates, Inc., which is registered on behalf of the Government of Nicaragua, disseminates information pertaining to economic and social developments within that nation, as well as statements of government leaders.

"If the free enterprise system is to survive, industrialized nations and developing countries must work together to achieve more equitable trade agreements, an acceptable code of conduct for transnational investments and functional methods of transferring technology."

Another release disseminated by the registrant reported that a Nicaraguan National Guard patrol had discovered a "group of Cuban trained terrorists in the process of setting up a base of operations in the eastern region of the country." The Nicaraguan President claimed that his government is "fully aware of the Cuban plan to subvert the constitutional order of our nation and, therefore, let it not be said that their acts of violence are the acts of local people spontaneously trying to resolve national problems." He further charged that in attempting to destroy Nicaragua's free enterprise system the Communists would rely on the technique used in other developing countries, that of instigating "pseudo - nationalists movements" as a means of effectively terminating capitalist investment in such troubled countries.

Other materials disseminated by this registrant, including an advertising supplement reprinted from Business Week magazine, detail information on such topics as agrarian reform in Nicaragua; the political and social tranquility of the country; and considerable data relative to the economy and economic potential of Nicaragua.

PALESTINE

The Palestine Arab Delegation

Letters, Articles

The Palestine Arab Delegation is registered as the representative of the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine, located in Almansurieh, Lebanon. This registrant functions to publicize and gain support for the cause of the Palestinian people.

An article written by the director of the Delegation and reprinted from The Saturday Evening Post entitled "A Palestinian Viewpoint," claims that the Arab people and nations are friends of the U.S., constitute rich markets for U.S. products, wish to cooperate economically, and are located in a position of strategic importance for the U.S. The article charges, however, that the "Zionist - controlled U.S. media of mass communication" is waging a campaign to discredit the Arabs, and that the U.S. Congress "has become a rubber stamp for the Zionist lobby in Washington."

The article claims further that "Inflation, recession, unemployment, and all other problems plaguing the economics of the western world are blamed on the Arabs. The transfer of wealth to the Arabs is portrayed as economic warfare. This campaign of incitement and hate against the Arab world is being waged to brainwash the American people and win them over to the irresponsible, adventurous, criminal Zionist plan to railroad the United States into war against the Arabs." Finally the article states that because the Arab nations have never caused the U.S. any harm, "it is politically unwise, immoral and inhuman that the United States should adopt a policy which aids and abets Israel in its continuing aggression, expansion and domination in the heart of the Arab world."

In a statement submitted to the United Nations Security Council the Delegation charges that the Zionists in Israel have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide; that the Christian and Islamic religions have been eradicated from Palestine under Israeli control; that Israel is not in fact a state according to international law; and that sovereignty remains in the hands of the Palestinian people, who are obliged to liberate their traditional homeland from the Zionist occupiers. The Delegation called on the Security Council to take whatever measures necessary to disarm Israel, and to "assist the Palestinians to return to their homeland, take possession of their homes and properties, and exercise their right of self-determination by establishing a democratic government in Palestine."

PEOPLES' REPUBLIC OF CHINA

China Books and Periodicals

Magazines, Books

China Books and Periodicals is registered as a publications distributor on behalf of Guozi Shudian (the China Publications Center) of Peking.

Peking Review, a weekly political, theoretical news magazine, is the most comprehensive of the publications disseminated by the registrant. Like most other publications disseminated on behalf of Guozi Shudian, articles in Peking Review throughout 1976 generally came within one of the following categories: the need to continue the struggle against the revisionists and capitalists in China; the correctness of Mao Tse-tung thought and its significance to every aspect of progress in the People's Republic of China (PRC); intense criticism of the Soviet Union for its "social imperialism"; expression of the PRC's solidarity with various "liberation" struggles throughout the world; and obituaries for Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai.

Criticism of the Soviet Union was a consistent theme throughout Peking Review, from the general characterization that the Soviets' "growing ambition for world hegemonism" is presently the greatest threat to world peace, to specific charges relating to Soviet intervention and manipulation around the world. Peking Review charges that the Soviet Union has threatened the security of Western Europe through its "treacherous histrionics of sham detente and real war preparations." In Angola, the Soviets have proved themselves to be the "most dangerous enemy" of all Africans, for it was they who "provoked a fratricidal war in Angola" and who "undermine(d) the African people's unity." The Soviets are also credited with creating unrest in South Asia in an effort to establish a base of influence in that part of the world, or, as Peking Review phrases it, "to put the subcontinent under its thumb and realize the old tsar's wild design of opening a passage southward to the Indian Ocean." Reporting on the Egyptian abrogation of a 1971 "treaty of friendship and co-operation" with the Soviets, Peking Review claims that the Soviets had "honey on their lips but murder in their hearts" while they "resorted to all kinds of vile and vicious tricks to cruelly exploit and blackmail the Egyptian people and unscrupulously intervene in Egypt's internal affairs in an attempt to establish a hegemonic rule in Egypt with the Soviet Union dominating and controlling everything there."

