

From: Robin Blier <rockinrobinv@hvc.rr.com>
Sent: Friday, December 18, 2009 11:44 AM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Monsanto

---

Hello there,

When we look back on the History of the destruction of the Earth, we can say that Nuclear warheads were very bad, but Monsanto was worse.

I am pleading with you to stop Monsanto in it's tracks.

We thought Agent Orange was horrible, but that's not the worst thing about Monsanto.

This one giant company is singlehandedly destroying the balance of nature by introducing their "patented" (sterile & expensive) seeds all over the world.

It's really unbelievable how they managed to interject themselves into the lives of millions, all in a destructive way, & now they charge poor countries for their Genetically modified seeds.

Thousands of farmers in India have committed suicide because of their inability to succeed.

Guess what? The seeds that mother nature gave us were perfect just the way they were.

No one had to buy new seeds every year because the plants left new seeds each year to plant for the next year.

Now, Monsanto wants to be paid for every seed the farmer uses. The farmers that have been contaminated by Monsanto are now prisoners of Monsanto because their crops produce sterile seeds. That is the way Monsanto wants it to be.

If they continue, the entire world will not be able to grow food without paying Monsanto for each seed!

The world is going to be held hostage to a giant singular company!!

How can we let this continue?

No one needs Monsanto- they should be held responsible for the destruction they have caused to this planet.

It may be irreversible. Let's hope that there is still a chance to stop this madness.

The first thing we need to do is stop Monsanto in it's tracks & close them down.

They are profiting at the expense of the planet.

Please do whatever you can to shut them down,

Thank you,
-Robin Blier