I am writing because I am concerned about the lack of competition in agricultural markets. Only one company Monsanto controls the majority of seed in the US but also in the world. Moreover Monsanto controls 90% of the genetically engenerated seeds. This technology requires more pesticides according to the recent Benbroke report.

I don't want my food to be GE, I don't want to eat more pesticides. This is unhealthy, bad for the environment. This agribusiness is killing the farming in the US. For centuries responsible farmers has fed the world, now the responsible one can't afford a decent living.

I prefer that millions of farmers work to feed the world than only one company with a awful past.

This monopoly is against the antitrust policy. As the DJO, I want you to determine what is best for our future, to determine the links and to punish the revolving doors policies that are tarnishing the reputation of the US and the US dep of Justice

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

Nadge Le Mabec
