Subject: Real Estate Competition

Dear Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission,

WHERE oh where can a Sixty (60) year old woman start a DISCOUNT real estate company, on a budget, out of her home and successfully compete with the big company's immediately.

I now have 37 agents, am located in a professional office complex and my agents are able to negotiate any deals they want to with their clients and customers. There is no constraint by any company big or small on my ability or my agents to be successful.

Now what seems to be the problem? Thank You
