Following up on something we chatted about a few weeks ago. I was going to share this draft with a colleague from NDDS, Harry Matz, who is interested in the subject, and after you and Robyn gave the go-ahead, I looked and all I could find is this marked up version. Do you have a cleaner/more up to date version I could share?

Ed Banks and I have been working on a memo to address the questions from ODAG/OASG below on safe injection sites or overdose prevention sites. I expect to have a draft approaching completion by tomorrow evening. I've promised Robyn and Susan that I'd send over a draft for their review by Sunday morning, before we seek Hampton's review on Monday. Would you have time tomorrow evening to provide a read? This is a terrible ask, I know, for a Saturday evening review.

No worries if you're going to be unavailable. This came while doing the final push to complete (b)(5) [REDACTED], so this is being spilled over to tonight and tomorrow for me.

Thanks – and truly no worries if you have other plans.

PREDECISIONAL/DELIBERATIVE

Dear Susan, Robyn, and Julius,

As you may know, the Department is evaluating overdose prevention sites—sometimes called safe injection sites, supervised injection sites, or harm reduction centers—as part of an overall approach to harm reduction. To that end, we are interested in OLP's feedback on any or all of the questions below.

We are grateful for your input and would appreciate receiving your responses by next Tuesday, February 1. These issues are still under review at the Department and are the subject of ongoing litigation, so please treat this information as confidential and do not share outside DOJ.

Let us know if you have any questions.

Thank you in advance,
Sara Solow (ODAG) and Betsy Henthorne (OASG)

I am attaching a memo that Ed and I drafted on supervised injection sites in response to ODAG/OASG's request. Robyn and Susan have provided their reviews and approved the document to be submitted to Hampton for his review. (For context, I'm also attaching an earlier memo that we submitted to the DAG on September 23, 2021; Ed and I drafted that memo as well under Susan/Robyn's supervision.)

ODAG/OASG have asked if we could provide responses to their questions by tomorrow (see below). I apologize that the requested turnaround time is mere 24 hours or so.

Thank you.

Hi Julius,

Attached please find my notes on the draft.

Great document, with lots of really interesting information.

In light of where things are in the process, I didn't make many notes on the substantive findings, but more readability/structure of the draft comments.

They are my perspective from submitting memos to the AAG of the CRM division over the years, but they're just my thoughts and please feel free to disregard any or all of them.

Sorry wasn't able to get to this over the weekend, and good luck getting this over the line.

Best,
Kirt

With many thanks, attached are the SMD and RT combined comments and edits. Also know that I read the appendices, and the lack of red there is in fact a reflection of the fact that the descriptions seemed solid and useful. Please get back with any questions, smd

Hi Julius,

I apologize for the delay in getting this back to you. It took a little longer to locate info than expected.

I hope some of this is helpful.

Of course, please edit/revise as needed.

Also, just an FYI... I have (b)(6), but should be back around 10am ET, if you need any info or have any questions.

Hi Ed – Are you available at all to review? I can take the first crack at addressing their comments and edits, but I imagine you have a better grasp on the first section. If you're unavailable, no worries -- I'll do my best to address everything.

Thanks, Matthew. Yes, definitely. Although I've also not had the clearest sense of ODAG's plans for Wednesday, we've now learned more about them and materials are being prepared. This morning, based in part on materials Rachel and I provided—materials we previously prepared for you and Vanita—Sara Solow in ODAG sent Rachel and me a draft briefing memo for the DAG and Vanita in advance of Wednesday's meeting, and I've sent some comments back (see attached), cc-ing Paul as well. Once this is finalized—today I believe—I'd anticipated including this, with attachments, in Vanita's binder.

As further explained in the attached, ODAG has proposed that the purpose of Wednesday's meeting be to initiate a discussion among the leadership offices about these issues, and to exchange initial thoughts and views. ODAG also notes that (b)(5)

If anything else would be helpful, please let me know.

Adam – VG said this morning that she doesn't have a great sense of the agenda for or purpose of the Wednesday meeting with the DAG; can you either prepare a briefing memo for that meeting with any info you have on the purpose of the mtg or the topics VG should be expected to discuss; or can you call ODAG to get more info on the agenda and her expected role?
thanks

Rachel,

In light of this morning's conversation and OLP's revised memo—which, I've confirmed, Sara is comfortable attaching to the briefing materials for next week—I've further revised a draft cover memo. From my perspective, this might do us for our contribution: (b)(5)

I'll look forward to your thoughts, and then we can pass on to Sara to add an intro.
