Hi Sue,

Parallel tracking in motion. We have already re-scoped the technical component – meaning all case materials are uploaded into the system with the GJ subfiles removed and are pending assignment to those redacting following final approval and training. We will update training tonight as well.

Shannon,

(b) (6) and I think that we should parallel track for efficiency: while we are reaching consensus on the redaction issues discussed on our call, we can go ahead and execute the re-scoping of documents outlined in steps 1 and 2 (copied below). Could you please confirm that we are executing that now, or let us know if there is any reason we should not move forward?

Additionally, we will follow up with you about DOJ/FBI integration coordination as previewed so that we can be as helpful as possible.

Hi (b) (6),

Attached are editable versions of the enclosures we provided with today's delivery. Paper copies were included in the box; electronic versions were on the flash drives as well.

(The 'How to React in 7 Steps' was already a PDF - we didn't create this one so we don't have the Word version).

Note - Column A is the original file path with contextual information on where the data originated (As the collection was consolidated and digitized). Column B removed known victim names from the file path naming convention per DOJ request. If Flag list files do not match Redacted victim-removed file name, reference column A for original name. Case and file serial may not appear sequential in a sort based on file nomenclature. Lastly, case files where split into 100 page increments for redaction and review.

Redact PDF files so information stays private

Whether you're running a business or just managing personal documents, you'll sleep better at night if you take a few extra steps to protect sensitive content before you share electronic documents.

If you learn how to redact a PDF, you can easily black out credit card numbers, social security numbers, addresses, and other personal details in forms you share electronically. Concealing sensitive information is especially helpful to ensure safe communication between businesses and customers, medical providers and insurance companies, schools and students, and, of course, law firms and courts.

Bates Number_25-cv-3200_00134

In addition to text and images, PDFs contain data about the information within, or metadata. Metadata can include the document's author, the document description, keywords, and dates and times of creation or modification. A PDF might also contain elements like JavaScript that can change and unexpectedly modify the formatting. All of this is info you might want to keep private. By removing it through PDF redaction, you can ensure your PDF is safe and your formatting is consistent.

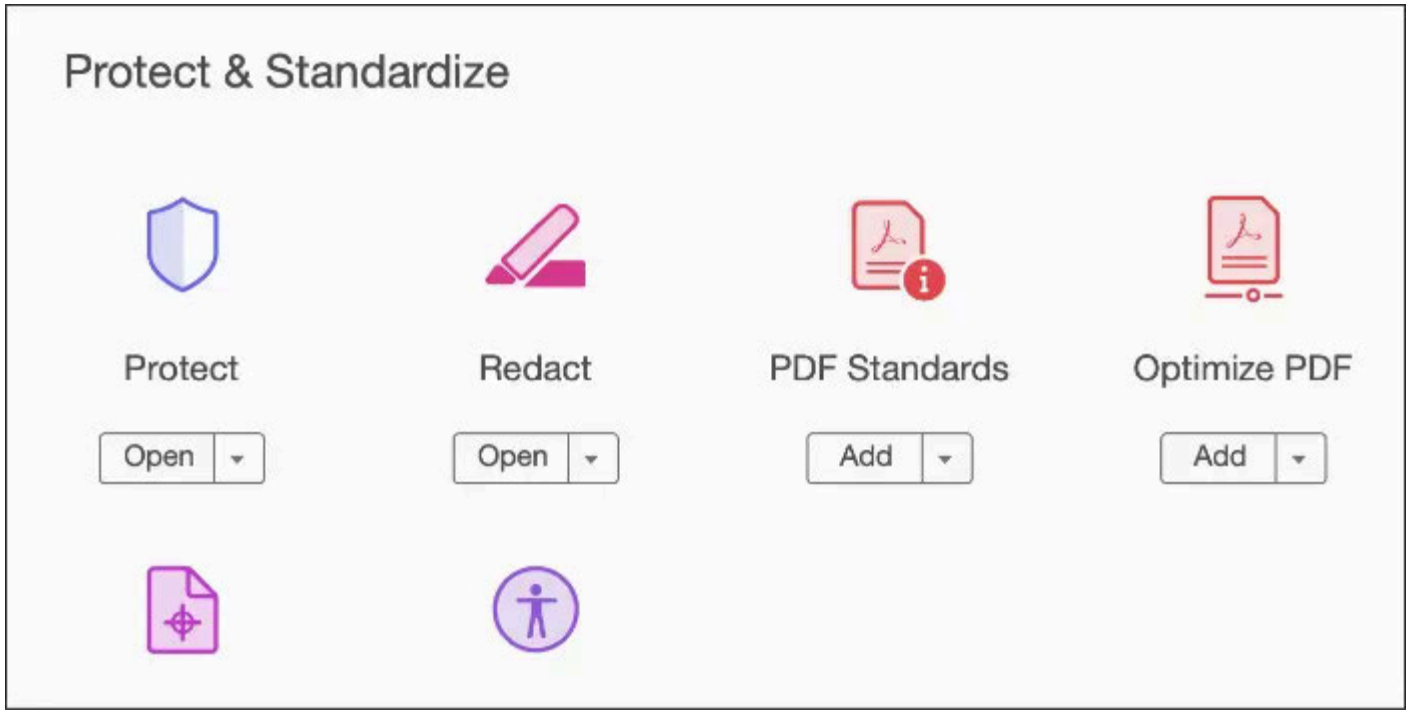

How to redact a PDF in 7 steps.

With the Redact tool in Adobe Acrobat Pro, you can permanently remove text and graphics from your PDF document. First, make a copy of your PDF so you don't accidentally lose something you want to keep. Then, go into Edit Mode and follow these steps to select text or images and redact them.

