In recognition of the severity of the crimes associated with domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Congress passed the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (VAWA 1994) as part of the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994. VAWA is a comprehensive legislative package designed to end violence against women and was reauthorized in 2005 and 2009. The legislative history of VAWA indicates that Congress seeks to remedy the legacy of laws and social norms that serve to justify violence against women. Since the passage of VAWA, there has been a paradigm shift in how the issue of violence against women is addressed nationwide.

OVW was created specifically to implement VAWA and subsequent legislation. OVW administers financial and technical assistance to communities around the country to facilitate the creation of programs, policies, and practices aimed at ending domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.

The Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (JJDP) Act established OJJDP, a component of the Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice, to support local and state efforts to prevent delinquency and improve the juvenile justice system. OJJDP collaborates with professionals from diverse disciplines to improve juvenile justice policies and practices by supporting states, local communities, and Tribal jurisdictions in their efforts to develop and implement effective programs for juveniles. The Office strives to strengthen the juvenile justice system’s efforts to protect public safety, hold offenders accountable, and provide services that address the needs of youth and their families.

OJJDP sponsors research, program, and training initiatives; develops priorities and goals; and sets policies to guide federal juvenile justice issues; disseminates information about juvenile justice issues; and awards funds to states to support local programming.

The Department of Justice (DOJ) launched its Coordinated Tribal Assistance Solicitation (CTAS) in Fiscal Year 2010 in direct response to concerns raised by Tribal leaders about the Department’s grant process that did not provide the flexibility tribes needed to address their criminal justice and public safety needs.

Through CTAS, federally recognized tribes and Tribal consortia were able, for the first time, to submit a single application for most of DOJ’s Tribal grant programs. DOJ designed this comprehensive approach to save time and resources and allow tribes and DOJ to gain a better understanding of the tribes’ overall public safety needs. CTAS is currently operated through collaborative efforts across many department components, bureaus, and offices, including:

• Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA)
• Executive Office for United States
  Attorney’s (EOUSA)
• Office of Community Oriented Policing
  Services (COPS)
• Office of Intergovernmental and Public
  Liaison (OILP)
• Office of Justice Programs (OJP)
• Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP)
• Office of Tribal Justice (OITJ)
• Office for Victims of Crime (OVC)
• Office on Violence Against Women (OVW)

Purpose Area 3
TRIBAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS

Under CTAS, the BJA offers funding through Purpose Area #3: Tribal Justice Systems. BJA has structured Purpose Area 3 to be as broad and flexible as possible to support a variety of Tribal justice programs.

The overall purpose of Purpose Area #3 is to provide key funding to Tribal justice systems to develop, support, and enhance adult and juvenile Tribal justice systems and the prevention of violent crime and crime related to opioid, alcohol, and other substance abuse.

Key partners can include law enforcement, pretrial services, risk and needs assessment development and implementation, diversion programming, Tribal prosecutors, Tribal court dservices, detention programming, community corrections, re-entry planning and programming, justice system infrastructure enhancement, and justice system information sharing.

OVERVIEW

TRIBAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS

Purpose Area #3 supports the critical and priority needs of Tribal justice systems, to prevent crime and to ensure Tribal safety through the development, implementation, and enhancement of strategies, including, but not limited to the following:

- To prevent and respond to violent crime in Tribal communities, including investigations, forensics, prosecutions, information sharing, and supervision and re-entry in coordination with other key federal and state partners.
- To enhance the tools and resources for Tribal prosecutors, courts, and corrections agencies, including Tribal probation and Tribal jails, and to effectively respond to crime and related Tribal safety.
- To implement enhanced authorities and provisions under the Tribal Law and Order Act (TLOA) and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 and to support the development of joint jurisdiction courts with state and local courts.
- To ensure safety through coordinated support for the re-entry of returning Tribal members from federal or state prison sentences.
- To develop, enhance, and continue programs to improve the safety and effectiveness of Tribal law enforcement officers such as planning for and developing their own law enforcement agency, law enforcement support as part of a larger strategy in PA #3, or court security issues such adding an officer at the courthouse to improve court security.
- To develop, implement, and enhance substance abuse and crime prevention, interventions, and alternatives to incarceration to address crime related to the opioid epidemic. This can include opioid, alcohol, and other substance abuse and related crime prevention; healing to wellness courts; intervention; or treatment, including those that prevent and address the needs of drug-endangered children.

TRAINING & TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Indian Country has longstanding criminal justice issues associated with substance abuse, and most recently, Tribal communities have been forced to confront a rapid and unprecedented rise in methamphetamine, heroin, and opiate trafficking and abuse that has led to a dramatic increase in reservation crime.

The National American Indian Court Judges Association (NAICJA) is committed to customizing innovative, grassroots solutions by providing true peer-to-peer TTA that will address the unique interests of Tribal sovereigns as defined by the community the justice system serves. The benefit of this approach is bringing together TTA providers who understand the insular nature of reservations and who are invested in the growth and wellbeing of Tribal communities with current best practices and cultural competency.

NAICJA will provide TTA to Program Area #3 grantees in partnership with:

- Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges
- Indigenous Peacemaking Initiative of the Native American Rights Fund
- Tribal Law and Policy Institute
- Cheryl Fairbanks, LLC
- Hon. Lawrence Lujan
- Columbia Law School
- National Center for State Courts
- Tribal Judicial Institute

NAICJA's goal is to provide Training and Technical Assistance that preserves each tribe's own individual concepts of native law and support Tribal self-determination by strengthening the justice system and the interventions programs designed to address alcohol and substance abuse.

Training Objectives

1. Increasing the knowledge of criminal and Tribal justice practitioners through in-person training, web based learning, distance learning including webinars and podcasts, and developing or revising training curricula;
2. Increasing all serviced Tribal justice agency’s ability to solve problems and or modify policies and practices; and,
3. Increase information provided to BJA and the criminal and Tribal justice communities.

Services and Training and Technical Assistance

- Publications, fact-sheets, and model codes
- Code drafting assistance
- Peer-to-peer consultations
- Listserv communications
- Onsite TTA
- Distance Learning TTA via teleconference, videoconference, and email
- Interactive online training modules
- Webinars
- In-person training and needs assessments via a National Training Conference. Training and pre-conference topics will be related to Tribal justice systems, including traditional justice, alcohol and substance abuse as it relates to public safety and victims' services, law enforcement, prosecution, defense services/legal aid, offender reentry, Tribal-Federal-State intergovernmental collaboration, and justice information sharing.