The U.S. was also a target of criticism throughout this registrant's disseminations, although these criticisms were milder and less frequent than those directed at the Soviet Union. As an example, the Peoples' Republic of China joined with the Government of North Korea in "denouncing U.S. imperialism for making new war provocations in the Korean Peninsula and deliberately aggravating tensions in Korea." The U.S. was further accused of attempting to export its economic difficulties to the third world nations by manipulating trade relations, of meddling in Angola and Southern Africa, and in general of pursuing "imperialist," "colonialist" and "hegemonic" policies.

Peking Review and the other publications also devoted considerable space to paying tribute to Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai when their deaths were reported. Chairman Mao was praised as the "founder of the Communist Party of China, the Chinese People's Liberation Army and the Peoples' Republic of China; he was the greatest Marxist of the contemporary era." Chou En-lai was described as "a fine member of the Communist Party of China, a great proletarian revolutionary of the Chinese people, a loyal revolutionary fighter of the Chinese people and an eminent, long-tested Party and state leader."

Typical of articles found in Peking Review are the following titles: "Revolution Promotes Production"; "Transform Schools Into Instruments of Proletarian Dictatorship"; "China Launches Struggle Against Revisionist Line"; "March Forward in the Struggle Against Imperialism, Colonialism and Hegemonism"; and "One Million Armymen and Civilians in Peking Hold Grand Rally to Celebrate Great Victory - Warmly hailing Comrade Hua Kuo-feng becoming leader of the Communist Party of China and angrily denouncing the 'gang of four' anti-party clique's towering crimes."

China Reconstructs is an illustrated monthly magazine published by the China Welfare Institute, Peking, which reports news and developments on such topics as politics, industry, agriculture, culture, medicine and education. Articles such as "New Peking Opera on Coastal Militia," "China Conducts a Struggle Against the Revisionist Line," "People's Communes in Tibet - A Leap of Centuries," "To Defend Socialism Workers Study Theory," "First Days After the Earthquake," "Graduates Take to the Countryside," and "What Children Read in China" are typical of this publication.

China Pictorial, another monthly magazine publication, is similar in content to Peking Review and China Reconstructs, commenting on the PRC's advances in the fields of agriculture, industry and technology, international relations, medicine and health care, education, and other topics as mentioned in reference to the above publications.

China's Foreign Trade is a quarterly magazine which focuses on the PRC's products available for export, international trade relations, industrial and agricultural production, and native products. It highlights progress made by certain "production brigades," and reports the overall improvement in industrial facilities, production and worker conditions since "liberation." "China's Chemical Industry in Rapid Development" reports that during "the twenty-six years since the founding of New China, especially since the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, the chemical industry has made rapid headway under the guidance of Chairman Mao's revolutionary line." Other titles representative of the contents of China's Foreign Trade include: "Machinery and Electrical Equipment Exported from Tientsin"; "An Aspiring Small Factory - An Introduction to a Commune-Run Wood Screw Factory"; and "Rely Mainly on Our Own Efforts While Making External Assistance Subsidiary."

The Chinese Medical Journal is a bimonthly publication of the Chinese Medical Association which reports news of medical practices, techniques and studies, in addition to political news and theory. Titles representative of the information published in the Journal include: "Malaria Control in China"; "Giving Full Play to the Role of the Commune Health Center"; "Virologic Study of Common Colds in Peking, 1971-1973"; "Correlation between the Pattern of Arteries at the Base of the Brain and Hypertensive Cerebral Hemorrhage"; "Exercise Dictatorship of the Proletariat on the Health Front"; "Conscientiously Study the Theory of the Dictatorship of the Proletariat to Promote the Work in Family Planning"; and "Reversing Correct Verdicts Goes Against the Will of the People."

Chinese Literature is a monthly booklet publication featuring essays, stories, poems and art, almost all designed to convey a political message.