Bates Number_25-cv-3200_00136

1. Select Tools › Redact.

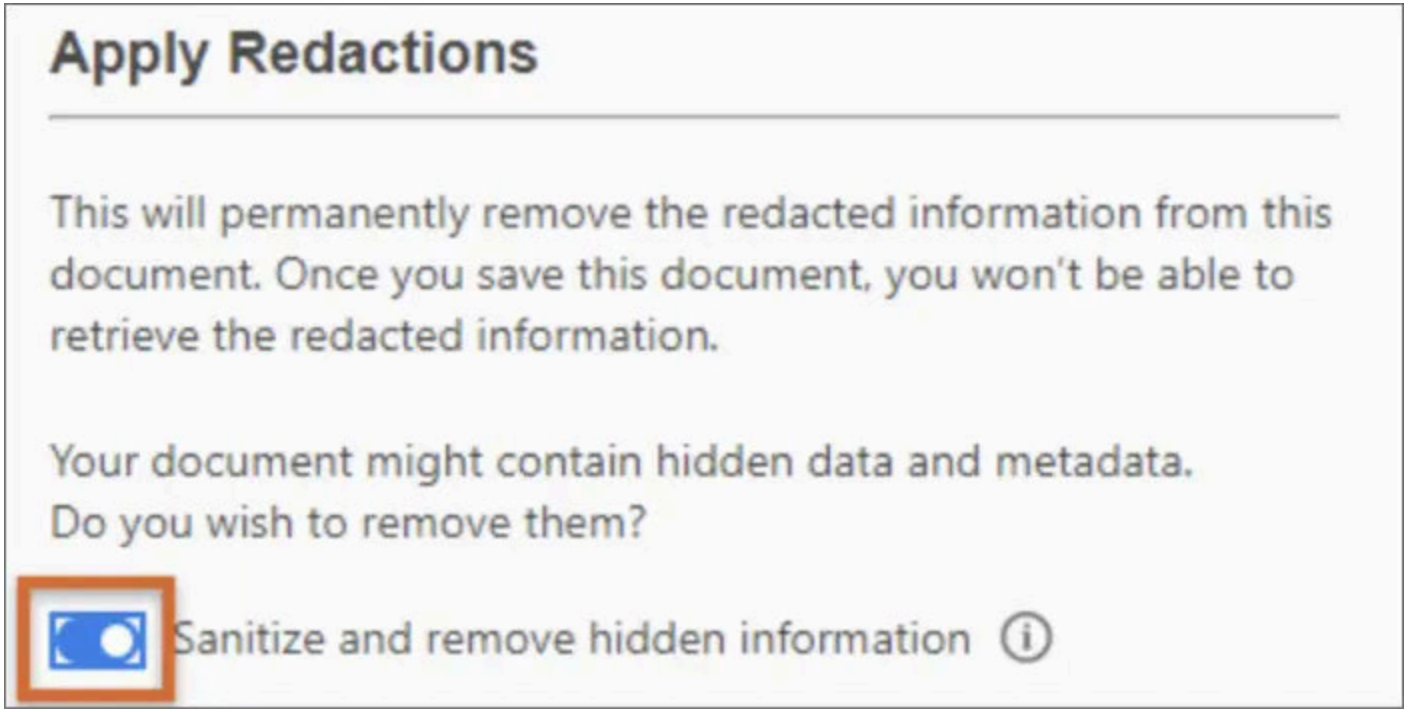

2. Use the crosshair to draw rectangles over the text or images you want to permanently remove from the PDF. (Type Command+Z on a Mac or Control+Z on a PC to undo any mistakes.)

