1 The Grand Jury charges that at all times relevant to the Indictment: 2 BACKGROUND 3 The Defendant and Related Entities 4 1. Defendant Mykalai KONTILAI, also known as Michael Contile, was a 5 United States citizen, residing in Las Vegas, Nevada. KONTILAI also resided in New 6 York, New York at various times relevant to this indictment. 7 2. Collector's Coffee, Inc. (doing business as Collector's Café) ("Collector's 8 Coffee" or "the Company") was incorporated in the State of California in or around August 9 2007, and in the State of Nevada in or around November 2007. 10 3. Collector's Coffee was a privately funded company with its headquarters in 11 Las Vegas, Nevada, and with satellite offices in New York, New York, and southern 12 California. 13 KONTILAI started Collector's Coffee in 2007. KONTILAI's original 4. 14 business plan for the Company described the business as an online auction house for third-15 party sales of collectibles, such as Hollywood and sports memorabilia. Collector's Coffee 16 would earn revenue from commissions earned through these sales. The business plan for 17 Collector's Coffee stated that the company would have no costs for goods sold on the 18 website because third parties, not Collector's Coffee, would list for sale collectible items they 19 owned. To drive traffic to the website, Collector's Coffee also planned to produce a 20 television program that would feature celebrities discussing their collections. The original 21 business plan of Collector's Coffee included brick and mortar coffee shops where collectible 22 items on consignment would be displayed, further driving traffic to the revenue generating 23 website. Shortly after he founded Collector's Coffee, KONTILAI revised the business plan 24 to exclude the coffee shop and focus entirely on the website and television program.

- 1	5. KONTILAI served as Collector's Coffee's President, Director, and Chief
2	Executive Officer ("CEO") from in or around November 2007, through in or around	ĸ
· 3	November 2019. KONTILAI also served as Secretary and Treasurer of Collector's Coffee
4	from in or around June 2009 through in or around November 2019. KONTILAI was the
5	executive decision-maker and had sole authority to hire and fire Collector's Coffee's
6	employees – whom he employed on a "consultant" basis. KONTILAI was the sole member
7	of the Board of Directors of Collector's Coffee from in or around November 2011 through
8	November 2017. KONTILAI's brother-in-law and sister-in-law were added to the Board of
9	Directors of Collector's Coffee in or around November 2017.
10	Relevant Individuals and Entities
11	6. Employee A was a resident of Las Vegas, Nevada. Employee A met
12	KONTILAI in or around 2002 and held the title Chief Operating Officer ("COO") of
13	Collector's Coffee from in or around 2015 through in or around 2016. As COO, Employee
14	A reported to KONTILAI. Prior to 2015, Employee A was not an employee or director of
15	Collector's Coffee.
16	7. Employee B was a resident of New York. Employee B invested in Collector's
17	Coffee in or around 2007, and was employed as a consultant by Collector's Coffee from in
18	or around 2014 through 2018. Employee B held the titles Dealer Relations Manager and
19	Director of Dealer Relations. Employee B reported to KONTILAI.
20	8. Employee C was a resident of California. Employee C was listed in investor
21	materials as Interim Chief Financial Officer. However, Employee C was not a certified

23 prepare tax filings for the Company, and did not draft regular balance sheets for the 24 Company.

9. Provident Trust Group ("PTG") was a self-directed asset administrator located in Las Vegas, Nevada. PTG managed retirement accounts. Several customers of PTG directed PTG to invest some or all of their PTG funds in Collector's Coffee. PTG executed its customers' directions of investment by electronic requests from Las Vegas, Nevada to its California bank, Citizen's Business Bank ("CBB").

Relevant Federal Agencies

10. The Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") was an agency of the United States Department of the Treasury, and was responsible for enforcing and administering the tax laws of the United States.

11. The United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "the Commission") was an agency of the Federal Government, with its headquarters located in the District of Columbia and regional offices located throughout the country, including Denver, Colorado, and New York, New York. The SEC was empowered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act") and the Securities Act of 1933 ("Securities Act") to investigate violations of federal securities laws.

Background on Retail Banking

12. Bank of the West ("BOW") and City National Bank ("CNB") were financial institutions insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"). Federal law and regulations required banks to conduct due diligence on their customers to ensure that their bank accounts were not being used for illegal purposes.

13. KONTILAI opened business accounts for Collector's Coffee at BOW and CNB branches in Las Vegas. KONTILAI was the sole signator on the accounts.

