FOR THE DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA
GREENVILLE DIVISION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

CRIM. NO. 6-18-1113

V.

ANTONIO LAMAZO JONES

18 U.S.C. § 371

18 U.S.C. § 1343

18 U.S.C. § 1001

18 U.S.C. § 2

18 U.S.C. § 982(b)(1)

28 U.S.C. § 2461(c)

INDICTMENT

The Grand Jury charges that:

General Allegations

1. Government Contractor # 1 is a multi-national corporation headquartered in Irving, TX. In 2008, the United States Army awarded a contract to Government Contractor # 1 and two other companies to provide logistics services to the U.S. Department of Defense, other U.S. government agencies, and coalition forces around the world (the "Contract").
2. Government Contractor # 1's U.S. government contracting group maintains an office in the Greenville, South Carolina area.
3. ANTONIO LAMAZO JONES ("JONES") was a Department of Defense contractor who worked for Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors at various locations in Afghanistan.
4. R.S., a citizen of Bosnia and Herzegovina, was a Department of Defense contractor who worked for Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. contractors in Afghanistan.

USDC, CLERK GREENVILLE, SC
2018 DEC 12 AM 4:17

5. Wolverine, Inc. ("Wolverine") was an entity created by JONES. JONES and R.S. used Wolverine to assist clients in obtaining jobs, including with Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors. JONES' clients paid him for job placement services.

6. Government regulations prescribe training for people employed in various fields, including in the handling of hazardous materials ("HAZMAT"). U.S. executive branch agencies, including the Departments of Defense, Army, Navy, Air Force, and Transportation, issue official training certificates to ~~individual~~ ^{individual} nm that complete government-prescribed training in such fields, including the handling of HAZMAT. These training certificates may serve as proof that an individual has received training and is authorized to work in a particular field, including the handling of HAZMAT.

Count One

Conspiracy to Commit Wire Fraud and to Defraud the United States
(18 U.S.C. § 371 and 2)

7. From in or about January 2012, until and including May 2015, in the District of South Carolina and elsewhere, the Defendants, JONES and R.S., along with others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, did knowingly combine, conspire, confederate, and agree among themselves and with other persons, known and unknown to the Grand Jury:

- a. to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud Government Contractor #1, other U.S. government contractors, and the United States by obtaining money and property by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, and to transmit and cause to be transmitted certain wire communications in interstate and foreign commerce for the purpose of executing the scheme; and
- b. to defraud the United States of and concerning its right to have its business and its affairs, and particularly the transaction of the official business of the Departments of Defense, Army, Navy, Air Force, Transportation, and others, conducted honestly and impartially, free from corruption, fraud, improper and undue influence, dishonesty, unlawful impairment and obstruction, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 371 and 1343.

Object of the Conspiracy

8. The principal object of the conspiracy was for JONES and R.S. to enrich themselves by defrauding Government Contractor #1, other U.S. government contractors, and the United States, by fraudulently inflating the qualifications of their clients and JONES in order to obtain employment for their clients and JONES with Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors.

Manner and Means of the Conspiracy

9. The manner and means by which JONES and R.S. would and did carry out the conspiracy included, but were not limited to, the following:

- a. JONES and R.S. claimed that they could assist clients in obtaining U.S. government contractor jobs in Afghanistan and elsewhere with Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors. They operated a business association called Wolverine for the purpose of assisting clients in obtaining employment.
- b. JONES and R.S. identified potential clients based on their own experience working with U.S. government contractors in Afghanistan or, in some cases, prospective clients contacted JONES and R.S. to request assistance in finding jobs.
- c. JONES and R.S. collected personal information from the clients, including copies of the clients' resumes.

- d. JONES and R.S. set up commercial email accounts in the clients' names in order to apply for U.S. government contractor jobs on the clients' behalf.
- e. JONES and R.S. falsified information on their clients' resumes to make the clients look more attractive than they were in fact to potential U.S. government contractors, including Government Contractor #1.
- f. JONES and R.S. created and possessed counterfeit U.S. government training certificates for their clients that they knew to be required or highly desired by Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors.
- g. JONES and R.S. applied for jobs with Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors on the clients' behalf and supplied, by email (using their own accounts and the commercial email accounts they had set up for this purpose) and via internet websites, among other things, the clients' falsified resumes and/or counterfeit training certificates, which they had created, with the clients' applications.
- h. JONES and R.S. also provided, by email, falsified resumes, counterfeit training certificates, and other falsified documents directly to their clients, who would use the falsified documents to apply for positions with Government Contractor #1 and other U.S. government contractors on their own.
- i. Government Contractor #1 hiring personnel based in the District of South Carolina and elsewhere reviewed and relied on the false and fraudulent application materials, including resumes and counterfeit training certificates, which JONES and R.S. created and supplied or caused to be supplied to Government Contractor #1. Hiring personnel for U.S. government contractors also reviewed and relied on false and fraudulent application materials created and/or supplied to them by JONES and R.S.