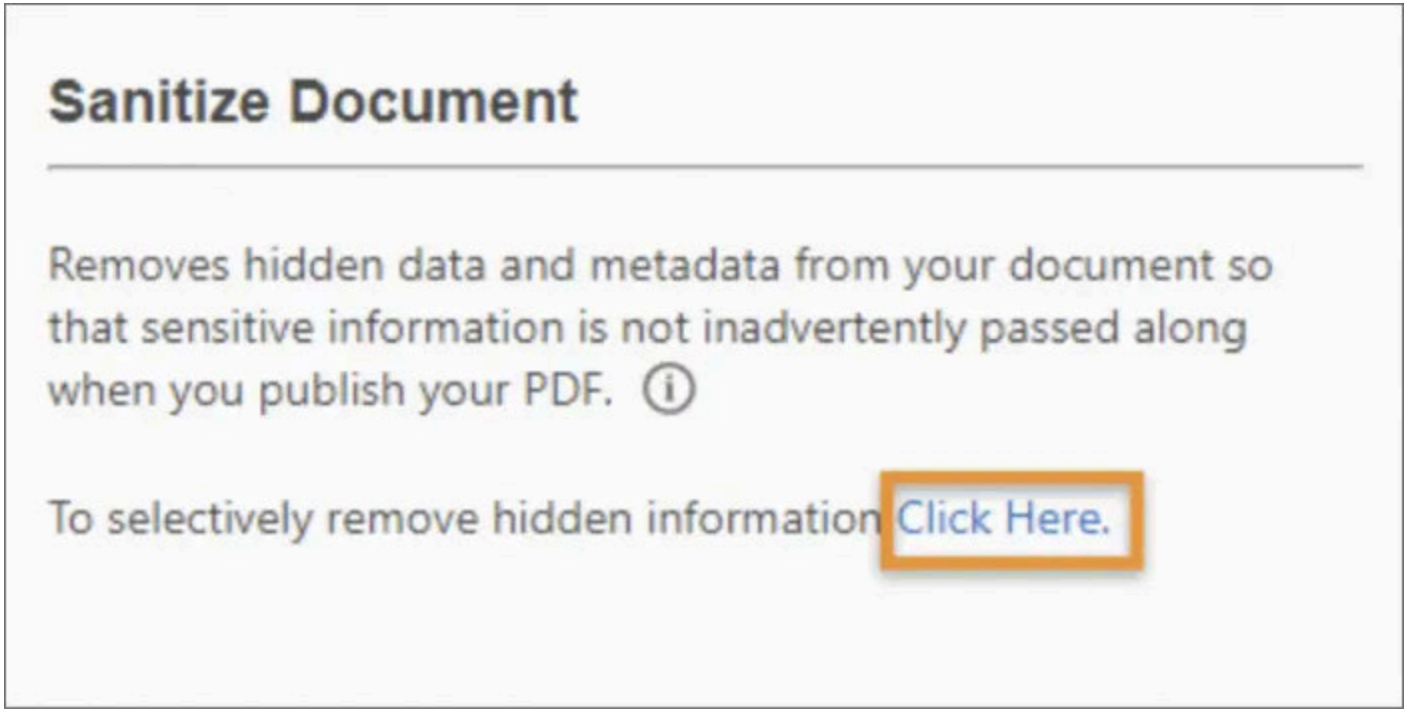

3. Optional: If you don't want a black box, select your preferred redaction marks. Click the drop-down menu next to the Redact Text & Images box, and select Redaction Tool Properties. Pick outline and fill colors for the redacted area, or click Use Overlay Text. Add custom text in the field, choose from US Privacy Act and FOIA codes, or import new codes. Click OK when you have your selections.

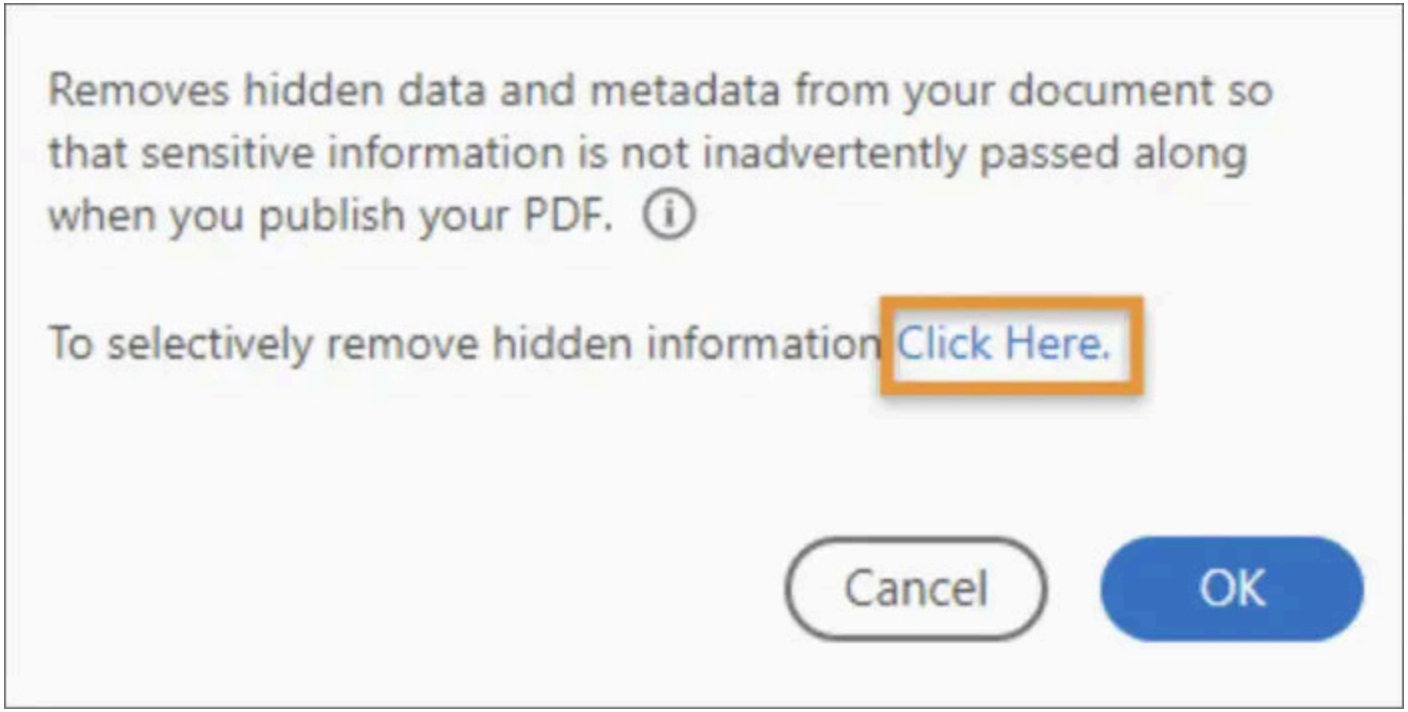

4. Click Apply. A pop-up will appear warning you that once you click OK, the redacted information will be permanently deleted and you won't be able to retrieve it.

