I am writing because I am appalled by Monsanto's reckless behavior and the absence of controls by our government. It would take hours and a very long diatribe to address the many ways Monsanto endangers our survival (grains that self terminate, small farmers wiped out, waste of water, depletion of the soil) and documentaries have already done it far better than I could. If you are indeed serious about taking on Monsanto I wish you all the luck in the world. We all need it.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

Leda Contis
