I am writing because I am concerned about our agricultural markets.

Do we have government for the people or for Big Ag -- companies like Monsanto? A company that spreads genetic pollution and then sues the farmer whose crops have been contaminated by Monsanto pollution.

Where does my food come from and what is in it? Why aren't there decent labels?

Individuals at the DOJ are victims of the same corporate control of our food so acting on behalf of the people is also a step to protecting yourselves and your families.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

James J. Grefig