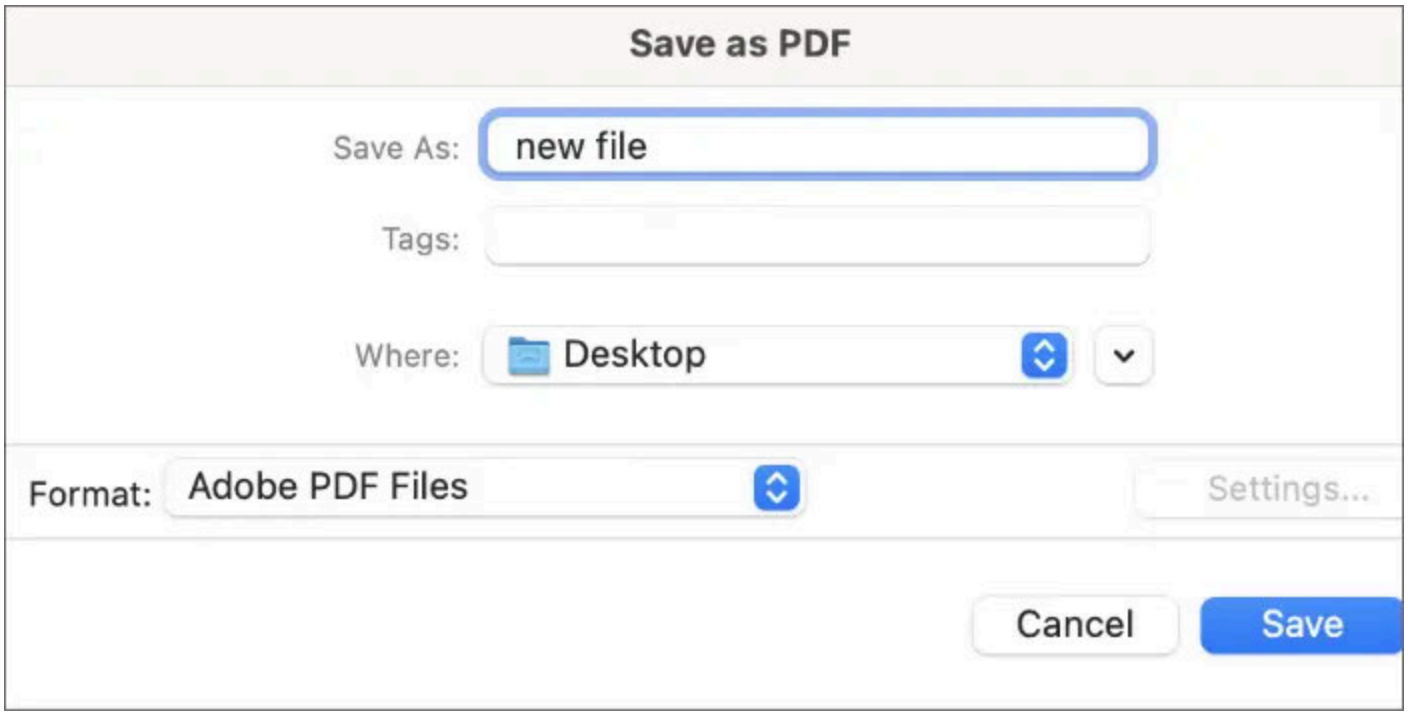

5. In the same pop-up window, select whether you want to remove the hidden data and metadata as well. Sanitize the PDF by leaving the toggle button on. (Read more about sanitizing documents below.)