China Books and Periodicals also disseminates several publications in the Chinese language, in addition to the following books:

PERU

Prather Seeger Doolittle
Farmer & Ewing

Statement

On behalf of the sugar industry of Peru (Central de Cooperatives Agrarias de Produccion Azucarera del Peru) Mr. Seeger appeared before the United States International Trade Commission.

The registrant provided information concerning the sugar industry of Peru including the fact that Peru was the fifth largest sugar supplier to the U.S. before the Sugar Act was allowed to expire in 1974.

Mr. Seeger requested the Commission "to recommend to the U.S. Congress that it adopt measures that will guarantee a reasonable price for all the traditional suppliers of the U.S. market, including Peru."

PHILIPPINES

John A. O'Donnell

Statement

Lawrence Myers, Economic Consultant to the Philippine Sugar Industry and Mr. O'Donnell presented statements on behalf of the Philippine Sugar Industry before the United States International Trade Commission.

Mr. O'Donnell gave a brief history of the Philippine Sugar Industry and Mr. Myers gave a history of the various Sugar Acts of the U.S. stating that throughout the years the Philippine industry has been a dependable source of sugar for the United States. He also stated that "sugar exports to the U.S. are vital to the Philippine economy. Sugar workers are the highest paid agricultural workers in the Philippines and the sugar industry is taking the lead in improving standards."

Mr. Myers suggested that the Commission recommend to Congress the enactment of sugar legislation based on a "country-quota system." "A country-quota system is the only one that will assure foreign supplies, as well as domestic supplies. In other words, it is the only protective system that looks to protecting the interests of domestic consumers as well as the interests of domestic producers." He also urged, with regard to establishing quotas for foreign suppliers, that two factors be considered: 1) that the foreign suppliers be a dependable source of sugar and 2) that the suppliers "have the ability and willingness to adjust exports to meet the seasonal needs of the United States."

Chinese Information
Service (CIS)

Newspapers, Magazines,
Releases

The Chinese Information Service in New York and the Chinese Information Service, Pacific Coast Bureau are both registered on behalf of the Chinese Government Information Office in Taipei, Republic of China. Both registrants disseminate numerous publications which cover the whole range of domestic and international issues affecting the Republic of China (ROC). All of these publications treat the same general topics, with comprehensiveness varying from one publication to the other depending on the frequency and size of the publication. For the most part information disseminated by the CIS focuses on coverage of national and international politics, economic development news and scientific, cultural and educational developments in the ROC. Issues of special interest during 1976 included developments concerning the U.S. in its relations with both the ROC and the People's Republic of China (Peking). In numerous articles on this topic CIS publications maintained that the national interests of the U.S. would best be served by continued commitment to the Mutual Defense Treaty with the ROC. The Treaty reportedly benefits both signatories by providing the ROC with the stability necessary to develop politically and economically, and by enabling the U.S. to maintain a strong defense position in the Western Pacific, in addition to providing a strong and reliable trade partner. All of these publications further assert that the U.S. will not accrue any benefits through according full diplomatic recognition to Peking, which can be accomplished, at the insistence of the People's Republic, only after severing diplomatic ties with the ROC.

CIS publications also evidenced great concern over developments on the Mainland, especially relating to political developments which followed the death of Mao Tse-tung. Numerous articles described the total lack of freedom and harsh living conditions on the Mainland, while others accused the Communist regime of being the world's major illegal drug supplier. Other articles describe relief efforts being launched from Taiwan to assist those on the Mainland who were suffering from the severe earthquakes which occurred there, although all offers of assistance had been refused by the Peking Government.

Another issue of great concern was the refusal of the Canadian Government to recognize the ROC as a full and legitimate competitor in the Olympic Games. Articles accused the Canadian Government of acceding to the demands of the Peking Communists on this issue so as to assure a Peking market for the export of Canadian wheat.

Through all of its publications the CIS presents the ROC as the one repository and true guardian of Chinese culture and tradition. The publications cite Taiwan's progress and development in economics, politics, industry, trade and other sectors, and strongly proclaim the inevitability of the ROC's return to the Mainland.

News from China is a daily publication in press release format which is probably the most comprehensive item disseminated by the New York Office of CIS. The following capsule summaries are representative of the information contained therein: an ROC Government spokesman denied that Taiwan has been reprocessing spent nuclear fuel for weapons use, and repeated his government's policy prohibiting the development of nuclear weapons; the ROC Government reiterated its claim of sovereignty over the Spratly Islands and dismissed as frivolous a meeting of six other nations to reach agreement on the conduct of integrated hydrographic work in this area; the widespread anti-Maoist disturbances which are plaguing the Mainland are expected to be met with bloody retaliation and purges as Maoists reassert control; several U.S. Senators have called for continued diplomatic ties with ROC, noting that the People's Republic is characterized by economic stagnation and political purges, while ROC, a longtime friend and ally of the U.S., has a history of political stability and expanding economic success.

