Good evening -

As some of you may be aware, we plan to create a White House Border Security Task Force comprised of members from your departments, along with HHS, DOD, and WH policy staff. The purpose of the task force will be to oversee long-term strategy, check in on daily progress, facilitate close coordination between departments, and ensure that all presidential deadlines and goals are met fully and on time.

The White House will need to hire a skilled and experienced staff member to manage the day-to-day operations of the task force. We are asking all relevant departments and agencies to send any names that may be qualified for this deeply important position as soon as possible. We will be finalizing the list of candidates by Wednesday at 5:00PM.

Thank you,
Stephen

Subject: Request for Comment from The New Yorker (on deadline)

Dear Heather,

I've written a piece for newyorker.com on the recent announcement about the refugee ceiling for the upcoming fiscal year. Below please find the information directly pertinent to Secretary Pompeo and the State Department. I welcome any clarifications or comments on the details described below. My deadline is tomorrow morning.

Thanks, as always, for your time.

Best,
Jon

This past August:

- On August 22, the Secretary of State, Mike Pompeo, traveled to the White House for a meeting about the annual refugee cap.
- That afternoon, he was planning to join the other "Principals," including Kirstjen Nielsen and John Bolton.
- Even though it was fairly late in the process, there was still uncertainty about the final figure.
- Secretary Pompeo wanted the number to be consistent with where it was this past year, at forty-five thousand. Others, including Stephen Miller, at the White House wanted it to be lower.
- Miller scheduled a meeting a few hours before the Principals Committee meeting that afternoon.
- After the first meeting, Miller canceled the Principals Committee meeting, scheduled for later that afternoon.
- The Principals Committee Meeting was finally held last Friday (9/14).

Earlier in August:

- After a meeting among officials from the State Department, DHS, and DoD, a so-called "summary of conclusions" mischaracterized the positions of the Department of Defense and the State Department.
- Their explicit support for forty-five thousand was cast in deliberately vague terms without reference to a specific figure.

General Commentary:

-I don't go into deep speculation about Secretary Pompeo's change in position, but I do note that the Secretary's position seemed to change between August 22 and this past Monday, when he made the announcement about the new refugee cap.