6. Click OK to apply the redactions.

7. Save as a different file name to avoid overwriting the original PDF.

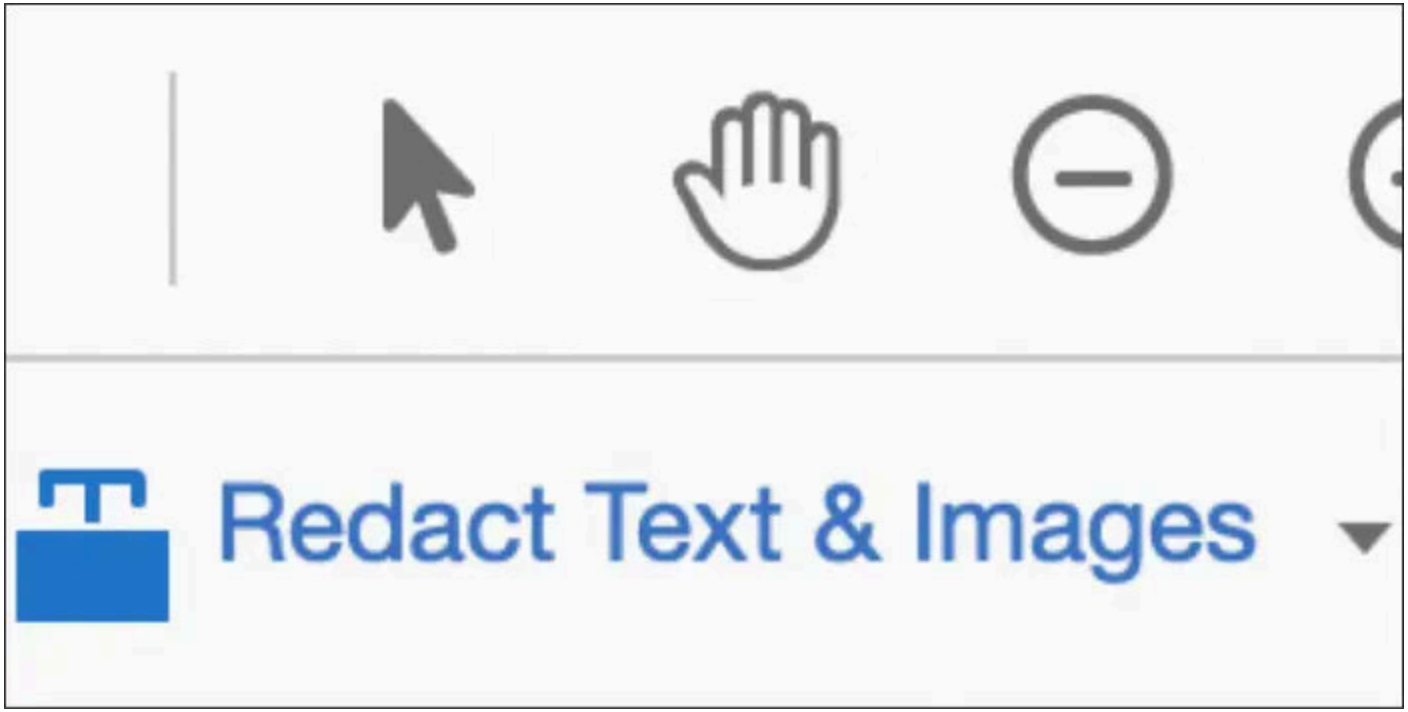

How to redact every instance of a word or phrase

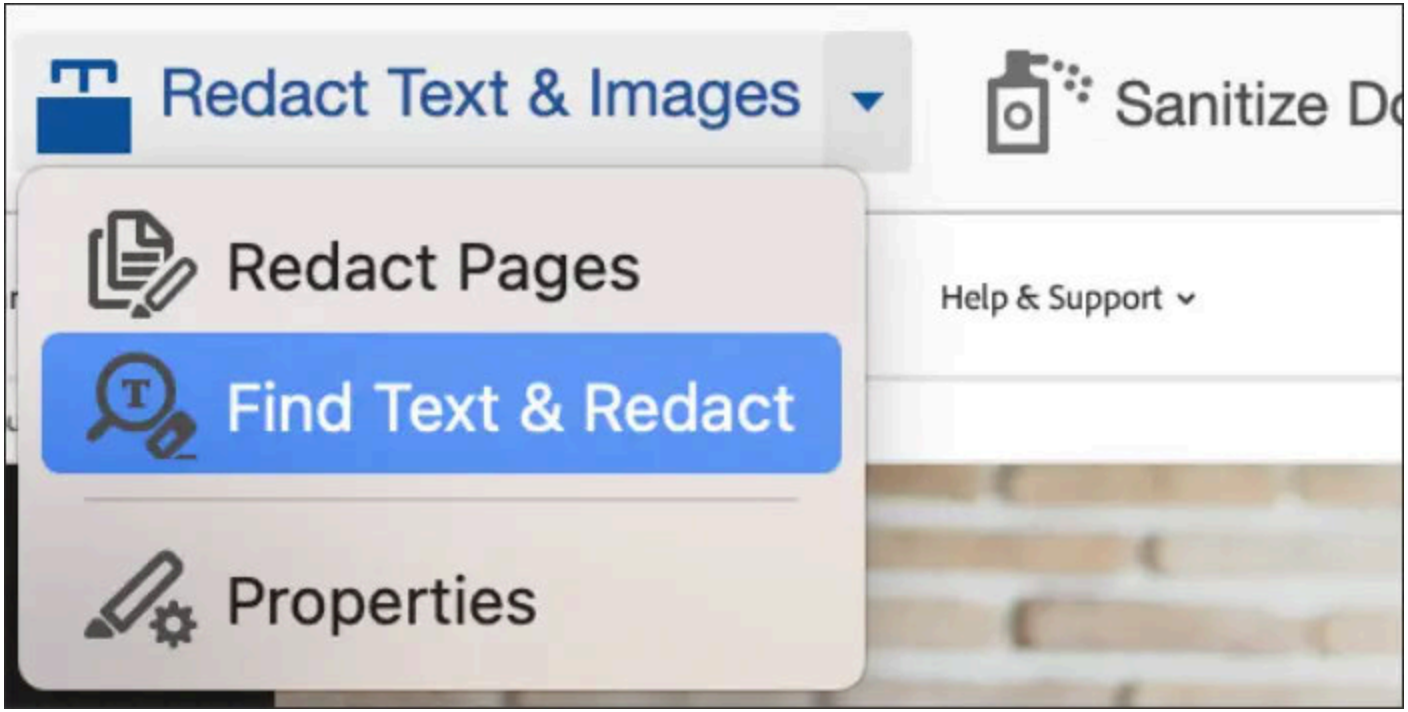

There are some situations that require more than just knowing how to redact a PDF.

For example, US courts require that mentions of Social Security numbers, names of minor children, dates of birth, and financial account numbers be redacted in legal filings. You can make quick work of these redactions with the Find Text tool in PDFs that contain searchable text.