Free China Review, a monthly magazine publication disseminated by CIS Pacific Coast Bureau, includes such regular features as: "The Month in Free China" which reports news and commentary on issues in Taiwan; "Mainland Periscopes" which reports developments on and speculation concerning the PRC; "Economic Milestones" comprised of short articles recording trade statistics and economic figures; and reprints of articles and editorials from domestic (Chinese) and foreign newspapers.

Background on China, issued only three times in 1976, reports on developments in Peking either through broadcasts monitored from the Mainland or secret documents which find their way from the PRC.

Free China Weekly is a newspaper publication disseminated by both registrants, which contains much the same information as previously mentioned.

Vista is a bi-monthly pictorial magazine which includes in its coverage some artistic and cultural highlights.

The New York Office disseminates press releases in the Chinese language, while the Pacific Coast Bureau disseminates films through Public Service Audience Planners.

The Communist Strategy reports that South Africa's strategic location and abundance of resources has made that nation a target of Communist imperialism. The book further claims that "through surreptitious propaganda, among others through the World Council of Churches, the communists to a large extent have succeeded in presenting the struggle waged in the subcontinent as purely a Black-White confrontation. Consequently, communist motives are well disguised and the communist role is largely concealed from the West. South Africa and other communist targets on the continent are so readily accused from Western quarters of over-reaction when the dangers of Red expansionist ideals in Southern Africa are underlined. Fortunately Russia's expansion in the Indian Ocean and its aspirations to wield influence in East Africa have now compelled the United States to review its role in this ocean."

South Africa - The Vital Link stresses the strategic and economic importance of South Africa to the United States and the rest of the Western world, and urges that these factors be given serious consideration in the formulation of U.S. policy towards South Africa. While acknowledging that South Africa has internal problems, the book quotes a Newsweek magazine statement of University of Chicago economist Dr. Milton Friedman, recognizing that while neither South Africa nor Rhodesia are perfect democracies, "both provide a larger measure of freedom and affluence for all their residents - black and white - than most other countries of Africa. Both would be great prizes for the Soviets - and our official policy appears well designed to assure that the Soviets succeed in following up their victory in Angola through the use of Cuban troops by similar take-overs in Rhodesia and South Africa."

Prospects and Progress in South Africa claims that South Africa is the "industrial giant of the African continent," and that the nation "has always had stable governments which aimed at promoting the economic progress of the country and gaining the confidence of foreign investors; has built up sound and specialized financial institutions which are willing to assist industrialists; possesses a highly trained managerial class and an enterprising population, both black and white; is envied by the world for her natural riches and is the free world's largest producer of gold, gem diamonds, platinum, antimony; is second in chrome, vanadium, vermiculite; and third in uranium, manganese, asbestos; is the only country in Africa which has never asked for or received foreign aid from any world power; has experienced over half a century of political stability."

The following titles are also disseminated by the registrant:

Transkei Independence

The Black Worker of South Africa

Progress of a People

Prelude to Detente

Multi-National Development in South Africa:

The Reality

changes which could be enacted "without demanding very great divergence from current basic policies" but which would improve the world's perception of South Africa.

"The fact that South Africa is seen to perpetuate institutionalized race discrimination, which in turn creates difficulties in obtaining support from interested Western powers and much needed foreign capital, is at the core of South Africa's international difficulties.

"It follows that foreign opinion will continue to harden, and the Foundation's international efforts will be increasingly complicated until substantial political progress is seen to be made towards removing those laws, policies and customs whose application is universally seen to be discriminatory."

Titles found in the newsletter throughout 1976 included: "SA Labour Relations"; "Fairness in SA Sport - The Facts"; "Angola: Conflicting U.S. Views"; "S.A. Investment Scene"; "Soviet Aims in Southern Africa - Warning by American"; and "New Industrial Muscle - SA Poised."

The Washington, D.C. Director of the Foundation testified before the African Subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and claimed that South Africa is experiencing "a revolution in the racial attitudes of people, and the growing consciousness of the rights and dignity and worth of people of all races." He advised the Subcommittee that if they desire to improve the racial atmosphere in South Africa, they should "urge Americans to expand contact and investment (in South Africa) still further, to increase the opportunities available to Blacks, Coloureds and Indians, to help raise their educational opportunities and standard of living, and to help widen the horizons of South Africans of all colours."