1	Purpose of the Scheme and Artifice
2	14. The purpose of the scheme and artifice was for KONTILAI to:
. 3	a. solicit funds from investors for his own personal enrichment through
4	materially false statements and half-truths that he or those at his direction made, including
5	statements that KONTILAI had not paid himself a salary;
6	b. partially conceal from investors certain finances of the Company,
7	including the fact that as he solicited investments he siphoned money from corporate
8	accounts to his personal accounts and paid for personal expenses on credit cards paid for
.9	with investor funds;
10	c. lie to bank officials about the purpose of making large cash
11	withdrawals from corporate accounts in order to obtain investor funds for himself by
12	concealing the nature of the funds as legitimate corporate transactions when they were in	l
13	fact illegitimate personal transactions; and,
. 14	d. lie to the SEC about his embezzlement of the Company's funds, and 15	create false evidence in order to continue the scheme and his ongoing personal spending of · 16	investor money.
17	THE SCHEME AND ARTIFICE TO DEFRAUD
18	15. From in or around 2012 through in or around 2018, KONTILAI made and
19	caused to be made numerous materially false and half-truthful representations and promises
20	concerning the use of investor funds, his personal compensation, and the financial status of
21	the Company that were designed to fraudulently induce investors to transmit money to
22	Collector's Coffee. To further the scheme, KONTILAI misled banks to steal investor funds
23	from corporate accounts; lied to the SEC about his misappropriation of investor funds; and
24	concealed the proceeds of his scheme from the Internal Revenue Service.
	5

16. As part of the scheme and artifice, KONTILAI and those working at his direction solicited approximately $23 million from investors. KONTILAI and those working on his behalf sold to investors shares of stock in Collector's Coffee, either in the form of convertible promissory notes (Series A and Series B) or preferred shares (Series A and B). In connection with those offerings, KONTILAI, and his consultants at his direction, sent private placement memoranda ("PPM") and marketing documents that contained materially false and misleading statements and promises about how investor money would be used, examples of which follow:

a. According to a 2008 PPM document that KONTILAI gave to potential investors, Collector's Coffee intended to raise a total of $12,500,000 as part of its first offering. The document stated "monies raised will be primarily used for developing the Company infrastructure, related legal costs, and to develop and growth [sic] the integrated social network and auction portal. Funds may also be used for broad purposes of general growth opportunities at the election of the CEO."

15 b. According to other PPMs, stock offerings were made on or around October 10, 2009, "for the purposes of necessary growth capital," and on or around October 16 17 15, 2015, "for the purposes of growth capital to execute on various initiatives including but 18 not limited to a pending partnership with the Warner Music Group." Only one PPM, a 19 2008 document provided to only a handful of investors, referred to compensation for 20 KONTILAI. That document authorized a one-time payment of $300,000 for past (pre-21 2008) services and stated that "compensation agreements involving executives are designed 22 to defer much of their compensation until the Company is properly capitalized or certain 23 production levels have been achieved."

1 c. KONTILAI distributed to potential investors a 2014 business plan that stated "Collectors Café has raised close to 20 million dollars from outside accredited 2 3 investors, which has and will continue to be used for creation of intellectual property, TV 4 series development and production, the development of its social network and auction 5 portal, and business model." The business plan did not mention that investor money would be spent on repayment of a $5 million loan or millions of dollars in salary for KONTILAI. 6 7 the CEO.

The PPMs and marketing materials were materially false and 8 đ. 9 misleading because they stated several purposes for raising capital but did not disclose that 10 KONTILAI, regardless of the financial success of Collector's Coffee, took substantial 11 amounts of investor funds for his own personal benefit, such as the rental of luxury residences for himself and his wife in New York, Las Vegas, and Miami; the purchase of a 12 13 Cadillac convertible; the purchase of personal luxury items; and tuition at a private school.

14 17. As further part of the scheme, KONTILAI made materially false and misleading statements in communications with investors about his personal compensation, 16 examples of which follow:

17 On or around September 30, 2015, KONTILAI emailed one potential 18 investor, "I am very frugal and have not taken a dime of salary to date." KONTILAI 19 falsely told other investors that he had not been paid a salary and had not made any money 20 from Collector's Coffee.