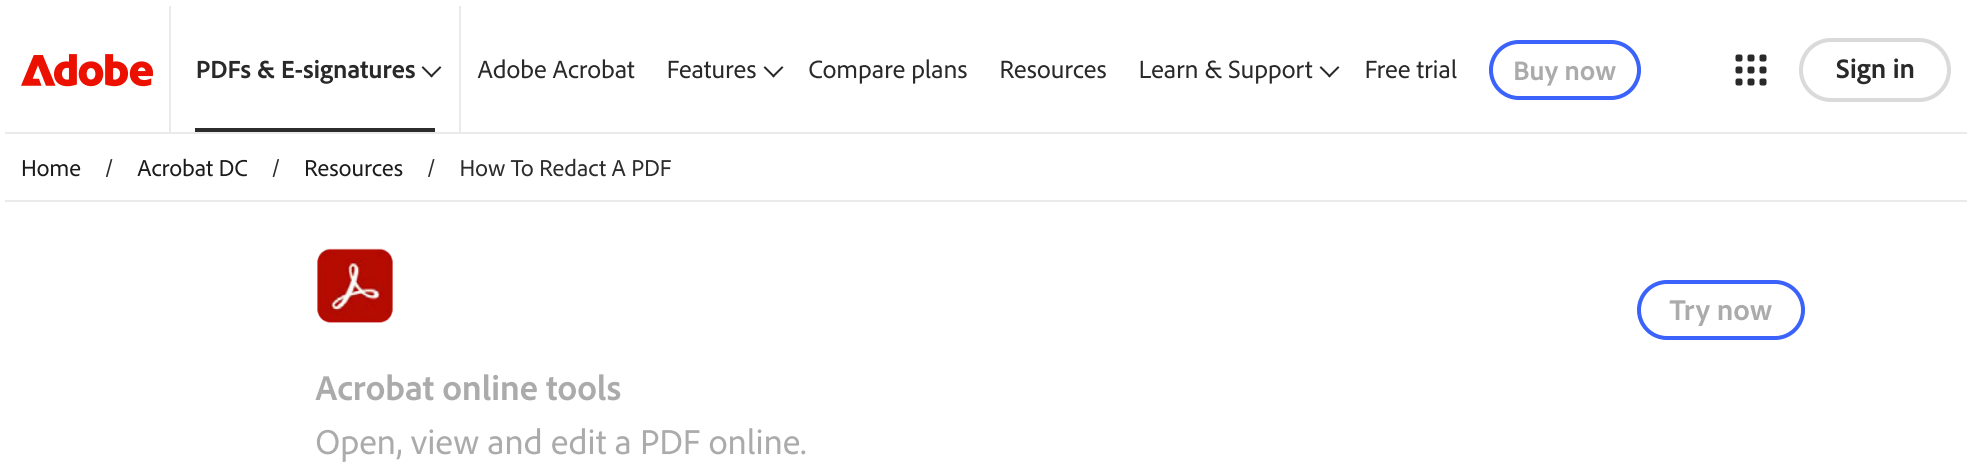

1. Select Tools › Redact › Redact Text & Images.

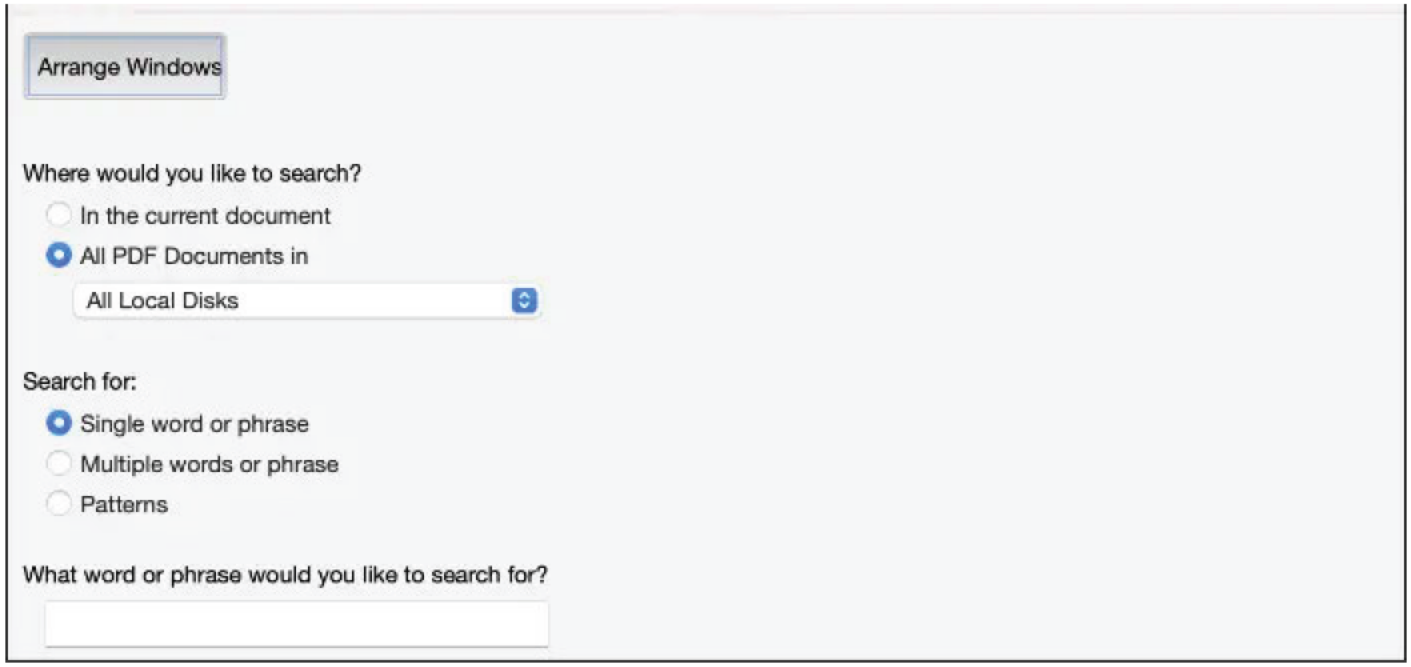

2. Click the drop-down menu and choose Find Text & Redact.

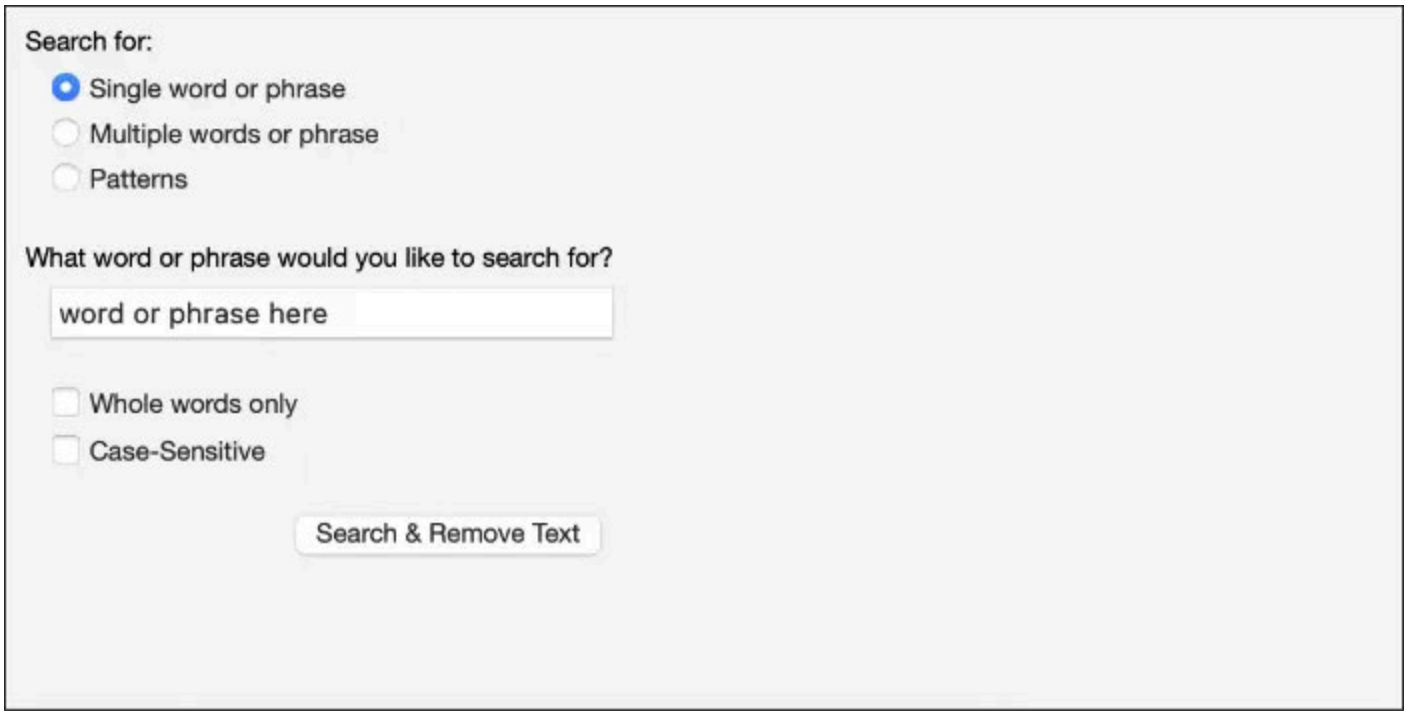

3. In the Search dialog box, search the current PDF or all PDFs in another location.

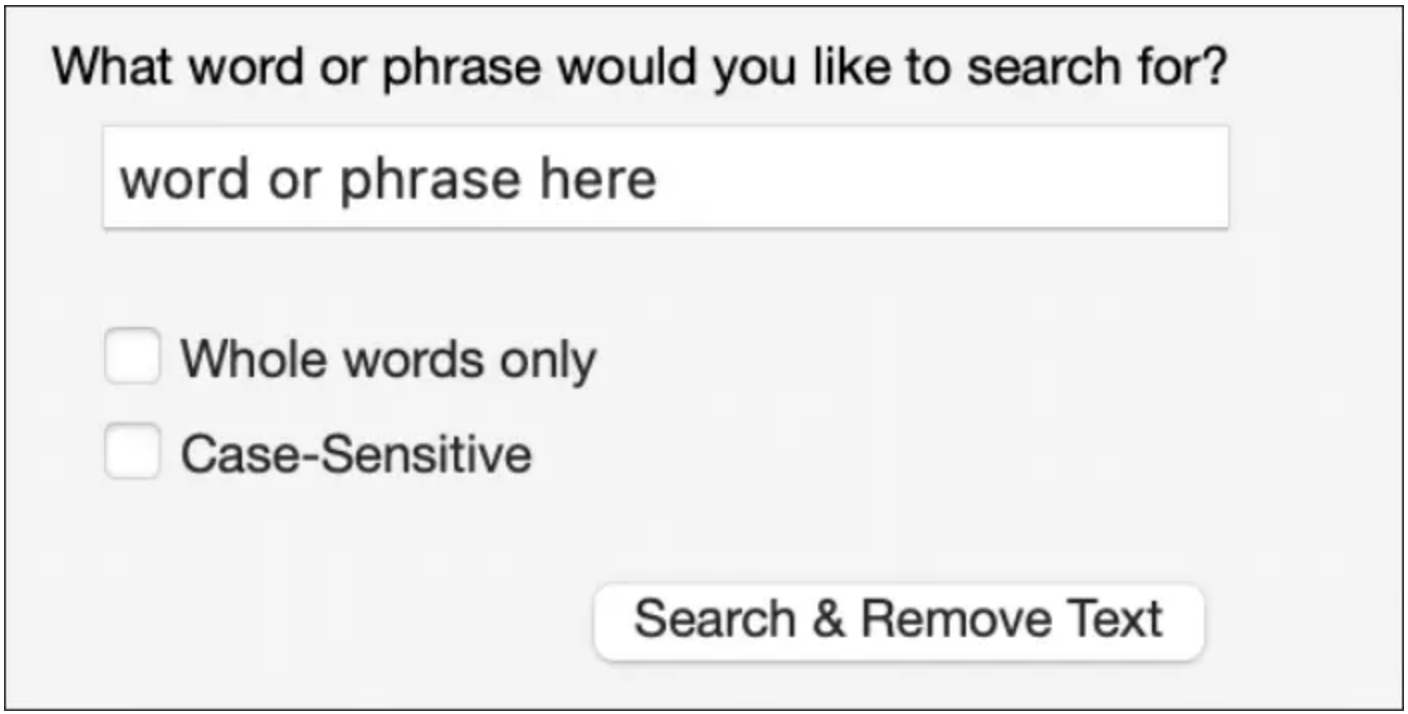

4. Pick your preference:

- Single word or phrase: Just type the word or phrase in the text field.
- Multiple words or phrase: Search multiple words or phrases. Select Words, type each word in the New Word Or Phrase text field, and click Add. (You can also import a text file with the list of words or phrases to search for.)
- Patterns: Search for patterns like phone numbers, credit card numbers, email addresses, Social Security numbers, or dates. Choose one of the available patterns. You can change the language version of the patterns by clicking Edit › Preferences on a PC or Acrobat › Preferences on a Mac.

