

Evan R. Grayer

Evan R. Grayer is the Vice President of Broadband at DIRECTV. In this capacity, he is responsible both for the formulation and execution of DIRECTV's broadband and bundling strategies. Currently, DIRECTV has the ability to sell high speed Internet using DSL, satellite, broadband over powerline, and wireless technologies. In the near future, DIRECTV will be adding the capability to sell voice services. Previously, Evan held positions at Time Warner Cable and America Online, where he was responsible for launching various voice and data services over broadband connections. He was also a communications attorney at Harris, Wiltshire & Grannis in Washington, D.C.