I dont know that. But the senator met frequently with ambassadors and if fact had two other ambassador meetings the next day. schedule below:

On the record statement, attributed to Sarah Isgur Flores:

There was absolutely nothing misleading about his answer. Last year, the Senator had over 25 conversations with foreign ambassadors as a senior member of the Armed Services Committee, including the British, Korean, Japanese, Polish, Indian, Chinese, Canadian, Australian, German and Russian ambassadors. He was asked during the hearing about communications between Russia and the Trump campaign--not about meetings he took as a senator and a member of the Armed Services Committee.

On background regarding the office visits by ambassadors:

He met with the ambassadors in his capacity as a senator on the Armed Services Committee, and they discussed relations between the two countries and any positive or negative issues they were facing. During 2016, ambassadors would often make superficial comments about election-related news, but it was not the substance of their discussion.
After speaking to the group of 50-plus ambassadors, a small group of ambassadors approached the Senator as he was leaving the stage. The Russian ambassador was among them. He spoke to them while they stood together as a group. The ambassadors expressed appreciation for his remarks and made invitations for the Senator to join them at various events they were sponsoring. He made no commitments.

Hey Peter and Sarah—

I see Trump is going to say tonight that the "vast majority of individuals convicted for terrorism-related offenses since 9/11 came here from outside of our country," per Justice Department data. Are you able to point me toward the data to which he's referring (or, if it's not public, send it along)?

Hi Sarah,

I know you’re having an incredibly busy day. I’m checking in though because I recently joined Brian Williams’ 11pm team and I’m really hoping you’ll consider joining him in the 11pm/ET tonight. I think viewers will be turning to Brian this evening to cap off all of today’s events relating to this story and we’d really like to have your voice heard. I know it will be a fair and thoughtful discussion.

Please let me know what you think.

Thanks,

Good Afternoon Sarah,

Would you be available for an interview on MSNBC this Saturday at 9am with Thomas Roberts?

If that timing does not work, we could do an interview in any of the following hours:

Saturday

7am (anchor: Dara Brown)

8am (anchor: Thomas Roberts)
9am (anchor: Thomas Roberts)
Noon (anchor: Sheinelle Jones)
1pm (anchor: Sheinelle Jones)

Sunday
9am (anchor Thomas Roberts)
Noon (anchor: Frances Rivera)
1pm (Anchor: Frances Rivera)

Please let me know if you have any availability.

Thank you.

MSNBC

Sarah -

I'm here to make a personal plea to have you on with us at 10am. I thought your written statement re: Sessions was spot on. You are absolutely his best advocate, and I know it would be of great benefit to have you on in his defense.
Best,

Shannon

Something for the memoir! Seriously, you handled this fire drill better than your west wing colleagues.

its my second full day on the job. it was like a waking nightmare for a comms person. no press lists. no email set up. dont know where the bathroom is (literally). so i'm not sure as served him as well as i could today...but we did the best we could.

will let you know on Sunday...but I think unlikely.

I get that decision. Then again, I thought for a one day fire drill, you have handled this well. Which means, he'd handle a Sunday well. And I can only imagine how having...

Agree! While not decided yet, I think it is unlikely we will do a Sunday show this week. But will let you know if that changes.

Just adding to your list of folks to respond to so my apologies on that front.

But there’s nothing like a straight forward just the facts type of sit down with the AG that I think can help clear up confusion. I know there’s always fear of the unknown with these interviews in these news cycles but I think we can keep it an elevated discussion.

Hope to catch up soon