The Foundation also disseminated copies of its annual report for 1975-76, and commenting on South Africa's relations with the U.S. it stated that "there is hardly a petty Third World dictatorship, with a muzzled press, its opposition in jail, and its policies overtly hostile to the United States, that does not have a better relationship" with the U.S. than South Africa.

The registrant also disseminated South Africa International, a quarterly journal published by the Foundation "to provide a forum for objective debate on domestic and international affairs affecting South Africa." Representative of the titles published in this journal are the following: "South Africa: Background and Strategic Value"; "Power-Political Positions and Strategic Problems of the Republic of South Africa"; "Soviet Global Strategy: The Great Challenge to the West at Sea"; "Detente in Southern Africa"; and "Some Merits of the S.A. Investment Scene."

South African Press and Information Office

Books, Magazines, Pamphlets, Speeches

The South African Press and Information Office is registered on behalf of the Department of Information of the Republic of South Africa. The registrant disseminates numerous publications dealing with a broad range of topics. In addition to explaining and defending South Africa's social and political systems, the registrant's disseminations include considerable information alleging Soviet efforts to create disturbances in Southern Africa in order to establish a power base there, and information on the emergence of Transkei as an independent nation.

Transkei "boasts a modern infra-structure and considerable industrial and commercial development"; that the new nation "is economically better off than 85 percent of African countries"; and that "the agricultural potential of Transkei at least equals or even exceeds the best in Southern Africa."

A report disseminated by the registrant entitled The Significance of the MPLA Victory in Angola for the West claims that the Soviet presence in Angola is certain to be only the first of many expansionist efforts by the Soviets to achieve a dominant position in Africa. This publication states that the Soviets are sure to attempt to move into a predominant position over the Cape sea routes, which are vital to the U.S. and other Western nations for their supplies of oil, food and strategic raw materials.

A booklet entitled The Challenge of Soweto charges that the violent riots which erupted in the black township of Soweto had been carefully planned by outside agitators and timed to disrupt a scheduled meeting between the South African Prime Minister and the U.S. Secretary of State.

Other items disseminated by the registrant included:

Urban Unrest in South Africa

South Africa Foundation

Newsletter, Pamphlets

This registrant disseminates information on behalf of the South Africa Foundation in Johannesburg, South Africa. The organization sees itself performing two functions: "to provide facts about South Africa to a world audience and, by analysing and explaining the nature, sources and purposes of various international pressures on South Africa, to engender a responsible and sophisticated reaction to such pressures among South Africans themselves."

The South Africa Foundation News is a monthly newsletter publication which contains reports as to how other nations perceive South African developments, in addition to news of the nation's economic and political developments, its wealth of resources and efforts to attract foreign capital, and information as to Foundation activities. An editorial in the newsletter listed a number of general conclusions concerning South Africa's political position internationally, and enumerated some

Hugh C. Newton & Associates continued to perform public relations services on behalf of the Republic of China (ROC) throughout 1976. All of these disseminations were accompanied by a "Dear Editor" letter which emphasized Newton's purpose in sending the information.

The information which Newton disseminated focused variously on the ROC's economic progress and success, its political stability, the freedom and opportunities enjoyed by its citizens, the U.S. defense commitment to Taiwan or U.S. business and trade interests in the continuing prosperity of the island nation. The following titles are typical of those disseminated by this registrant: "One China Remains Taipei's 'Unchangeable' Goal"; "Free China: Showplace of Economic Progress"; "U.S. Business in Taiwan Wary of Turn to Peking"; "The Importance of the Republic of China Today: Political and Strategic"; and "The Astonishing Contrasts of the Two Chinas."

In October, 1976, the Republic of Transkei, formerly a part of the Republic of South Africa, became an independent nation. The registrant disseminated several items on this topic, some of which were designed to encourage U.S. recognition of the new nation. While some maintain that recognition of Transkei would legitimize the South African policy of apartheid (separate development), the registrant maintains that the new nation compares favorably with many other states that are members of the United Nations. The registrant claimed that Transkei is "a model of stable political and social evolution on the African Continent"; that the Chief Minister of Transkei, having held that elective office for twelve years, "has had longer experience of self-government than 41 African heads of state"; that Transkei "will have absolute sovereignty over its own affairs"; that

One release concerns a press conference held by the South Moluccan Head of State to denounce terrorist activity in Holland by a small group of young South Moluccans. He explained that his people are not at odds with the Dutch, but rather are struggling against the Indonesian Government which "invaded and occupied our sovereign state against all rules of international morals and laws especially against the expressed wishes of the South Moluccan People who are being subjugated brutally by the Indonesian invaders." He further charged that the Indonesian Government continues to "hold tens of thousands of political prisoners, to commit genocide, to invade and occupy the Republic of South Moluccas, Western New Guinea and now Portuguese Timor." The registrant pursues this goal through the dissemination of printed materials, personal contacts and lectures by officers of the organization.