5. Click Search & Remove Text.

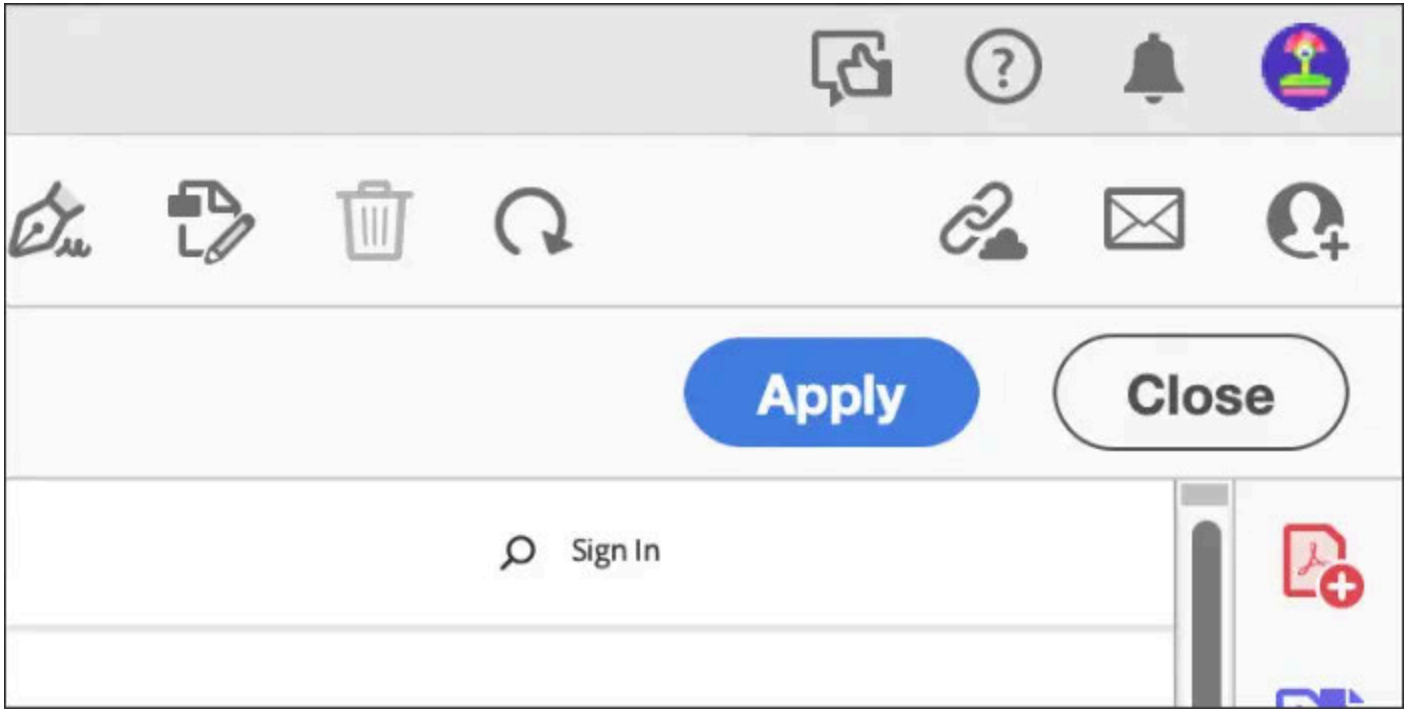

6. Click the plus sign (+) next to the document name to see all occurrences of the word or phrase, and select all.

7. Click Apply to remove the items marked for redaction. The items aren't permanently removed from the document until you save it, and you can save the file with a different name to avoid overwriting the original file.

Sanitize your PDF documents

When you sanitize PDF files, you remove both visible and hidden sensitive information so your PDF is free from content you want to keep private.

The removed information might include metadata, embedded content, attached files, scripts, hidden layers, embedded search indexes, stored form data, comments and annotations, hidden data from previous document saves, obscured text and images, unreferenced data, links, actions, JavaScript, and overlapping objects.

Sanitizing a document in the final step of the PDF redaction process above, or just follow these quick steps:

1. Choose Tools › Redact.

2. Click Sanitize Document in the top toolbar.

3. Choose to selectively remove hidden information or remove all by clicking OK.

---

4. Choose Save As… and save the file with a different name to avoid overwriting the original.

Reasons to learn how to redact a PDF

You may be most familiar with redaction in legal or government-related documents. When court documents are published or shared with other parties, sensitive or private information is redacted. This includes information that could pose identity theft risks, information relevant to ongoing investigations, classified information, and information deemed otherwise unnecessary and too private for the public. Courts specifically mandate that certain personally identifiable information (PII) be redacted, so redaction is used especially often in legal settings. Sensitive or identifying images might also be redacted, sometimes including just faces in images.

Besides being useful in legal settings, people might want to learn how to redact a PDF to protect similarly sensitive information in professional communications between businesses or clients. Businesses can protect trade secrets and proprietary information when sharing documents. Certain financial information may also be kept secure by redacting it in a PDF.

In the medical field, PHI (Private Health Information) may need to be redacted to comply with laws like HIPAA. Because HIPAA requires clients to be informed when their PHI is shared illegally, privacy is especially important, and PDF redaction can be a useful tool to ensure security.

Some methods of redaction, such as changing the font color to white or using a black marker on physical documents, are unreliable and may not secure the information you need to keep private. Using a PDF redactor, on the other hand, is a secure method many industries rely on.

Add redaction and other security measures to your workflow.

By redacting portions of your PDFs, you can make sure sensitive information never slips through the cracks. When converting a Microsoft Word, Excel, or other file format into a PDF, you can use Adobe's tools to redact information before you share.

You can also password-protect PDF documents and prevent any copying or editing of your original file, or remove redaction from PDF documents if they're no longer needed. With Acrobat Pro, you've got all the tools you need to keep your sensitive information safe.