A 2017 Corporate Update that was sent to investors as early as April 21 b. 12, 2017, touted as an "Accomplishment" that "Collectors Café's founder & CEO, Mykalai 22 23 Kontilai, has invested several million dollars personally & has not taken a salary to-date."

1 18. As further part of the scheme, contrary to what had been represented to 2 investors, KONTILAI misappropriated approximately $6.1 million in investor funds 3 through, among other means, cash withdrawals, paying off personal credit card charges with investor funds, and paying for rent and car payments with investor funds, and then 4 concealed the misappropriation of investor funds, as further detailed below: 5 6 a. From on or around September 7, 2012 through July 11, 2018, KONTILAI wired substantial amounts of money to Employee A from Collector's Coffee 7 8 bank accounts. KONTILAI then directed Employee A to withdraw the funds in cash and 9 to provide the cash to KONTILAI. Employee A did in fact withdraw cash that was 10 transferred to Employee A and provided it to KONTILAI as directed. 11 b. In or around July 2018, KONTILAI told Employee A to open bank 12 accounts in New York, New York, and to accept funds from Collector's Coffee bank 13 accounts. KONTILAI explained that he needed money and that it would not look good for him to withdraw Collector's Coffee funds. KONTILAI wired $1 million to Employee A 14 from Collector's Coffee bank accounts. KONTILAI told Employee A to give him the cash 15 16 that he transferred to Employee A's accounts, which Employee A did. He also directed Employee A to purchase gold and silver bars from an online retailer – bars that KONTILAI 17 then sold for cash. 18 19 ċ. KONTILAI also asked Employee B to open a Collector's Coffee 20 business account at American Express using Employee B's credit. Employee B agreed. 21 Employee B provided KONTILAI credit cards on Employee B's accounts at Citibank, 22 Discover, and American Express.

d. Between 2014 and 2018, KONTILAI used the Collector's Coffee
American Express card to make purchases that were personal and not related to Collector's

1 Coffee. KONTILAI paid the American Express card with funds from Collector's Coffee 2 bank accounts.

3 KONTILAI asked Employee B to allow KONTILAI and Collector's e. Coffee to use Discover and Citibank credit cards in Employee B's name. Between 2015 and 4 5 2018, KONTILAI used Employee B's Discover credit card to make purchases that were personal and not related to Collector's Coffee. Between 2014 and 2016, KONTILAI used Employee B's Citicard to make purchases that were personal and not related to Collector's 8 Coffee. KONTILAI paid the Discover and Citicard credit cards with funds from Collector's 9 Coffee bank accounts.

f. 10 KONTILAI used the American Express, Discover, and Citicard credit 11 cards referenced in subparagraphs 18(c) through 18(e) to make personal purchases at luxury 12 retailers including, but not limited to, Louis Vuitton, Chanel, Cartier, and Dior. KONTILAI also used the Citicard to pay for tuition at a private high school located in Las 13 Vegas, Nevada. 14

15 g. In addition to using Collector's Coffee credit cards for personal luxury goods, on several occasions between 2016 and 2018, KONTILAI paid for personal luxury 16 17 apartments with payments from Collector's Coffee bank accounts. These apartments were in Las Vegas, Nevada; Miami Beach, Florida; and New York, New York. 18

19 h. On or around July 22, 2016, KONTILAI transferred $50,000 from a 20 BOW account to a car dealership. KONTILAI purchased a 2008 white convertible 21 Cadillac. Evidencing the personal nature of the vehicle, KONTILAI registered the vehicle with the tags: "MYKALAI." 22

23 i. Between on or around March 27, 2015 and September 11, 2015, 24 KONTILAI withdrew approximately $880,000 from a Collector's Coffee account at CNB by writing checks to "Cash." KONTILAI noted on the checks the purpose for the cash was to purchase collectibles. The notes included statements such as, "Collectibles Purchase (Company Inv)," "Collectibles Purchases for Auction," "Collectibles Purchases for Launch," "Company Purchase of Collectibles," and "Purchase of Collectibles." The representations on these checks were false, as KONTILAI did not purchase collectibles for the Company with the money he withdrew.

