The Honorable Tina Kotek
Governor of Oregon
900 Court Street, NE, Suite 254
Salem, OR 97301-4047

Dear Governor Kotek,

It has come to my attention that Oregon's Driver and Motor Vehicle Services Division (DMV) is refusing to issue registrations and license plates (standard and undercover) to all federal agencies, including federal law enforcement agencies, while continuing to issue such plates to state and local agencies. This discriminatory policy is not only deeply dangerous as a matter of public safety but also blatantly unlawful as a matter of constitutional law. It should be immediately withdrawn; otherwise, the United States intends to seek judicial relief.

Oregon's DMV policies undermine ongoing investigations and put federal law enforcement officers at risk of harm. Federal law enforcement officers conduct investigations into myriad serious crimes, including drug trafficking, weapons trafficking, human trafficking, terrorism, and fraud. The investigation into such crimes and the criminal enterprises involved often require covert surveillance and undercover activities. Federal law enforcement officers' duties also include locating missing children, apprehending fugitives, safeguarding people under federal protection, and transporting dignitaries. If federal law enforcement vehicles are readily identifiable, either by a government plate or through a state plate and registration that is subject to public exposure through an information request, then officers, their families, and people under their protection will all be at risk. Officers could be identified and tracked to their homes. Suspects could be alerted to officer presence and flee, destroy evidence, or take countermeasures to avoid arrest, making arrests more dangerous for all involved. Persons under officers' protection could be endangered. Such threats are particularly troubling in the current environment, in which federal officers and public officials under their protection have been the target of threats, doxing, and harassment.¹

The State's discriminatory policy is also plainly unconstitutional under well-established precedent. The Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution mandates that "[t]his Constitution, and the Laws of the United States . . . shall be the supreme Law of the Land . . . any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding." U.S. Const. art. VI, cl. 2. As the Supreme Court has long held, the Supremacy Clause incorporates principles of intergovernmental immunity; accordingly, a state law or policy is invalid if it "regulat[es] the United States directly or discriminat[es] against the Federal Government or those with whom it deals," United States v. Washington, 596 U.S. 832, 838 (2022) (citation omitted). By refusing to issue standard and undercover registrations and plates to federal agencies, including federal law enforcement agencies, while continuing to issue them to similarly-situated state and local agencies without restriction, Oregon's DMV has directly run afoul of the Supremacy Clause by discriminating against the federal government.

This policy is manifestly unconstitutional and puts our officers at risk. I therefore ask that you require Oregon's DMV to rescind this policy immediately and return to issuing standard and undercover registrations and license plates to all federal agencies, including federal law enforcement agencies, on equal terms with every other state and local agency, without delay and further restrictions.

Please provide me with written assurance that this policy has in fact been rescinded and all federal law enforcement are again able to obtain undercover plates in your state on equal terms by no later than May 22, 2026. Absent such an assurance, the United States reserves all rights.

Sincerely yours,
BRETT
