Hey Michael and (b)(6) per T,

Any chance you might have some way of identifying the following transactions more specifically (all OFAC blocked property). I'm looking to see whether we can get more information on account number and the actual accountholders in short order. If not, no problem.

Many thanks!

Good Afternoon Mr. Adams,

The Asset Forfeiture Management Staff (AFMS) is working to develop an internal dashboard that will allow us to track the expenses related to assets seized pursuant to the efforts of Task Force KleptoCapture and the Russian sanctions enforcement. So far we are aware of the seizure efforts of the Tango, Amadea, and [REDACTED] (b)(6), (b)(7)(A). Are there any other assets that have been seized, or are pending seizure, that we should be including in this dashboard at this time? I appreciate any insight you are able to provide.

1. Not scheduled yet, but probably around the middle of the month.
2. The criteria are approved now.
3. I don't expect us to solicit new members in light of other members' expressed desires to keep the group small. I expect that members may propose a new member or two over the next couple of months, and then we'll discuss.

Thanks for the feedback, which we have shared with relevant posts.

A few other questions:

1. When is the next REPO Task Force Meeting?
2. When do you expect the Task Force to discuss and approve the criteria for new members?
3. What will the process be for accepting new members (e.g., do we plan to solicit specific new members, or will we share criteria broadly and then accept applications?)

Happy to discuss.

Hi (b)(6) per Treasury

We've gotten questions through USEU from some EU posts about what points from the ALDAC (22 STATE 57940) on the REPO/TFKC they should deliver to host governments. I've pasted the summarized version below. I would like to clarify a few points:

- My understanding is that (b) (5) [redacted] Is that correct?
- As to (b) (5) [redacted], I believe (b) (5) [redacted] but would appreciate your steer.
- As to (b) (5) [redacted], I think (b) (5) [redacted]. But we really do need Treasury/DOJ's thoughts about that.
- (b) (5) [redacted] ?

In addition, could you please provide any updates to/clearance on the points below re EU Freeze and Seize efforts and REPO for U/S Fernandez, who is attending a dinner with the EU Justice Commissioner and others early next week?

Thanks.

Best,

Subject: Action Request: Launch of Task Forces to Target Russian-Sanctioned Persons and Assets

1. (U) This is an action request. Please see paragraphs 6-7.

2. (SBU)

SUMMARY: Washington wishes to provide all diplomatic and consular posts with information regarding two interagency task forces that the Departments of Justice and the Treasury have established to target Russia-sanctioned persons and assets and to highlight efforts to coordinate with foreign ministries with respect to these taskforces. This is a whole-of-government approach to the implementation of Russia sanctions covered by these task forces. Posts should provide the information requested to the newly created Department email distro or via front channel cable. END SUMMARY

â€

3. (SBU) On March 16, in response to Russian aggression in Ukraine, the G7 countries (the United States, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Italy, and the United Kingdom), along with Australia and the European Union (EU), launched the Russian Elites, Proxies, and Oligarchs (REPO) Task Force. REPO focuses on identifying and seizing assets, including boats, planes, helicopters, real estate, and potentially art or other property. It also focuses on freezing financial accounts in the United States and foreign jurisdictions with a view towards possible forfeiture/confiscation and/or criminal prosecution where the facts and law would support such a result.â€

â€â€â€

4. (SBU) Each member jurisdiction uses its respective national authorities to collect and share information to enable U.S. and partner actions, including sanctions, asset freezes, civil and criminal asset seizure, and criminal prosecution. REPO consists of Finance Ministry representatives and Justice or Home Ministry representatives in each member jurisdiction. The Departments of Justice (DOJ) and the Treasury co-lead the REPO taskforce for the United States, with other departments and agencies, including State, providing active support.â€â€â€

â€

5. (SBU) On March 2, DOJ launched the U.S.-based Task Force KleptoCapture (TFKC), a U.S. interagency law enforcement task force dedicated to enforcing the sanctions and export controls that the United States has imposed on Russia. Immediate priorities for TFKC include identifying assets owned or controlled by individuals or entities on the Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List (SDN list) and undertaking enforcement actions, including asset seizures. Another TFKC goal is building cases to prosecute those transacting in or dealing with those assets.

BEGIN TALKING POINTS

FOR REPO TASK FORCE MEMBER COUNTRIES: OTTAWA, TOKYO, LONDON, CANBERRA AND ALL POSTS IN EU MEMBER STATES

9.

We thank you for the measures you have taken under your national authorities to collect and share information to enable actions including sanctions, asset freezes, civil and criminal asset seizure, and criminal prosecution since the REPO Task Force was announced on March 16.

9.

We would like to work with you to engage a variety of countries outside REPO Task Force members to advance the Task Force's goals.

