CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Experienced High-end Sales Representative Needed:

An established Sightholder is expanding to include upper moderate to high-end finished jewelry. The jewelry line is a niche product with extremely high margin potential. It includes all merchandise categories and focuses on fashion product. Retailers are expected to average $3,900 in its small core collection to reach just shy of $20,000. As a result, the company is seeking experienced sales representatives that have the ability to add a non-competing (non-bridal) diamond line. Established relationships with AGS and other high-end independent stores will be given preference. Select territories in the US, Canada and the Islands remain. Interested parties should respond in confidence with a résumé detailing their experience and current lines carried and stores served. In addition, clearly define the area you are serving/wish to serve.