7 CNB employees questioned KONTILAI about why he needed to j. make large cash withdrawals from the Collector's Coffee account. In response, KONTILAI 8 9 told the CNB employees on or around June 19, 2015 that he periodically had the 10 opportunity to purchase items for Collector's Coffee and if he purchased collectibles with 11 cash, he received a discount. KONTILAI knew the statements were false when he made 12 them. Bank employees relied on KONTILAI's explanation and believed that he was 13 withdrawing funds from the account to purchase collectible items for Collector's Coffee. 14 KONTILAI was thereafter permitted to make the cash withdrawals.

k. On or around August 15, 2016, KONTILAI told a BOW employee that he needed to withdraw a large sum of cash for the purchase of a collectible ring.
KONTILAI said the seller of the ring was "[Employee A]." This statement was false.
Employee A did not sell any collectible items to KONTILAI or Collector's Coffee. BOW employees ordered cash and arranged a date for KONTILAI and the seller of the ring to collect the cash.

1. On or around August 29, 2016, KONTILAI brought Employee A to a BOW branch in Las Vegas, Nevada, to persuade BOW employees that he was withdrawing cash from the Collector's Coffee account to buy a ring from Employee A. KONTILAI submitted to bank employees a check drawn on a Collector's Coffee bank account, written to "Cash," for $770,000. The note on the check stated, "Acquiring of Collectibles [Employee A] (Pick up)." BOW employees relied on KONTILAI's explanation and believed that he was withdrawing funds from the account to purchase a collectible item for Collector's Coffee. The employees released the $770,000 in cash to KONTILAI and debited the funds from the Company account.

6 19. As further part of the scheme, KONTILAI repeatedly delayed the launch date
7 for the Collector's Coffee website to increase capital so that he could continue to personally 8 enrich himself.

9 20. As further part of the scheme, to conceal his misappropriation of investor 10 funds, KONTILAI rebuffed investors' requests and attempts to view financial records for 11 Collector's Coffee and made materially false and misleading statements about the Company
12 having a CFO.

13

Attempted Concealment of Scheme from SEC

14 21. The SEC began investigating KONTILAI for misappropriating investor funds
15 in or around 2017. As part of its investigation, KONTILAI was required to answer 16 questions under oath in a deposition.

When the SEC questioned KONTILAI under oath on or around May 16, 2018, about his personal use of investor funds, he falsely testified, "I haven't been paid a salary. I've been owed a salary." To support this testimony, KONTILAI caused to be created and produced to the SEC a fake employment agreement that was back-dated to 2007. The fake employment agreement that was produced to the SEC called for a "salary" of $300,000 a year in 2007 and $500,000 for each year thereafter. When his counsel at the time, Attorney A, later confronted KONTILAI with the fake document, KONTILAI asked

24

Employee A to falsely tell Attorney A that Employee A had prepared the employment agreement in 2018 from memory of an original agreement.

23. Despite KONTILAI's claims to the SEC and investors that he "has not taken a salary to-date[,]" on or around March 21, 2017, KONTILAI transferred $600,000 from Collector's Coffee's BOW account to KONTILAI's personal account at TD Bank, with a note that read: "Salary Payment 2015 & Partial Salary Payment 2016." On or around April 20, 2017, KONTILAI transferred an additional $500,000 from Collector's Coffee's BOW account to KONTILAI's personal account at TD Bank, with a memo note: "Additional Previous Compensation Owed to CEO."

When the SEC confronted KONTILAI on or around May 16 and 17, 2018, about his spending of Collector's Coffee funds, KONTILAI falsely testified the funds were repayments of a $5 million loan he made to Collector's Coffee in 2007. In truth, there was no $5 million loan. Moreover, KONTILAI had repeatedly told potential investors through business plans and offering documents that the company had no such debts by representing that, "The company is debt free" and "The company has no outstanding debt."

16 25. KONTILAI caused to be created, and produced to the SEC on or around 17 May 14, 2018, a fake convertible note and altered bank statement dated 2007 that stated he 18 loaned the Company $5 million. KONTILAI further testified on or around May 17, 2018, 19 "[t]he company repaid me money that it owed me through paying some of my personal 20 credit card expenses." KONTILAI claimed the "Board" approved his personal spending of 21 the Company's funds as repayment of loans he made to the Company. KONTILAI
22 provided a fake board resolution to Attorney A to support his claim.

23 26. When Attorney A confronted KONTILAI about the altered bank statement
24 and note on or around October 3, 2018, KONTILAI denied knowing why the bank

1	statement appeared altered. KONTILAI then asked Employee A to falsely tell Attorney A
2	and Employee A's attorney that Employee A was responsible for the fabricated documents.