(b)(5) per State

¶•

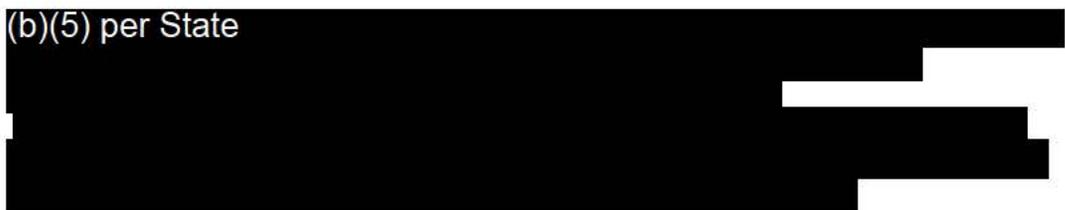

We welcome support and amplifying messages from partners and will look to support any complementary messages you deliver as well. We remain committed to consulting with you as we look to next steps and pursue justice in response to Russia's actions.

FOR G7 COUNTRIES ONLY

(U) We are also coordinating points and outreach with G7 partners on sanctions generally. This cable is intended to address the taskforces and to be complementary to those efforts.

(b)(5) per State

¶•

(SBU) We thank you for any measures you have taken to support sanctions efforts to date and to hold the Russian Federation to account for its war of aggression in Ukraine.

31.

(b)(5) per State

31.

(U) We have several questions:

a.

Do you have specific information regarding asset identification that can be shared? For example, title number, land record, ownership information from bank documents, address, etc.

Do you have specific information on bank accounts or financiers/facilitators of sanctioned persons that can be shared?

c.

Have you been contacted by representatives of individuals on the Specially Designated Nationals list (i.e., U.S. sanction list)?

Does the host government have the legal framework to enforce domestic, U.S. and/or other foreign partner sanctions against Russian entities/assets located or operating within their jurisdiction (for example a relevant sanctions regime, AML/CFT law, etc.)? If so, is there political will to do so?

What is the host government's institutional capability to conduct financial investigations?

f.

Is the host government tracking any information about potential assets of designated individuals or entities residing within their jurisdiction who have the potential to evade U.S. or international sanctions?â€â€ g.

Is the host government considering any legislative actions to improve regulatory measures making it more difficult for sanctioned entities to abuse their financial and economic systems?â€

¶•

(SBU) Second, likeminded countries can collaborate with members of REPO and KleptoCapture on asset freezes, seizures, or confiscations/forfeitures, within their jurisdiction.

(b)(5) per State

¶•

(SBU) Fourth, we encourage your government to consider seizure, detention, inspection, or other measures, consistent with your domestic authorities, related to vessels or other assets in your jurisdictions.â€

(SBU) If you lack the sanctions or other authorities to do so you may want to consider alternative measures to halt the movement of assets:â€â€â€

(U) Those who continue to do business with blocked Russia or Belarus persons and entities are at risk of being subject to U.S. sanctions. Under our Russia-related Executive Order (E.O.) 14024 or Belarus-related E.O.s 13405 and 14038, individuals or entities that materially assist, sponsor, or provide financial, material, or technological support for, or goods or services to or in support of, such designated persons could be subject to U.S. sanctions.

•

(U) Examples of activity potentially subject to U.S. sanctions include, but are not limited to, helping designated persons: (1) procure or provide goods or services on their behalf or in concert with proxies acting on their behalf; (2) move their businesses to new jurisdictions; (3) re-register or move their yachts or aircraft; (4) conceal their involvement in transactions in order to clear them through the United States; (5) conceal or transfer their ownership of companies, real estate, yachts, planes, vehicles, or other property; (6) obscure involvement in activities by acting as a legal proxy, obtaining or exercising power of attorney (POA) or through other legal services; and (7) obtain legal documentation, such as visas, residency permits, passports, name changes, or business registrations.

•

(U) Additionally, to restrict Russia's ability to project power and fulfill its strategic ambitions, the United States controls certain items destined for Russian and Belarusian end users even when the items are produced outside the United States using the "foreign direct product" rules (FDPR). Under FDPR, certain items that are the direct products of certain U.S.-origin software or technology require a license from the United States for shipment to Russia or Belarus.

•

(U) Finally, strong anti-money laundering (AML) regimes are more important than ever. Ensuring your AML measures are in line with global standards and implemented effectively will deter designated individuals from exploiting your financial sector and evading international sanctions.

Hi Michael,

The GL covers employees, contractors, and grantees that are conducting "official business" of the USG. So to the extent the transactions fall under that umbrella, you would be covered by the GL and no additional authorization would be necessary.

Thanks!

Hi Michael,

Yes, I believe that is the meaning and intent of the GL, but defer to my Licensing and Regulatory Affairs colleagues, copied, to confirm/correct me here.

Happy to discuss more broadly if helpful.

Hi, Mike,

Not sure if this question is best put to you or the licensing folks, but we recently took notice of a new OFAC reg at 31 CFR 589.510:

§ 589.510 Official business of the United States Government.

All transactions prohibited by this part that are for the conduct of the official business of the United States Government by employees, grantees, or contractors thereof are authorized.

As I read this, it means that (b) (5)

I just want to be sure that that is the intent of the reg and that OFAC shares that understanding before we start acting in reliance on it.

If this needs to be part of a wider discussion or if it would help to get on the phone, please let us know!

If it's under any of the Russian Harmful EOs, the USG is exempt, although that may not mean any practical difference from the DOJ perspective. To Nikole's point, this exemption doesn't apply to all partners necessarily, only those that would be employees/contractors/grantees.

Best,
Lauren