- j. Government Contractor #1 ultimately hired several of JONES' and R.S.'s clients, relying in part on the false information that JONES and R.S created and provided or caused to be provided to Government Contractor #1. Government Contractor #1 notified the clients of their hiring by sending them an Offer Letter by email.
- k. Other U.S. government contractors hired employees relying, in part, on false information that JONES and R.S created and provided or caused to be provided to the other U.S. government contractors.
- l. Once a client was hired by Government Contractor #1 or another U.S. government contractor, JONES and R.S. would request up to $4,000 dollars from the client for their services.
- m. JONES would receive payments from his clients via electronic money transfer services.

Overt Acts

10. In furtherance of the conspiracy and to effect its objects, the following overt acts, among others, were committed in the District of South Carolina and elsewhere:

- a. On October 30, 2012, R.S. sent an email to JONES with a subject "Email accounts – [L.J. and B.E.]," in which she provided JONES with the email account and password for commercial email accounts that had been set up for two clients.
- b. On or about November 4, 2012, JONES sent an email to R.S. concerning a job advertised by a U.S. government contractor, in which he wrote "I don't want you to put any body in for this position yet I'm trying to figure out who we have that I can change their resume to fit this psotion who do we have have the experience and can pull it off."

- c. On or about November 4, 2012, R.S. replied to JONES, writing “maybe [L.J.], just to re-do his resume a little bit more.”
- d. On or about November 17, 2014, JONES and R.S. emailed a version of L.J.’s resume containing false information regarding L.J.’s qualifications to Government Contractor #1 hiring personnel.
- e. On or about October 30, 2012, R.S. sent an email to JONES with a subject “Question on email account for [K.W.]” in which she wrote “Those are two email addresses you have on [K.W.], which one is good one, and what is a password?”
- f. On or about October 30, 2012, JONES replied, writing “This is the right email the password is bluejay2011.”
- g. JONES and R.S. generated a document titled “Wolverine Payment [REDACTED] Revised Plan [K.W.].docx,” which set forth a schedule of payments totaling $2,500 to be paid to Wolverine, Inc. via an electronic payment service for JONES and R.S.’s assistance in obtaining employment with Government Contractor #1 for [K.W.].
- h. On or about August 2, 2014, JONES sent an email to R.S. with a subject “[D.W.] Needs Hazmat and 60K Loader License.”
- i. On or about December 21, 2012, R.S. sent an email to JONES with a subject “Bullets/experience added on [R.J.] Resume,” in which she wrote, “Take a look, what do you think? I added stock/inventory/warehouse bullets on his resume under the same company you have listed...cause he had only customer service,, and with this i could apply him on more positions and they kind of go together, and give him more experience.. what i added on is highlighted in yellow... Is it good?” JONES replied on or about December 22, 2012, writing “It is good....”

- j. On or about April 19, 2014, JONES sent an email to M.B., in which he wrote "I need you to sign the bottom of this [training certificate] under where the two name are like a professional signature and scan it back to me," attached to which was an unsigned counterfeit training certificate. On or about April 20, 2014, M.B. emailed a signed copy of the counterfeit training certificate back to JONES.
- k. On or about On June 18, 2014, R.H. sent an email to JONES with a subject "Re: HAZMAT CERT," in which he wrote "Bruh if ypu can just get me my cert Ill apply back to [a U.S. government contractor] as a TC. Lemme know sumthin when you can." JONES replied to R.H. on or about June 18, 2014, writing, "What was your hire date with [the U.S. government contractor] and what was your date you join military and what branch you are in I will have your cert by tomorrow." Shortly thereafter, JONES and R.S. generated a counterfeit training certification for R.H.
- l. On or about April 1, 2014, R.S. sent an email to JONES in reference to a job application to a U.S. government contractor for A.A., in which she wrote, "i dont know why they sending this I went thru yours and his application once again step by step and everything is there... resume and 3 references they are referring to.. I will contact their support desk to see what is going on... I dont know if Toni has hazmat? do you want me to make one for him?"
- m. On or about April 2, 2014, R.S. sent an email to JONES in which she wrote, "What do you think? I dont know if you wanna use this one it is almost identical to your hazmat," attached to which is a counterfeit training certificate.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 371 and 2.