Rhodesian Viewpoint, a monthly newsletter publication, reported news of developments which affected the future and security of Rhodesia. The Rhodesian Prime Minister warned of the "onward march of Communism" in Africa citing developments in Angola and Mozambique, and claimed that terrorists active in Rhodesia had been "trained, armed and equipped by Marxists." He also charged that U.S. policy in southern Africa supports "the Marxist terrorist groups who have made no secret of their goal - to conquer Rhodesia and South Africa."

When the Prime Minister announced his government's agreement to a British-U.S. proposal for majority rule in Rhodesia to be accomplished over a two year period, he reported that representatives of these two countries had advised him that "as long as the present circumstances in Rhodesia prevailed, we could expect no help or support of any kind from the free world. On the contrary, the pressures on us from the free world would continue to mount."

Edelman International Corporation is registered on behalf of the Republic of Turkey/Embassy of Turkey, to disseminate information setting forth the Turkish Government's policy on a number of international topics. The issue of Cyprus was of major importance throughout 1976. The Turkish Government claims that it was bound by the 1960 Treaty of Guarantee to intervene on Cyprus to stop the Greek sponsored coup on that island nation. The U.S. arms embargo, imposed on Turkey as a consequence of this intervention, has not only "delayed and complicated the efforts directed at resolving the Cyprus situation," but has seriously affected U.S.-Turkish relations and materially weakened NATO defenses. Turkey claims that Greece is committed to a policy of enosis (union of Cyprus to Greece), and the Turkish Government is just as firm in its resolve that such union will never occur. Furthermore, the Turks question the imposition of an embargo against them, when the U.S. has not taken any actions against the Greek Government which initiated the conflict using U.S. supplied arms in violation of the U.S. Foreign Assistance Act.

The registrant also disseminated information concerning a dispute between Greece and Turkey on the issue of sovereignty over the continental shelf of the Aegean Sea, and Turkish Government cooperation with the U.S. over poppy cultivation, including strict regulation of the poppy crop to insure that none finds its way into the illicit drug market.

The various releases and position papers disseminated by the registrant included the following titles: "Cyprus: The Problem and the Solution"; "Turkish Cypriot Leader Comments on Status of Settlement Proposals"; "Refugees in Cyprus"; "Greek Cypriot Maneuverings Delay Settlement Talks"; "U.S.-Turkey Defense Agreement Foundation for Stronger NATO"; "Turkish Prime Minister Expresses Detailed Views on Turkish - Greek Relations."

Infoplan International, Inc. Press Releases

Infoplan International is registered as the agent of Aganci Akdeniz on behalf of the Government of Turkey. The registrant disseminated press releases on behalf of this foreign principal, reporting details of several speeches delivered by the Foreign Minister of Turkey. The Minister related details of the Greek-Turkish dispute over Cyprus, explaining that as a guarantor of Cyprus' independence, Turkey was obliged to intervene to oppose the Greek supported coup. He also stated that U.S. intervention in the Cyprus issue, in the form of an arms embargo against Turkey, caused both sides to harden their positions thereby making a settlement more difficult. In addition, the embargo weakened the NATO alliance and damaged U.S.-Turkish relations.

Another issue affecting U.S.-Turkish relations was Turkish poppy production, which caused Turkey to be made "the scapegoat for the tragic drug problem" in the U.S. After temporarily suspending cultivation of the crop, the Turkish Government instituted stringent regulations of its production, so that a U.N. study has confirmed that "not an ounce of Turkish opium is now going to illicit drug traffic and production."

Manning, Selvage & Lee, Inc., was registered as a public relations agency on behalf of the Government of Turkey - Embassy of Turkey, to disseminate information designed to create a climate favorable to Turkey. One release disseminated by the registrant reported a Turkish Government initiative in the processing of that nation's poppy crop so as to provide codeine and other essentials for medicine, but to eliminate the diversion of the poppy to the illegal heroin market.

