I am writing because I am concerned about Monsanto, and the practices that are allowed that company. Farmers that want to do the right thing are handicapped, forced to use seed and product that is not sustainable, and is harmful to the ecosystem.

Also, it galls me that big corporations like Kellogg can use genetically modified grain and not have to tell us about it.

Please help level the playing field.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

michael kaill
