21 CRIM 644

COUNT ONE
(Conspiracy)

The Grand Jury charges:

OVERVIEW

1. From at least in or about August 2020 to at least in or about November 2020, SEYYED MOHAMMAD HOSEIN MUSA KAZEMI (سيد محمد حسين موسى كاظمي), a/k/a "Mohammad Hosein Musa Kazem," a/k/a "Hosein Zamani," and SAJJAD KASHIAN (سجاد كاشيان), a/k/a "Kiarash Nabavi," the defendants, both of whom are nationals of the Islamic Republic of Iran ("Iran"), participated in a coordinated and multi-faceted, cyber-enabled campaign to intimidate and influence American voters, and otherwise undermine voter confidence and sow discord, in connection with the 2020 U.S. Presidential election (the "Voter Intimidation and Influence Campaign").

2. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Eeleyanet Gostar (ایلیاننت گستر ایرانیان) (now known as Emennet Pasargad (ایمن نت پاسارگاد)) was an Iran-based company that purported to provide cybersecurity services within Iran. Eeleyanet Gostar has provided services to the Iranian Government, including to an influential governmental body, the Guardian Council. SEYYED MOHAMMAD HOSEIN MUSA KAZEMI, a/k/a "Mohammad Hosein Musa Kazem," a/k/a "Hosein Zamani," and SAJJAD KASHIAN, a/k/a "Kiarash Nabavi," the defendants, were experienced hackers who worked as contractors for Eeleyanet Gostar.

3. The first phase of the Voter Intimidation and Influence Campaign occurred in or about September and October 2020, when the members of the conspiracy conducted reconnaissance on, and attempted to compromise, approximately eleven state voter websites, including state voter registration websites and state voter information websites. These efforts resulted in the successful exploitation of misconfigured computers of a particular U.S. state ("State-1"), and the resulting unauthorized downloading of voter information for more than 100,000 State-1 voters.

4. The next phase of the Voter Intimidation and Influence Campaign involved members of the conspiracy sending Facebook messages and emails to undermine confidence in the integrity of voting systems that would be used in the 2020 U.S. Presidential Election. Specifically, in or about October 2020, the members of the conspiracy sent Facebook messages and emails (the "False Election Messages") to Republican Senators, Republican members of Congress, individuals associated with the Presidential campaign of Donald J. Trump, White House advisors, and members of the media, falsely claiming that the Democratic Party was planning to exploit "serious security vulnerabilities" in state voter registration websites to "edit mail-in ballots or even register non-existent voters." In the False Election Messages, the members of the conspiracy claimed to be a "group of Proud Boys volunteers."<sup>1</sup>

5. The members of the conspiracy simultaneously disseminated a video (the "False Election Video") through the False Election Messages and separately using Facebook, YouTube, and Twitter. The False Election Video purported to depict an individual hacking into state voter websites and then using that illicitly obtained voter information to create fraudulent absentee ballots through the Federal Voting Assistance Program ("FVAP") for military and overseas voters. In fact, the computer intrusions depicted in the False Election Video were simulated intrusions created by members of the conspiracy using their own server and data obtained during the State-1 exploitation. Further, the FVAP could not be leveraged in the manner implied by the False Election Video. As with the False Election Messages, the False Election Video contained multiple depictions of the Proud Boys logo, meant as a "false flag" to deceive the recipients into believing that the Proud Boys organization had disseminated the False Election Video.

<sup>1</sup> Proud Boys is a nationalist organization with multiple U.S. chapters and potential activity in other Western countries. The group describes itself as a "pro-Western fraternal organization for men who refuse to apologize for creating the modern world; aka Western Chauvinists." Proud Boys members routinely attend rallies, protests, and other First Amendment-protected events, where they sometimes engage in violence against individuals whom they perceive as threats to their values. Throughout the United States, there are local Proud Boys chapters, which are typically led by chapter "presidents."

6. At the same time that the members of the conspiracy were sending the False Election Messages and disseminating the False Election Video, they also engaged in an online intimidation campaign to email a message to tens of thousands of registered voters, at least some of whom were among those whose information the members of the conspiracy had obtained from State-1's voter website. The emails were also purportedly from the Proud Boys, targeted registered Democrats, and threatened the recipients with physical injury if they did not change their party affiliation and vote for President Trump

(the "Voter Threat Emails"). The Voter Threat Emails, which included the name and street address of the recipient, read:

We are in possession of all your information (email, address, telephone... everything).

You are currently registered as a Democrat and we know this because we have gained access into the entire voting infrastructure. You will vote for Trump on Election Day or we will come after you. Change your party affiliation to Republican to let us know you received our message and will comply. We will know which candidate you voted for.

I would take this seriously if I were you.

7. In order to execute this campaign, the members of the conspiracy used, among other things, computer servers around the world that they had previously compromised.

8. Additionally, in or about September and October 2020, the members of the conspiracy obtained unauthorized access to the computer network of an American media company ("Media Company-1"), which provided a content management system ("CMS") for dozens of newspapers and other publications. Prior to the 2020 U.S. Presidential election, the members of the conspiracy tested their ability to modify and create content on Media Company-1's compromised system, which would have provided them another vehicle for further disseminating false claims concerning the election.

9. The members of the conspiracy attempted to leverage their unauthorized access in the subsequent phase of the Voter Intimidation and Influence Campaign. Specifically, on or about November 4, 2020, the day after the 2020 U.S. Presidential election, they attempted to gain access to Media Company-1's network without authorization using stolen credentials. However, because of an earlier victim notification from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Media Company-1 had by that time mitigated the conspirators' unauthorized access and their log-in attempts failed.