Another release reported details of a speech delivered by the Embassy's political counselor, commenting on the U.S. imposition of an arms embargo against Turkey, and its deeply troubling effects of the Turks. "We felt we had fulfilled our commitments to the fullest degree as a friend and ally of the United States. Suddenly, with the embargo we were confronted with a policy directed to weaken defense capabilities which obviously constitute the crux of our security relations. And we found ourselves unable to obtain equipment vital not only to our self-defense but to our ability to continue to perform our responsibilities as the defender of NATO's southeastern flank. . . . The ultimate effect was to weaken NATO's capabilities for defense."

McNutt, Dudley, Easterwood
& Losch

Pamphlet

This registrant, acting on behalf of the Government of Turkey, disseminated a pamphlet entitled United States Arms Embargo to Turkey. This publication consists of quotes from U.S. Government officials and newspaper articles condemning the arms embargo which was effected as a consequence of the Turkish - Greek conflict over the independence of Cyprus. The booklet maintains that Turkey was bound by a 1960 treaty to intercede in the Greek inspired coup d'etat, intended to unite Cyprus with Greece. The Greek action not only violated the 1960 treaty to which it was a signatory, but was further a violation of the 1961 U.S. Foreign Assistance Act, inasmuch as U.S. military equipment was used in the coup.

The booklet further points out that the embargo is costly to the U.S. in that vital intelligence bases are lost, the NATO alliance is seriously weakened, relations with Turkey have deteriorated, and the embargo has not contributed to a just settlement of the Cyprus issue.

Magazines, Newspapers

Eastern News Distributors, Inc. disseminates a variety of publications on behalf of Mezhdunarodnaia Kniga, Moscow. Sputnik, a monthly news digest, draws its information from "the whole diversity of the Soviet press" in order to inform readers about developments in the Soviet Union relating to international affairs, history, education, the economy, science, medicine, cultural developments and other topics. Standard fare offered in Sputnik is an article entitled "Behind a Wall of Fear" about a Soviet film which claims to expose the disastrous results of Mao Tse-tung's rule in China: the national economy is a shambles; the people live harsh, impoverished lives; the nation pursues a policy of increased militarisation; and "unlimited one-man rule" has displaced social democracy. "Night of Terror Over Chile" charges that the Chilean military junta maintains its position of authority through "repressions, tortures and other inhumanities." An article entitled "One Year Since the Helsinki Conference" claims that the Helsinki accord and the whole concept of detente are being delayed by "representatives of the war industry, the NATO militarists, the profascist and revanchist parties and organizations in Europe" and the Maoists. "The U.S.S.R. in the International Market" explains to readers that "after long years of the cold war, during which the markets of many countries were closed to Soviet goods, Western firms are beginning to familiarise themselves with the powerful economic and scientific and technical potential of the USSR, which meets the highest international standards." Another article, "Principal Aim - A Better Life for All" reports that the Communist Party's program for the tenth five-year plan is aimed at improving the standard of living and the level of cultural enjoyment for all Soviet citizens.

Other titles found in Sputnik include: "Gates to Siberian Oil"; "Soviet Supercities"; "Lenin on Morality and Humanism"; "Cuba: A New Stage"; "Taxation in the Soviet Union"; and "Why has the Soviet Union been Buying Grain Abroad."

Soviet Union is an illustrated monthly magazine which comments on a wide range of topics, including industry, architecture, art, politics, medicine, education and sports. Some of the titles included in Soviet Union throughout 1976 were "The Socialist Way of Life and National Consciousness"; "Health Care is the Concern of

Everyone"; "USSR-USA: Economics, Politics, Ideology"; "Lessons in a Rural School"; "Parameters of Economic Thinking"; "Detente: An Imperative of the Time"; and "One Year After Helsinki."

Travel to the USSR is a bimonthly magazine published by the State Foreign Tourism Administration for the USSR Council of Ministers. The magazine reports travel news, information on the arts, cultural activities and historical places to visit, in addition to detailing Soviet technical and industrial accomplishments, and the achievements of the socialist system.

Moscow News, a weekly newspaper publication of the Union of Soviet Societies for Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries, reported news on developments in the fields of politics, international relations, culture, industry, economics, and sports. An article in Moscow News had this to say about the success of the Soviet system: "The Soviet Union, the world's first country of victorious socialism, is entering its 60th year. As the founders of scientific communism foresaw, the new system has torn down all the obstacles on man's road to worthy and free life. All the basic rights - to work, leisure, education and social maintenance in old age - have been secured for all members of society. And as facts show, these rights are still largely an illusion for millions and millions of people in the capitalist world."

