Consumers need to be better informed of exactly what chemicals have been used on our foods, if the foods have been genetically modified, and from which country the foods have been grown. Will you ensure that these safeguards will be made?

I am appalled to discover that just one company, Monsanto, controls the majority of seeds available to U.S. farmers. How could you allow such a monopoly to be created and what actions are you taking to stop this?

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,