Four Continent Book Corporation is registered as a distribution agent on behalf of Mezhdunarodnaia Kniga, Moscow. In addition to the works of Marx, Lenin and Engels, the registrant disseminates the following titles:

Philosophical Views of Mao
Can the Socialists and Communists Cooperate
The Policy of the Soviet Union in the Arab World
German Imperialism
Arab Struggle for Economic Independence
Scientific Communism and Its Falsification by the Renegades

VIETNAM

China Books and Periodicals

Magazines, Books

China Books and Periodicals is registered for the dissemination of a variety of publications on behalf of Xunhasaba, Hanoi, Vietnam. Vietnam Courier, a monthly news magazine published in Hanoi, is an entirely political publication which reports developments relating to government, the economy, the recently-ended war in Vietnam, education and cultural news. A good deal of space focused on the reunification of the nation, the first session of the National Assembly, the leadership position of the Viet Nam Workers Party, and the attainment of the Vietnamese people, after many years of struggle, of "a regime of proletarian dictatorship." This publication at one point reports that the policy of the new government towards former members of the South Vietnamese army and others associated with the old regime in the South has "shown leniency toward those who, renouncing their past, wish to return to the fold of the nation Political courses have been organized to help the persons concerned to see more clearly the crimes and schemes of the Americans and the traitors"

Another article in Vietnam Courier, reporting that "three revolutionary currents" will shape the future of the world, claims that socialist states have demonstrated the superiority of their political, economic and social structures. The article refers to revolutionary struggles against imperialism, U.S. hegemony and "Wall Street magnates" which are allegedly occurring daily in Portugal, Spain, Angola, Zimbabwe, Arab nations (Palestinians), East Timor and Panama, in addition to the reports of "strikes and mass actions" which are "constantly breaking out in Western Europe, the U.S. and Japan."

Other articles in Vietnam Courier include "Thirty Years of Agricultural Development," "Hue, One Year After Liberation," "For the Complete and Final Abolition of Colonialism," "Thirty Years of Revolutionary Struggle by the Lao People," and "Exploration of Petroleum and Natural Gas in North Vietnam."

Vietnam (Illustrated) is a monthly pictorial magazine which, like Vietnam Courier, has a political message in each of its articles, even on such diverse topics as shipyard construction, medical research, agricultural production, international political relations, industrial achievements, ancient history and art. One article, commenting on the fighting which was occurring in Angola, reported that "U.S.-dominated imperialists, far from learning any profitable lesson from their defeats in Viet Nam, Laos, Kampuchea and other parts of the world, have joined the racists in South Africa and other reactionary forces within Angola as well as from outside in a determined aggression against the Angolan people. Their aim is to impose the rule of neo-colonialism on Angola, rob the people of their natural inheritance, and hold in check the national liberation movement now rapidly developing in this part of Africa."

An article entitled "Revolutionary Flames are Impetuously Rising" reports that Latin America is the scene of continuing struggle against U.S. imperialism. "South Vietnam in the Past Year" claims to recount life in the South since "liberation." "The Thai People's Struggle to Defend their National Sovereignty Against the U.S." reports on demands that "U.S. imperialist intervention" forces be removed from that nation because of their maintenance of air and naval bases in Thailand, which caused Thailand to be "an effective instrument in their (U.S.) policy of intervention and aggression against the Indochinese countries."

The registrant also disseminated a variety of books on behalf of this foreign principal, including:

The Reunification of Viet Nam

The Long Resistance (1858 - 1975)

U.S. Neo-Colonialism in South Viet Nam -

The "Vietnamization" of the War

The principal purpose of Congress in enacting the Foreign Agents Registration Act was to insure that the Government and the people of the United States would be informed of the identity of persons engaging in propaganda activities and other activities for or on behalf of foreign governments, foreign political parties, and other foreign principals. To achieve this purpose, Congress requires public disclosure by such persons in order that their statements and actions may be appraised in the light of their associations and activities. The Department of Justice in fulfilling its responsibilities under the Act relies upon its program of inspections pursuant to Section 615 (22 U.S.C. 615), its normal sources of information and upon the investigative efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Registration under the Act does not imply recognition by the United States Government either of the de jure existence or legality of the foreign principal, nor does registration indicate approval by the United States Government of the propaganda material disseminated or of the activities of the registered agent.

Respectfully submitted,

William B. Bell
